The women missionary society of the Dobson Baptist Church met with Mrs. Dr. W. M. Stone and Mrs. Wendell Stone as joint hostess on Friday evening at 7 o'clock. The president Mrs. W. W. Hampton presided and also conducted the devotionals. The society opened by singing "The Kingdom is Coming." The society for a short while observed the Thanksgiving season. "The Spirit of Thanksgiving and how it should linger throughout the year" was given by Mrs. W. L. Reece, followed by a prayer of gratitude by Mrs. A. D. Folger. In the absence of the program leader Mrs. R. A. Freeman, the program was conducted by the president. The topic for discussion, "The Wandering Jew was very interestingly discussed by Misses Lucile Pugh, Eliza Capehart, Elizabeth Norman and Mrs. A. D. Folger. Mrs. Collins Pettigrew, while appropriate psalms were read by Mrs. S. R. Coalson and Miss Thelma Comer. Special music of the evening was a solo "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer" rendered by Miss Edith Beece with Mrs. A. D. Folger at the piano. A business meeting followed with splendid reports from the committee on personal service work for November. A liberal box of clothing was donated by the society to the County Welfare Officer Mr. Armfield to be distributed where most needed, and a box of necessities to an inmate of Martin Memorial Hospital, Mount Airy. During the social hour the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Kent Swanson, of Pilot Mountain, served a delightful salad course and hot coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kent Swanson and small son Kent, Jr., spent the week end with Mrs. Swanson's parents Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Stone.

The Brady Hotel was the scene of a happy occasion last Tuesday evening when Dr. Joe Folger and Miss Eva Hancock entertained the Tues-

Fatal Shooting Takes Place Over Who Killed Rabbit

Danville, Va., Nov. 29.—Edward Yates and D. T. Fulton are in a Stuart hospital, possibly fatally injured as result of what the Patrick authorities say was a huntman's quarrel on Thanksgiving Day. They are brothers-in-law. Yesterday both shot simultaneously at a rabbit, which was killed. An argument developed as to who killed it and they passed words. Yates stooped to pick up the rabbit. As he did so Fulton fired at him, the shot taking effect in his side. Fulton then picked up the rabbit and was walking away when Yates took aim and dropped him, his load striking Fulton between the shoulder blades. Other huntmen in the vicinity hearing the shots found both men laying wounded and carried them to the hospital.

Tribute to George Dixie Riddle

(Mrs. A. D. Barker)

George Dixie Riddle was born April 30th, 1915, died Nov. 28th, 1927, aged about 12 1-2 years. He was the only child of J. T. and Minnie Riddle. George was a model boy, very obedient and devoted to his parents, his quiet disposition and even temperament endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. His work at school received honorable mention, and it was said of him by his friends and neighbors that he was a "good boy." He was a strong healthy promising type of a boy until two weeks ago he was stricken with acute appendicitis the appendix ruptured before he was operated on at Martin Hospital, he only lived 13 days, interment was at Hollow Springs Saturday at 11 o'clock A. M. Rev. T. W. Bryant and Elder J. M. Hiatt his school teacher conducting funeral services. Mr. Hiatt had learned to love him and paid tribute to his life and to his work with him in school. George will be sadly missed by his playmates and by the community as well as in his home.

The sorrowing mother and father have the sympathy of all who know of the sad untimely death.

"Believe me, Mrs. Miller, half the people do not know how the other half live."

"Well, they do in my town, Mr. Payne."
