"Friendly Neighbor" of the Air

What to do with that little felt hat now to cull the poultry flock, when to prepare the seed bed in the back-yard garden and a thousand and one similar questions are received regularly by the Home Service Division of the Sears Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. These questions, every one of them, are answered on the air and by personal letter over WSB, the Atlanta Journal, by Mrs. R. F. Wheelch, Home Advisor of the Foundation. Mrs. Wheelch's long service in extension work and her wide circle of acquaintances throughout the South east lends a personal touch to her programs, uncommon to most broadcast casts. This same long experience also gives an authority to her answers that goes entirely unquestioned.

SLUGGISH

Black-Draught Makes Her Feet Fit, Says Missouri Lady.

Mrs. Anna M. Hanley, 3536 Brighton Street, Kansas City, Mo., says:

"I have found Black-Draught a most satisfactory medicine for constipation, with which ailment I was troubled for a long time.

"Often I suffered from severe headaches which came, I think, from absorbed poisons. I had a dull, sluggish feeling, and my work was accomplished only by great efforts.

"I had heard about Black-Draught, so I decided to try it, and am thankful to say I was greatly benefited after taking it.

"Black-Draught relieved my constipation and, after I had overcome that condition, I found the other troubles disappeared, too."

Thedford's Black-Draught should relieve you. Try it. 25c. Everywhere.

Slowly to Johnson

Samuel Johnson gained little money when he compiled an English dictionary, but the work served to make his reputation secure. He had been in London ten years, living obscurely as a hack writer and slowly winning a reputation when he was given a chance to prepare the dictionary, for which he was to receive $4,500.

It took him seven years to complete the tremendous work and he had to pay several assistants. The work is remembered not because of its merits, but largely because of Johnson's letter to the end of Chesterfield, who had rebuffed the editor until he heard the dictionary was nearing completion and then hoped to be regarded as one of the benefactors of the scholar.

Upon the publication of the dictionary, Johnson was given recognition as the greatest living figure in English literature. Fielding was dead, Richardson was living in retirement, Gibbon was in Switzerland, Gray and Cowper were publishing little. Johnson was hailed as England's greatest scholar. The honor had been slow in coming, for 18 years had passed since he had left Litchfield to make his fortune in London.—Kansas City Star

Famous "Last" Names

on Pages of History

"Last of the Fathers" was a title given by the Latin church to St. Bernard, who lived from 1091 to 1153. "Last of the Goths" was the title given to Roderick, the thirty-fourth and last of the Visigothic line of kings, who filled the throne of Spain from 416 to 711. To Pahlipomen, who lived from 338 to 18. C., a native of Arendia, was given the appellation "Last of the Greeks"; and he was the last really great and successful commander of the ancient Greeks. "Last of the Moheans" is the title of Cooper's novel of the same name, under which title the Indian chief Uncas is personated. The general Actus has been called the "Last of the Romans." He checked the first invasion of Attila by the relief of Orleans in Gaul, modern France, in the year 451 A. D. With his death, which occurred in 454, the last support of the western empire fell.

Sequipedalian Words

Mark Twain was not the only person to find amusement in the German language. A foreigner thus accounts for the deliberation with which the negotiations held at Locarno were carried on.

"Our interlocutors cannot end their explanations," said this foreigner. "With the best will in the world they cannot pronounce rapidly such words as this: Antialkoholengrossmitgliederversehrlichensdruckkostenveranschlagungsprufungscommissionsversammlungsanladungskarten."

This little word means "Invitation cards for the meeting of the commission for verifying the accounts of the expenses of printing the list of members of the anti-alcoholic congress."

Truth at Any Price

Each man should learn what is within him, that he may strive to mend; he must be taught what is without him, that he may be kind to others. It can never be wrong to tell him the truth; for, in his disputable state, weaving as he goes his theory of life, steering himself, cheering or reproving others, all facts are of the first importance to his conduct; and even if a fact shall discourage or corrupt him it is still best that he should know it, for it is in this world as it is, and not in a world made easy by educational suppression, that he must win his way to shame or glory.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Well Foretells Weather

In eastern Oregon is an interesting well that not only gives supplies of good water but acts as a sort of barometer to tell the approach of storms or changes in the weather. From 12 to 24 hours before a storm, it "exhales" a current of air. The draft increases as the storm approaches, sometimes reaching the intensity of a whistling, roaring jet and shooting up a mist of water with it.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

The Kiss in History

Kisses between men were common in England until the Seventeenth century. Medieval knights used to kiss each other before they began jousting, as modern heavyweights shake hands. Pages in France used to kiss articles they were given to deliver, both when they received them from the hands of senders and just before they delivered them to recipients, as a sign of honor.

Geological Wonder

Juniper mountain, 39 miles west of Craig, Colo. is a geological wonder. The United States survey says that it is the deepest mountain on the western hemisphere. This means that the bottom of Juniper is buried in the earth deeper than any other on this continent. It is walled with rock, and is one of the outstanding sights in the region reached from Craig.

Plan for Brotherhood

What a great and glorious world this might be if we always kept the attitude toward one another which prevails in the hour of flood and fire and earthquake. Oh! The pity of it that we wait for some colossal disaster to awake us to the real spirit of universal love.—Elin Wheeler Wilson.

IS A HEALTHIER STRONGER GIRL

Produce the Youth Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The fertile valleys of Oregon have to supply the tables of America. This is possible through the magic of the human eye.

In one of the existing establishments, Julia Schmidt, was employed. It was complicated work because she did sewing and other parts of the work. It was strenuous work and she was not a strong girl. Often she forced herself to work when she was hardly able to sit at her machine. At times she would have to stay at home for she was so weak she could hardly walk. For five years she was in this weakened condition.

She tried various medicines. At last, a friend of hers spoke of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she gave it a trial.

"Everyone says I am a healthier and stronger girl," she writes. "I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to all my friends who tell me how they suffer and I am willing to answer letters from women asking about it." Julia Schmidt's address is 112 Willow St., Silverton, Oregon.

Girls who work in factories know just how Miss Schmidt felt. Perhaps they, too, will find better health by taking the Vegetable Compound.
