NO LONGER SAVAGE.

Civilized Men Beautify The Home Surroundings, The Savage Was a Sorry Fellow And Did Not.

Just now we have in mind that the folks down in Rockingham County—some of them, are putting on a movement to beautify their home for the aged and infirm, the poor house, as we once called it. Of course the ladies are leading in this move as they do in almost every move to make life more attractive. The county commissioners of Rockingham have contributed a hundred dollars to aid in making the county home all it should be as an attractive place.

As we recall it now, there has never been a move made to make our own county home at Dobson attractive. Now that Surry County has a man employed all the time for county agent it strikes us that it would be worth while to put the county home farm under his supervision, establish a system of rotation of crops, have him visit the farm often enough to see that all farm work is done along lines that he suggests, and thus not only make the farm a source of income, but something in the nature of an experiment station to all the section of country about it. The county home farm should have an orchard, a vineyard, a strawberry garden, a flower garden, and all those things that go to make a home all that it should be among an enlightened people. A little attention on the part of some one in authority would bring all this about in a way to make the people take some interest in their county home and aid in making it of real value to the unfortunate.

Maybe This Explains

How Sales Are Made

From the inner office of the principal quarters of Fallon and company, dealers in bonds, suddenly burst a roar of laughter. It was the hearty reverberating kind of laughter that betokened complete and unrestrained enjoyment. It echoed through the building until even persons passing in the hall stopped to wonder. It kept up for one minute, two minutes, three minutes, three minutes and thirty seconds. The office boy held a watch on it to make sure.

Five minutes later the prize salesman emerged, beaming with smiles, escorting a stranger, who looked equally pleased. When the stranger had been duly bowed out, the office manager turned to the prize salesman.

"What was the grand joke, Harry?" asked the manager.
"Why," said the prize salesman, "he told me that one about the newspaper reporter who wrote that the bride's feet were encased in fairy boots and when it came out in print it said 'ferry boots'."

"But," said the manager, "you must have read that in an almanac when you were a boy. Why such extraordinary hilarity?"

"Ah," replied the prize salesman, "he was a customer."—Buffalo Express.

Fraud Practiced on

Devotees of Buddha

When the Oriental wishes to produce pearl images of Buddha, after inserting his wooden wedge, he carefully forced the mantle for a little way from its attachment to the inner bottom edge of the mussel shell. Then he took a number of small images of Buddha stamped in tin, upon the under side of which he placed some sticky substance—probably a bit of beeswax—and, after carefully lifting the edge of the mantle he inserted them and fixed them row upon row on the inside of the shell.

All that was necessary now was to return the mussel to the pool, where it would shortly repair the injury done to the edge of the mantle and overcome the irritation produced by the irregular surface of the tin images by coating them with mucus. So after a few months, a year or more, when these mussels were taken from the pools, killed and opened, the images would be found fixed to the inside of the shells just as they were placed, but now nicely coated with shining, pearly mucus—miraculous manifestations of the Great Buddha, and as such highly prized by devout worshippers.

Rubber

The rubber industry in the United States of America began with the discovery of the process of vulcanization in 1840. Rubber had been used by the discovery of Santo Domingo by Columbus, says Adventure Magazine. It was not until 1770, however, that rubber was utilized in any civilized country; then a few pieces of it were sent to England to be used by artists for erasing pencil marks. The first rubber imported into the United States, in 1800, came in the form of bottles, and was looked upon simply as an interesting curiosity.

Odd Memory Test

With plenty of patience, paper and a pencil it is possible for you to remember what happened when you were six months old, declares Dr. E. Pickworth Farrow, English psychologist, in Popular Science Monthly.

For periods of one or two hours at a time, he says, write down any and every thought which occurs to you. Repeat the process several times. Then, as memories of recent happenings gradually are "worked off" on paper, you will go back to recollections of your early life.

Biblical Manuscript

So far as is known, there are no original Bible manuscripts in existence. According to the national museum, the Codex Vaticanus, so called because it is preserved at the Vatican, is the oldest Biblical manuscript now known. It is written in Greek and was probably the work of two or three scribes during the Fourth century. The manuscript contains the Old and New Testaments, although it is not complete. It is probably the most valuable treasure in the Vatican library.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Original Glee Club

The glee club, which originated in some meetings at the home of Mr. Robert Smith in St. Paul's churchyard (England), commenced in 1783, at which motets, madrigals, glees, canons and catches were sung after dinner. The meetings were subsequently held at Doctor Beevers' and other houses until, in 1787, it was resolved to establish a society to be called the Glee club, the first public meeting of which took place at the Newcastle coffee house on Saturday, December 22, 1787.

Sunlight to Heat the Home

Heating engineers have discovered new possibilities in sunlight as a means of heating the home, and are experimenting with the feasibility of building glass roofs. By providing house with glass roofs, properly insulated, it is believed that great quantities of fuel can be saved during the winter months. Doubters of the theory are referred to the sunny bay window of the average house on a winter day when the sun works without scientific assistance.

Wonderful

It being the telegrapher's twenty-fifth birthday, the office force presented him with a bunch of twenty-five roses, for which he returned thanks. Just then several people came in with messages to send.

Grasping the roses in his left hand the operator began to work the key with his right.

"He is telegraphing those flowers," whispered one of the women in line. "Isn't it wonderful what science can do?"

Dogs Must Wear Moccasins

Army regulations referring to dogs used in Alaska for transportation provide that, with other things, each sled taken out shall be furnished with "two pairs of moccasins specially fitted for each dog." Another unusual feature of these regulations is that "the soles of dogs will be carefully pared down before the first work is to be done, and will be examined every month and pared as often as necessary to prevent pulling out, which causes lameness."

If He Had a Million

Joe Brown was the colored porter at a little bank in southern Kansas. One spring day he rested on his broom and looked outdoors where nature beckoned him down to the river where he might dose and wait for a catfish nibble on his line.

"Gee, boss," he declared fervently, "I suttinly do wish Ah had a million dollars!"

"A million dollars, Joe?" the cashier said, smiling. "What would you do with a million dollars?"

"Ah'd buy me some pigs and make me some money."—Judge.

Motor car types come and go, just as motor cars do. But the grace and distinction which characterize Buick always stay in style. They never become commonplace. The reason is, that Buick style is sincere, and expressive of the quality that is in the car. Buick owners never are asked to buy a car of exaggerated design, with lines which might become distasteful to the eye. Buy a Buick! And you will always be proud of your car.
