

Mrs. Pell Dies At Westfield—Farmers Meet in Danbury

Westfield, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Elijah Pell, one of our most worthy old ladies was buried at the Westfield cemetery yesterday. She was 84 years of age, the funeral services were conducted from the Quaker church of which Mrs. Pell was a consistent member for many years.

Mrs. Pell leaves two sons and three daughters and two brothers, Mr. Robert Jackson, of Westfield, and William Jackson, who lives in one of the western states. She was one that believed in home life and her children reflect a good mother's influence.

The mass meeting of farmers at Danbury today might be called a big success the crowd was variously estimated at from 3,500 to 5,000, several counties were well represented. I never saw farmers more in earnest to do something but what that was I could not understand.

Obituary

By Rev. John M. Permar, Pastor Friends Church

G. Calvin Welch, son of Noah and Della Pierce Welch, was born May 22, 1852. Mr. Welch spent his boyhood days in his native county, Stokes.

On December 8, 1877 Calvin Welch was married to Miss Della Hutchens, of Yadkin County. There were born to this union eight children, three boys and 5 girls. One boy and one girl preceded their parents to the spirit world in early childhood.

Being a very energetic, thrifty young man Mr. Welch entered the mercantile business, operating a store south of Mount Airy. In the fall of 1890 an opportunity of opening business was afforded in Mount Airy and he moved his business to this city locating on South Main street where for 37 years he has served the public, building up a very prosperous business.

Mr. Welch was a member of the Friends Church. Never was he so absorbed in temporal affairs as to lose sight of the spiritual. Early in life he was converted and united with Friends at Springfield. He was an untiring worker in the church, and in 1883 helped to re-establish Westfield monthly meeting becoming a charter member. In 1889 he was instrumental in helping to establish White Plains monthly meeting, being a charter member and serving on the first nominating committee there.

Being a resident of Mount Airy, he worked untiringly to establish a meeting here. In 1898 the fruits of his labors resulted in the establishing of Mount Airy monthly meeting, and for almost 30 years he has labored earnestly for the church. His great desire was to be able to attend service again.

On Feb. 18, 1920, Della Hutchens Welch was called to her reward. She had been a faithful, loving, devoted companion and mother.

Oct. 3, 1923, Mr. Welch was united in marriage to Miss Lelia Williams, of East Bend, who has been his faithful companion these few years.

Mr. Welch has been a man of unbounded energy, and up until about a year ago had enjoyed good health. In February 1927, he had his first attack of heart trouble from which he gradually declined. Mrs. Lelia Williams Welch has been his faithful attendant during his illness, administering to his every need and wish. She with his children were at his bedside when the end came.

He lived to a ripe old age. The last of his father's family to be called to his eternal reward.

On October 5, 1927, eleven o'clock he fell asleep, having lived and served his generation for 75 years, 4 months and 8 days.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Lelia Williams Welch, Walter P. Welch, G. Edgar Welch, Mrs. Robert Jones, Mrs. W. R. Bowman, Mrs. W. L. Dunman, all of Mount Airy and Mrs. Joe Folger of near Monroe and 12 grandchildren and a host of friends.

Springs road South 2 1-2 deg. East 1.79 chs., thence South 39 1-2 deg. West 2 chs., thence South 50 deg. E. 1 ch.; thence South 78 deg. East 2 chs.; thence South 35 deg. East 4.30 chs.; thence South 43 deg. East 3.90 chs. to an iron pin, Johnson's corner on the East side of the road; then leaving the road North 38 deg. 45 min. East 250 feet to the Ararat River; thence with the Ararat River South 56 1-2 deg. East 300 feet; then South 56 deg. East 594 feet; thence South 45 deg. East about 426 feet to a forked birch on the East bank of the Ararat River, R. W. Reece's corner; S. 88 deg. E. 6 1-2 chs., thence N. 1 deg. West up the branch 11.85 chs. to a pine stump; thence North 30 deg. 30 min. W. 26 chs. to a black walnut on the bank of the Ararat River; thence up said river North 30 deg. East about 700 feet to the mouth of Johnson's creek then up Johnson's Creek North 45 deg. West about 500 feet to the beginning, containing 116 1-2 acres, more or less. There is excepted from the above boundaries about 2 acres, more or less, of land on the hill between the railroad right of way and the old Sulphur Springs road on which is situated the spring on the hill west of the road, the said lot is designated by corners marked by set stones and known as the watering tank lot. Also the water right to the White Sulphur Springs as deed to J. O. Hatcher by J. K. Reynolds and wife, January 11, 1920, and recorded in Book 55, page 168. The above boundary being the same land conveyed to T. J. Nunn by Thomas M. Smith and wife by deed dated the 23rd day of January, 1922 and recorded in Book of Deeds page _____ and which was conveyed to the said Smith by Tom Atkins and wife by deed dated the 10th day of July, 1920, and recorded in Book of Deeds 81 at page 478, to which deed reference is here made for a more particular description of the above tract.

The sale to be for cash and this sale is made to satisfy the balance due on said deed of trust amounting to the sum of $7000.00 for money loaned with interest thereon from February 13, 1927, and all costs of advertisement, commissions by the trustees and all other legal costs pertaining to said sale to be herewith added. And said sale as provided in said deed of trust may be made by either of said trustees.

This 3rd day of Oct. 1927. W. J. HENSON, Trustee. W. L. ANDREWS, Trustee.

'KILLED' IN WAR, FINDS WIFE MARRIED

Woman Returns From Show With New Hubby and Finds No. 1 Sitting on the Porch.

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 8.—When James Rolling came back from the war, after he had been reported killed, he did not meet with a particularly enthusiastic reception, according to the description of the episode related in Judge Schaner's court by Jessie B. Hardy and Fred Hardy.

Mrs. Hardy was there to obtain an annulment of her marriage to Hardy. Hardy was there to help her get it. Rolling was not present but nevertheless, he was a principal in the domestic drama unfolded before the court.

"He was supposed to be dead," Mrs. Hardy related aggrievedly, and so I was supposed to be a widow because he was my husband. The war department said he was dead. So I married Mr. Hardy and everything was just fine.

"And then we came home from a show one night and there was Rollings sitting there calmly waiting for me and evidently all set to turn in for the night."

So she took her problem to Attorney Griffith Jones, who assured her the first thing for her to do was to have her second marriage annulled on the ground that she had a husband when it was contracted. She was granted a decree of annulment. "But I want to marry Mr. Hardy again as soon as it can be done, legally," she declared.

Why This Mad Sacrifice To Fire?

Into the fiery oven of Moloch the Carthaginians rolled their most precious possessions, their own children. To the worship of a huge calf-headed image of bronze a pagan people deduced to the music of flutes and timbrels to drown the shrieks of their burning victims. This unenlightened nation believed that wars could be won, or crops increased by the sacrifice.

With no hope nor expectation of good resulting America, today, worships, the pagan god, to a scale of undreamed of centuries ago. Into the fiery lap of the first god Americans by their own carelessness are tossing over $500,000,000 worth of churches, schools, stores, homes and factories never to be replaced for the progress of the country. No longer is the oldest son alone in danger of the sacrificial fire but men, women and children alike lose their lives through a nation's negligence.

"What is everybody's business is nobody's business," the saying goes. Is there any way for us to bring this tremendous disaster to each and every individual American so that he can realize the enormity of the loss in life and property and the serious necessity for an awakening sentiment to stop fire?
