FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 9, 1900

Cotton is still advancing. It brought 9 to 9 1/4 in Kinston today.

Evangelist W. H. Frost will preach at the Chapel next Wednesday night.

Newbern fair next week. It is going to be something worth going to see.

The Schumann Concert Co. played to a large audience last night, and gave a fine entertainment.

Mr. Everett Brinson went to Greenville this morning. He has purchased a full-grown blood hound, which he will bring home with him tonight.

Dr. H. D. Harper left this morning for Dunn to be at the bedside of his mother, Mrs. A. A. Harper, who is suffering from a stroke of paralysis, and is not expected to live.

We are requested to state that there will be a shooting match at Gray's thicket just beyond the iron bridge next Tuesday, at which 40 turkeys will be disposed of.

Craven county gave Simmons 1,227 majority. Gen. Carr receiving only 308 votes in that county, although the Newbern Journal supported Carr. Craven was the home of Simmons for many years.

The board of county canvassers met in Kinston yesterday, but as no township was not represented, no business was transacted, and the meeting was postponed until today at 12 o'clock. The returns will be found in a table in another column.

The star mail route from Kinston to Hookerton has been changed to the schedule formerly run. It will leave Kinston at 6 o'clock in the morning, arriving at Hookerton about 9; returning will leave Hookerton about 1 o'clock and arrive at Kinston at 4 p. m. This schedule goes into effect tomorrow—Saturday—morning.

There was a runaway on Queen street yesterday. A mule, hitched to a cart, became so unruly that the driver, a small boy, could not manage him. Mr. F. B. Beeton went to the rescue and was thrown down and drawn and dragged about for several minutes. The mule got away from Mr. Beeton, but was captured on Gordon street, near THE FREE PRESS office.

Officer Josiah Wells, of LaGrange, brought "Deb" Logan, colored, to Kinston this morning and placed him in jail to await court next week. The negro was seen gambling in LaGrange several months ago. Papers have been out for his arrest some time, and he was captured and tried yesterday. He had made threats against any man who attempted to arrest him. He told a man in LaGrange that he had killed one man in another state and was forced to leave, and he would do the same thing in this State. It is said he has been recently released from the penitentiary.

There was a terrific wind storm in this section for a few minutes last night about 8 o'clock. Part of the scaffolding around some of the houses in course of erection in Kinston was blown down. Goods boxes around town were blown in every direction. There is always something to amuse in everything; it matters little what the occasion may be. Some of the colored population thought a cyclone had struck us, and made for other quarters with horror-stricken countenances. Several people lost their hats. Mr. W. Ed Parrott turned up this morning much the worse for the storm. He, too, thought a cyclone was imminent, and in his haste to get in doors, ran into an open gate, was thrown down and received several bruises. He requests us to state that those who keep their gates shut at night will render a great service to a long suffering humanity.

The Chrysanthemum Show.

The lodge room of the Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows has never been the scene of such beauty nor has it ever had so many visitors. The chrysanthemum show, for the carpet fund of the Christian church, is being held there.

The proverbial "ghosts" of these fraternal orders had been securely penned, and there was no danger during the night that this voracious animal would devour the beautiful chrysanthemums, luxuriant ferns and palms and thrifty potted plants with which the hall is so handsomely decorated.

In the language of the circus this elegant, tastily arranged, splendid and magnificent aggregation of "things of beauty" has never been nor ever will be surpassed on this terrestrial sphere.

The handsome prizes were awarded yesterday afternoon during the opening hour of the show. Rev. E. D. Brown and Mess. Geo. B. Webb and Charles F. Harvey were the judges.

For the largest and nicest collection, Mrs. L. J. Newborne was awarded a cut glass bowl.

For the largest six blooms a cut glass water bottle was awarded to Mrs. S. H. Reamtree, Jr.

For the largest single bloom Mrs. V. E. Weyher received a cut glass vase.

A handsome piece of china was awarded to Mrs. J. B. Tighman.

The show was well attended yesterday evening and this morning, and many cut flowers sold. There were many exclamations of surprise that such beautiful flowers had been raised—even in Kinston. The tables have been replenished and there are still enough for those who desire to buy, and they are as pretty if not prettier than before.

The hall will be opened again tonight for visitors, when oysters and other refreshments will be sold. Don't fail to go.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Olivia Waters, who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. C. T. Randolph, returned to her home at Newbern yesterday.

Misses Capitola and Sattie Grainger returned home yesterday from a pleasure trip to Baltimore and other points of interest.

Mrs. S. M. Hanrahan and Mr. J. T. Worthington, who had been in Kinston a day or two, returned to their homes near Grifton this morning.

Gen. Carr Not Depressed.
 Durham, N. C., Nov. 7.—Gen. Carr was on the street quite early this morning shaking hands with his friends and admirers. The general, although defeated, is not cast down in the least, and is today as good a Democrat as he ever was, and he is happy to think that his county thought so much of him, by giving him such a handsome majority.
