WEDNESDAY EVENING, November 29, 1899.

The Merry-makers will be here for three nights, commencing Nov. 30th.

Mr. C. M. Jones is erecting a wood yard on Queen street, near the A. & N. C. railroad.

Mr. W. J. Hargett, of near Trenton, brought us a lot of second crop apples today.

Don't fail to have your seats reserved for The Merry-makers in advance at Loftin's store.

If you wish to spend a pleasant Thanksgiving night, go to the opera house and see The Merry-makers in "A Millionaire Tramp."

The weighing party held in the grand jury room at the court house last night was a successful and enjoyable affair. About $28 was realized.

Mrs. Mariah Taylor is having a two-story house of six rooms erected on the corner of Peyton and Heritage streets, near the A. & N. C. railroad.

The Zion Methodist conference, colored, is in session at Kinston. A good many preachers are in attendance, and it speaks well for the colored citizens of Kinston to entertain such a large body.

The ladies have decided to have the bazaar for the benefit of the Library on December 15th. Those who will contribute fancy work are requested to send it in as early as possible. Those who have promised eatables are requested to bear it in mind and send them in at the proper time. The affair promises to be a big success, and already much interest is being aroused over it.

Every advertising solicitor has been met with the statement from merchants and others "I do not know how to write an advertisement." This same man who can not write a readable advertisement can talk to a possible customer all day about the merits of his stock. Every reader of a newspaper is a possible customer, and there is no reason why the same arguments that induce him to buy after he has entered the store will not serve to attract him to it.

Mr. Geo. A. Holderness and Miss Hattie Howard, of Tarboro, were married in the Presbyterian church there Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. After the ceremony, the bridal party went to the residence of Hon. George Howard, where a public reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Holderness left on the night train for the north, where they will remain some time. The many friends of Mr. Holderness through Lenoir and Greene county extend congratulations and best wishes to him and his better half.

AUGUST FLOWER.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Houton, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy, for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, whether headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at Temple Marston Drug Co.

Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.

The Fox

Is Considered Shrewd

among animals. If all the stories in Aesop's fables are true, he is entitled to the reputation. In any event, even a fox is too shrewd to "go it blind," as some men do, when a pair of glasses would remedy the blindness.

We can fit a pair of glasses to you.
