

Rural News As Gleaned By Our Correspondents

Silvan

Silvan, Nov. 15.—Rev. C. L. Leftwich of Mount Airy visited friends in this section Sunday.

The Loyal Volunteer Band of Hills Grove Church held services at Mt. Zion Church Sunday night. A goodly number was present.

Friends and relatives of Mrs. A. L. Stewart will be glad to learn that she is improving after a brief illness.

Rev. Ellis Norman preached his last sermon at Pine Hill Methodist Church Sunday afternoon before the conference. The people hope that he will get to come back and be with them another year, as he has won great favor among the people.

Friends and relatives of Mrs. W. F. Peale gave her a large birthday dinner Sunday in honor of her 50th birthday. A large dinner table was spread in front of her home and all the people gathered around it. Rev. C. L. Leftwich of Round Peak graced the table and the partakers were many. Everybody present seemed to enjoy the dinner. After the dinner was over Bro. Leftwich called the people together and preached an interesting sermon. All her children and grand children were present. Mrs. Peale has been afflicted for some time and her friends wanted to show their affection for her.

Claude Flincham of this place has been appointed by the Winston-Salem Journal as news correspondent for the whole Surry County with the exception of two places, Mount Airy and Dobson. Flincham has a little Chevrolet roadster and he spends a great deal of his time riding in his car over the country getting news for the papers. He calls this fun as well as recreation. He advises all people that have news to report it to him.

Dewey Hill, a young musician of this section won first prize on guitar at the Fiddlers Convention held at Flat Rock school house. Mr. Hill has won more prizes than any one playing in the convention thus far.

Ararat

Ararat, Nov. 15.—The farmers of this section are very busy preparing their tobacco for market. Some are encouraged as to the prices of tobacco, while others are discouraged. There have been several corn husk-ings around Ararat, and it seems that the crop of corn has been well harvested in this section.

Several people from this place attended the singing at Ivy Hill which was conducted by Russ Maun. The singing came to a close Thursday night. Large crowds attended during the entire time.

Rockford

Rockford, Nov. 15.—On last Tuesday morning when the children assembled at Copeland school as usual, steam was soon coming out of the furnace. The teachers found upon investigation that the boiler had burst, and realized that it would be some time before they could have school again. Prof. Graham announced that they could not have school until the boiler was replaced.

News of Route One

Mount Airy R. F. D. No. 1, Nov. 16.—George Riddle the twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Riddle is in Martin Memorial Hospital where he underwent a serious operation for acute appendicitis late Saturday afternoon. His condition is very critical today.

Paul France son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. France is recovering slowly from a broken leg and other minor injuries received several weeks ago when he was hit by a truck as he stepped from a school bus near his home. He was carried to Mount Airy hospital where he still remains for treatment.

Westfield Happenings

Westfield, Nov. 15.—A letter received from Uncle Buck (M. D. Moore) this morning stated that he is able to walk out to the park and expects to return to Mount Airy in ten days.

Miss Vera Sawyers our much esteemed rural mail carrier has just bought a $2,000 car and the town council granted her permission to build a $2,000 residence on East Broadway, Mitchell and Fowler have the contract.

R. K. Simmons has placed a complete air cistern water system in his residence on West Broadway.

Mrs. A. S. Alfred and family of Westfield spent Tuesday in Mount Airy.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Westfield Baptist Church will meet with Mrs. Emma Smith Saturday at 2:30 o'clock.

Sudden Death Claims Lowgap Citizen

Berry Wilson, a highly esteemed citizen of the Lowgap section dropped dead at his garage Saturday afternoon just after returning from a trip to Galax, Va. He stooped by his car, wrench in hand, making some adjustments and was seen to lie down on the ground, when his wife reached him his spirit had taken its flight.

He was about sixty years old and a native of Alleghany County, coming to the Lowgap section only six or eight years ago. He was twice married and the second wife and two or more children of the first marriage survive him.

His remains were laid to rest following a service at the Roaring Gap Church two miles west of Lowgap.

P. and N. May Extend To Hickory, Is Rumor

Hickory, Nov. 15.—Rumor that the P. and N. Railway company may extend its lines to Hickory has gained currency here, and although no announcement has come from the company officials, it is understood that they are interested in the project.

Advantages of the opening up of an electric line from Mt. Holly via Lincolnton, Hickory and Lenoir, to connect with the East Tennessee railroad at Doon, or with the C. G. and O. railroad at Mountain City, were pointed out by interested persons. Such a move would open up all the virgin territory of northwest North Carolina and East Tennessee to the commercial interests of the state.

It is understood that officials of the Hickory chamber of commerce are investigating the question now, and should the Interstate Commerce commission see fit to grant the P. and N. railroad the right to construct inter-urban electric lines between various cities of North Carolina, it is believed that Hickory may become an important link in an electric chain.
