NATIONAL THEATRE MONDAY AND TUESDAY

"Captain Salvation" a Powerful Sea Story

One of the fastest, most thrilling adventure dramas ever screened of the men who go down to the sea in ships, "Captain Salvation," will open at the National Theatre Monday and Tuesday. It is a Cosmopolitan production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, featuring Lars Hanson, the Swedish actor, who created such vivid impressions in "The Scarlet Letter" and "Flesh and the Devil." Mr. Hanson is a descendant of the old Norse Vikings and looks on his role in "Captain Salvation" as one of his greatest characterizations. He is surrounded by an exceptional cast including Pauline Starke, Ernest Torrence, Marceline Day and Sam de Grasse.

"Captain Salvation" is packed with spectacular and highly exciting scenes. It tells the red-blooded romance of courageous men and daring women, battling the fury of the sea, the intolerance of petty conventions and the brutal Captain of a battleship. A saga of adventure it fairly breathes the salt tang of the deep. It grips, it thrills, it amazes, and its love story tugs at the heartstrings. This is a new type of picture, standing out vividly against the usual screen entertainment. It was directed by John S. Robertson.

In addition to the regular feature attraction the management is showing the Dempsey-Tunney Fight Films and these same films have been shown in Winston-Salem and other North Carolina cities. The films show the seventh round in slow motion and shows the fight from all angles.

PLAN BIG RAYON PLANT IN STATE

Chicago Capitalist Discusses $8,000,000 Project With Governor McLean.

Raleigh, Nov. 8.—Virtual assurance of the establishment of an $8,000,000 group of rayon mills in North Carolina was given here yesterday following a three-hour conference of Albert M. Johnson, of Chicago, president of the National Life Insurance Company, and June Harden, of Burlington, with Governor McLean, Wade H. Phillips, director of the State Department of Conservation and Development, H. L. McClaren, Charlotte tire manufacturer and chairman of the Conservation Department's Industrial Division, and Park Matheson, Conservation Department Statistician.

Mr. Johnson was accompanied by his son and a chemical engineer. After the conference he said that he was extremely well pleased with prospects in the State, the State's attitude toward the project and the advantages it had to offer and that he would establish an initial plant in Alamance county, near Burlington, inferring that the $8,000,000 program would be carried through following results from the initial group. The main subjects discussed were the labor conditions in the State, water power, available and potential, taxes, and the advantages accruing from taxes paid into the State government. The Chicago capitalist appeared favorably impressed on all scores, and expressed the opinion that North Carolina appeared to be the ideal State for his project. Establishment of the new concern will give Alamance county two great rayon establishments. Only recently the May Hosiery Mills absorbed the plant of the National Dye Works and launched a rayon manufacturing program.

Armistice Day

Friday will be the 9th ANNIVERSARY of the greatest ARMISTICE in all HISTORY, a day that in our humble opinion OUGHT to be, tho' it is not, a NATIONAL HOLIDAY and we are REMINDED of the two ex-soldiers, one of whom had lost his RIGHT arm in the war and the other his LEFT arm. They are friends and NEIGHBORS and once each YEAR they meet and ARM in ARM they go down town together and SOLEMNLY buy ONE pair of GLOVES for two HEROES, and we think they show a fine SPIRIT of COMRADESHIP and PATRIOTISM in taking their common MISFORTUNE so lightly that they make it their own little PET ECONOMY.

Moral: Let's give a little thought to our living heroes as well as the dead ones on Armistice Day.
