WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 7, 1900.

Several hundred dollars changed hands in Kinston on the results of the election. LOST! All the money we had on Bryan's election. The other fellow has it.

FOR SALE! All the pictures of crowing roosters on hand. We don't care to feed them till 1901. Apply at this office.

There was a good break of tobacco on the Kinston market today. Prices were better than they've been in the past two weeks.

Rev. C. W. Blanchard returned yesterday from Gastonia, Greene county. He had been conducting a very successful series of meetings there.

You will be welcomed at the Methodist church tonight to hear a lecture on Book of Revelation, with special reference to the "White horse and his rider."—Rev. G. E.

Mess. Newborne & West's bill boards are being covered today with posters announcing the coming of The Rhoda Royal shows on Nov. 16th. This is one of the largest shows now on the road.

Mr. Geo. Pate, aged about 35 years, died this morning at his home near Kinston of typhoid fever. The remains will be buried tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Pate was overseer of Mr. A. Mitchell's farm, and was an honest and industrious man. He leaves no family.

Mess. Einstein Bros. have a very elegant display of the celebrated W. B. Corset in their first south window. The symmetrical arrangement combined with the magnificence of the forms in use give glowing tribute to the ever increasing popularity of this corset. The display is well worth seeing and no woman should miss it.

The Schumann Concert Co. will be here tomorrow night at the opera house. This company is composed entirely of lady artists and a treat is in store for all who attend. Already a large number of reserved seats are sold and a crowded house will take advantage to attend this high class performance. Seats on sale at Hood's drug store.

There is something else about that moon hunt that was extremely worthy of note; viz: The efficient manner in which the Temple-Marston Drug Co. wielded the axe. He didn't fell the tree but he felled all the boys. Long before he got through his turn all the fellows were rolling on the ground in ecstasies of laughter. He didn't get out a chip as big as a ten cent piece. (Continued in our next issue.)

The town will buy two more horses to work on the streets, remove the garbage and also used by the fire department. The town now pays $40 per month to have garbage carted away. For a little more than this amount two horses can be kept and two men employed. The streets can be kept in better condition, and the fire department will be greatly strengthened. We learn, also that two men will be employed to sleep at the engine house. THE FREE PRESS approves of these steps.

The chrysanthemum show will be held Thursday and Friday, Nov. 8 and 9. On Thursday the door will be open from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and on Friday from 9 to 12 in the morning, from 2 to 5 in the afternoon, and again at night, when oysters and other refreshments will be served. Through the courtesy of the Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows the exhibition will be given in the lodge room of these orders over the store of Cox & Co. The management cordially invite everyone, and give assurance that for the small admission fee of 10 cents, they will witness a most bewildering and magnificent floral display. Come and see chrysanthemums in the most prodigious profusion of the choicest and rarest varieties, grown with the utmost care by skillful and ardent lovers of the famous flowers. All cut flowers will be for sale and what more appropriate gift as an expression of friendship or affection than a bunch of these autumn beauties?

MARRIED.

Miss Gertie Dill to Mr. A. H. Webb, Jr. at Morehead City.

A beautiful marriage was solemnized at 6:35 o'clock this morning at Morehead City. The contracting parties were Miss Gertie Dill, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Dill, and Mr. A. H. Webb, Jr., both of Morehead City.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. O. Guthrie at the residence of the bride's mother.

The bride entered the room on the arm of her brother, Mr. Geo. W. Dill; the groom entered by another door upon the arm of his brother, Mr. Chas. V. Webb, as best man. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by the sister of the groom, Mrs. C. S. Wallace, accompanied on a violin by Mr. Leslie Davis. During the ceremony a beautiful violin solo, "Sweetest Story Ever Told" was beautifully rendered.

The bridal party was preceded by five flower girls, nieces of bride and groom. The room in which the ceremony was performed was handsomely decorated with evergreens and chrysanthemums. The couple stood just under a triple arch with a background of palms.

The wedding breakfast was served at 6:50, the bride and groom taking the 7:27 train for Niagara Falls and northern cities. They were accompanied as far as Goldsboro by 28 of the bridal party in the handsome parlor car "Vance." Several friends of the couple were at the depot in Kinston when they passed through to offer congratulations.

There were more than a hundred handsome and useful wedding presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb are popular among a large circle of friends. The bride is a sister of Mrs. W. S. Herbert, of Kinston, and has many friends here.

The FREE PRESS wishes the happy couple an interesting and pleasant trip, and may they find the great sea of life an untroubled one. May their paths be strewn with roses without the thorns.

SEVEN SPRINGS ITEMS.

November 6, 1900.
 Our young ladies say they don't like "rainy Sundays."
 Gov. C. B. Aycock spent last week at Rural Retreat hotel.
 Rev. S. H. Isler filled his regular appointment here Sunday.
 Mr. Ferguson, Supt. Rocky Mount mills, visited our section last week.
 Miss Mattie Uzzell began teaching about four miles from here Monday.
