NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

L. C. BROGDEN.—Kinston Academy.
EINSTEIN BROS.—For Early Fall Wrappers.

It has rained very hard today, flooding the streets.

We call attention to the advertisement of Kinston Academy, Prof. L. C. Brogden, principal, which opens in the public school building on October 5th.

Mr. R. E. Bizzell came to Kinston from Goldsboro yesterday. He returned from a trip to Jacksonville, Fla., about two weeks ago. He says all the Kinston boys are getting along all right in the first regiment.

Ed Marrow, a colored man, who had been working at the Eagle warehouse, was found dead in the warehouse, where he slept, this morning. Dr. Parrott made an examination of his body this morning and found that death was caused by heart trouble. The body was taken to Oxford this morning.

A patron in a neighboring town sends an order for job printing to THE FREE PRESS and expresses himself as much pleased with a lot of work done for him a short while ago. He says we surprised his people in Norfolk with the work—being so good. THE FREE PRESS does as good printing as can be obtained anywhere, and better than most places.

Hon. B. F. Aycock, of Wayne county, will be with Hon. Locke Craig at La-Grange next Tuesday morning and at Kinston that night, and will also speak. Both are splendid speakers and the white people should turn out to hear them. After the speaking the white men of Kinston precincts Nos. 1 and 2 will organize a joint White Government Union, and every white man is urged to be on hand and become a member.

Naval Reserves Dance.

The opera house was nicely decorated last night for the second annual dance of the Kinston Naval Reserves. The bunting, neatly and plentifully festooned overhead, presented an inspiring appearance. The band was on the stage, which was decorated with ferns and flags.

The dance was not so large an affair as that of last year, but there were as many couples as could well get on the floor. The music by Borjes' band was excellent, and the participants all had a splendid time until about 3 o'clock in the morning. The dance was a success.

The following couples were in attendance:

Mr. E. Oettinger and Miss Eva Einstein.
Mr. Bob Moye, of Greenville, and Miss Mae Oettinger.
Mr. C. L. Pridden and Miss Helen Gray.
Mr. T. B. Bunn, of Rocky Mount, and Miss Mabel Borden, of Goldsboro.
Mr. Fulford, of Washington, N. C., and Miss Winnie Skinner, of Greenville.
Mr. S. G. Tayloe, of Washington, N. C., and Miss Rebecca Worthington, of Greenville.
Mr. F. W. Hoyt and Miss Carrie Burbank, both of Washington, N. C.
Mr. S. J. Woodward, of Greenville, and Miss Julia Jordan, of Washington City.
Mr. L. D. Bulluck and Miss Helene Battle, both of Rocky Mount.
Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wooten.
Mr. and Mrs. C. Felix Harvey.
Mr. Wayne Mitchell and Miss Claypool, of Newbern.
Mr. H. H. McCoy and Miss Bradford Hyman, of Newbern.
Lieut. W. D. Pollock and Miss Lottie Barnes, of Tarboro.
Mr. J. A. Long and Miss Carolisa Pennington, of Tarboro.

Mr. Prenties Wooten and Miss May Harvey.

Mr. C. F. Dunn and Miss Gertie Dill, of Morehead City.
Mr. A. Einstein and Miss Sadie Marks, of Charleston, S. C.
Mr. Frank Hyman and Miss Belle Marks, both of Newbern.
Mr. Harry Marks, of Newbern, and Miss Daisy Oettinger.
Lieut. Tom Daniels, of Newbern, and Miss Edith Oettinger.

Another big lot of fine note paper for commercial printing just received. THE FREE PRESS carries the biggest stock of paper for printing purposes of any establishment in the State east of the W. & W. B. R., and does as nice printing as is done anywhere. Our prices are low.

A Defeated Candidate.

Communication. MR. EDITOR:—As I am one of that class I want to say I am as true to the white man's party as any man who was nominated. I went in the field and made a fair, square fight and got defeated fair and square. I never saw conducted a more open and fair convention and I am going to pull off my coat, roll up my sleeves and help elect our ticket. We all could not be nominated and I for one am going to do my duty. It is mighty easy for a defeated man to find some fault why he was not nominated, but I am not one of that number. This is the time for all white men to stand together. We have a first-class ticket, from top to bottom, and we are going to elect every man on it. You will hear of no kicking from me, but I am going to work for the ticket until the sun goes down on election day.

Truly,
A DEFEATED CANDIDATE.

A Sad Commitment.

M. C. Pilot. On Monday last an aged lady from Harlowe, Mrs. Mary Ann Saddler, the widow of the late Shedrick M. Saddler, Esq., was committed to jail at Beaufort pending correspondence between the board of county commissioners and the authorities of the Raleigh Insane asylum looking to her confinement in that institution. Mrs. Saddler is 56 years old, and for more than 30 years has been mentally afflicted. About 18 years ago her husband died, and since that time she has been under the tender care of Mrs. Taylor, widow of the late Furman Taylor, who now turns her over to the county authorities for safe keeping, Mrs. Taylor fearing that in some moment of delirium Mrs. Saddler may do her some bodily harm.
