

State Library

June Advertising

If properly worked out people thinking about July harvest

THE DAILY FREE PRESS.

THE WEATHER:
Showers tonight; fair and warmer Saturday.

PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON EXCEPT SUNDAY.

VOL. V.—NO. 78.

KINSTON, N. C., FRIDAY, JUNE 27, 1902.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

OLD NORTH STATE NEWS AND GOSSIP

OLD AND INTERESTING HAPPENINGS.

In Need of a Reformatory.

North Carolina is in need of a reformatory for young criminals. The legislature of 1903 can do no public act more commendable than to create such an institution. A thirteen-year-old boy of Scotland county has recently been sent to the chain gang, where his associates are hardened criminals, for stealing a package of stationery. At the last term of Halifax county court a boy of youthful age was also sentenced to serve a term in the state prison. These children need to be brought up in a better atmosphere than that found inside of prison walls if they are ever to be any good to the state.—Littleton Reporter.

Crops Look Better.

Lexington Dispatch: From present indications the corn crop in Davidson county this year will surpass all previous records. Parties from all over the county speak with enthusiasm of the excellent stand and of the bright outlook for a great crop. When, too, it is believed, will turn out a little better than was expected and, taking all things into consideration, our farmer friends are to be congratulated upon the indications for bountiful crops this year.

Sheep-Killing Dogs.

Tarboro Southern: Messrs. MacCann & Turner had no less than sixteen sheep killed by dogs. Several others were injured while quite a number were so scared that they have not returned. Sunday and the night following they watched and caught up with seven canines, which they killed. If an owner complained he was asked to look into the mouth where he would find the wool still between the dentals.

A Negro Shot.

Raleigh Cox. Wilmington Messenger: News reached the sheriff Thursday of a possible homicide in this county near Neuse, where a large force of negroes is building a branch line from the Seaboard Air Line to a cotton mill. A negro named Kirby was shot in the back of the head by another named Moore. The latter asserts that the shooting was accidental, but contrary statements are made. A deputy sheriff was sent to arrest Moore.

Stealing Vases from Graves.

Greenville Reflector: Sunday morning a white woman was detected taking from graves in Cherry Hill cemetery, vases, dishes and other receptacles for flowers. It has been noticed for some time that such articles placed on graves to hold flowers were being stolen, and Sunday morning a gentleman watched the cemetery with the above result.

Oil Mills Burned.

Raleigh and News Observer: Swift Creek oil mills were burned Monday night. The entire plant was destroyed. Loss $1,000; no insurance. Cause of fire unknown. This mill was located near Battleboro in Edgecombe county. It is hardly probable that it will be rebuilt.

Attendance Small.

The attendance at the annual meeting of the State Lumber Dealer's association in session at Raleigh, is very small. Wednesday the "board of control," or executive committee was in session. The general public expected that there would be a large attendance.

HYCO.

June 25, 1902.

Most all the crops are doing fine. Mr. B. P. Taylor spent Saturday night with Mr. J. R. Torrance, of Ormondville.

Mr. Joseph Amner of Richmond, Va., was here awhile Friday.

Miss Florence Daff returned home from Snow Hill Sunday.

Mr. W. W. Tussett and wife of near Ormondville, spent Sunday with Mr. J. E. Daff's family.

Mrs. M. E. Daff, Mrs. O. Hardy and son, Macon, spent yesterday with relatives near Ridge Springs.

There are lots of berries in this section. You can see small crabs come by every day with baskets full.

A Gentle Hint.

In our style of climate with its sudden changes of temperature, wind and sunshine often interrupted in a single day, it is no wonder that our children, friends and visitors are so frequently taken down by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Syrup kept about your home for household use, will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of this or any other medicine. For Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Pneumonia, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its use is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. Get a sample bottle free from J. E. Daff, Raleigh, when they call on you.

A Good Record.

Kinston young men who have gone off to various institutions to receive training for vocations in life have as a rule made exceptionally fine showing. In fact this has been so to such an extent that it has often caused comment. A number of years ago, about eight, a young man not now known very well to the large number of newcomers, but well known to the older inhabitants, left Kinston for the state university. After attending that institution a few years he conceived as his life's ambition to enter the medical profession. He commenced the study of medicine in 1895 under Dr. H. Tull, of this place. He mapped out a course of study that would give him the opportunity of placing himself at the top of his chosen profession. After studying here he left for a training at Bellevue hospital, New York. From there he entered the medical class at the University of Pennsylvania, recognized as one of the first schools for the study of medicine and surgery. During his course of learning he has achieved many works of distinction, which at his own request were not published in his home paper, but which his intimate friends in keeping track of him have known. On July 18 last he was among the graduating class of that high institution of learning, the University of Pennsylvania. The young man referred to is Dr. Paul LaRoque, son of our townsman, Mr. W. D. LaRoque. The faculty of the institution of which he graduated showed their appreciation of the brilliant record made by him during his course of study by bestowing upon him the highest honor that is given by that institution, electing him resident physician and surgeon to the University hospital. This is an honor that cannot be bought but which is given to the one student in the graduating medical class who in the estimation of the faculty has made the best showing. He also won the prize offered for physical diagnosis of a homeopathometer, given by Dr. Judson DeLand, one of the faculty. To show the thoroughness of his training this young man has taken to reach the top, the following history of his course is given: Studied in wards of Philadelphia hospital, was assistant in medical dispensary of University hospital, registrar in dispensary for our diseases in post graduate hospital and medical school, records to Rush hospital for tuberculosis and allied diseases graduated from Philadelphia Lying-in-Charity hospital for diseases of women and children and was elected to membership in Sigma Xi honorary scientific fraternity. Kinston is indeed proud of a native who has achieved such honor in his chosen and loved profession, and regrets that he has decided to locate for practice in Philadelphia instead of Kinston.

BASEBALL.

STATE LEAGUE.

Yesterday's results.

Raleigh 6, New Bern 0; Charlotte 3, Greensboro 0; Wilmington 12, Durham 0;

Eastern Carolina League.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Tarboro	2	0	1.000
Wilmington	1	1	.500
Kinston	1	3	.250

Ready to Yield.

"I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for piles and found it a certain cure," says R. H. Meredith, Willow Grove, Del. Operations are unnecessary to cure piles. They always yield to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Cures skin diseases, all kinds of wounds, except no counter-acts.—J. E. Daff.

KING CONTINUES TO IMPROVE

PASSED A FAIRLY COMFORTABLE DAY

Took Food and Was Afterwards Allowed to Smoke.

There Has Been a Return of Pain in the Wound, But His Condition is Considered Satisfactory and the Public is Pleased at the News—Royal Family Spent a Quiet Evening.

London, June 26.—Midnight.—Those around King Edward continue to be astounded at his rapid recovery. The slightly annoying symptoms mentioned in the bulletin issued at 11 o'clock tonight are quite inconsequential compared to the fact which the Associated Press has learned, that his majesty again took food tonight and was afterwards allowed to smoke a cigar.

The 11 o'clock bulletin follows: "The king has passed a fairly comfortable day and has maintained his strength. There is a returning desire for food which has been very carefully given. There has been some return of pain in the wound."

Signed: Treves, Laking, Barlow.

Queen Alexandra sat with her husband all the evening and only left him after he had fallen into a peaceful sleep.

Mention of the king's doctors, that food had been administered to the royal patient and of the return of pain in the wound can be safely taken as merely an earnest of their conscientious intention to make public the slightest adverse symptom, however unimportant.

The king's courage and good temper are remarkable and today he personally wrote several telegrams and one or two notes.

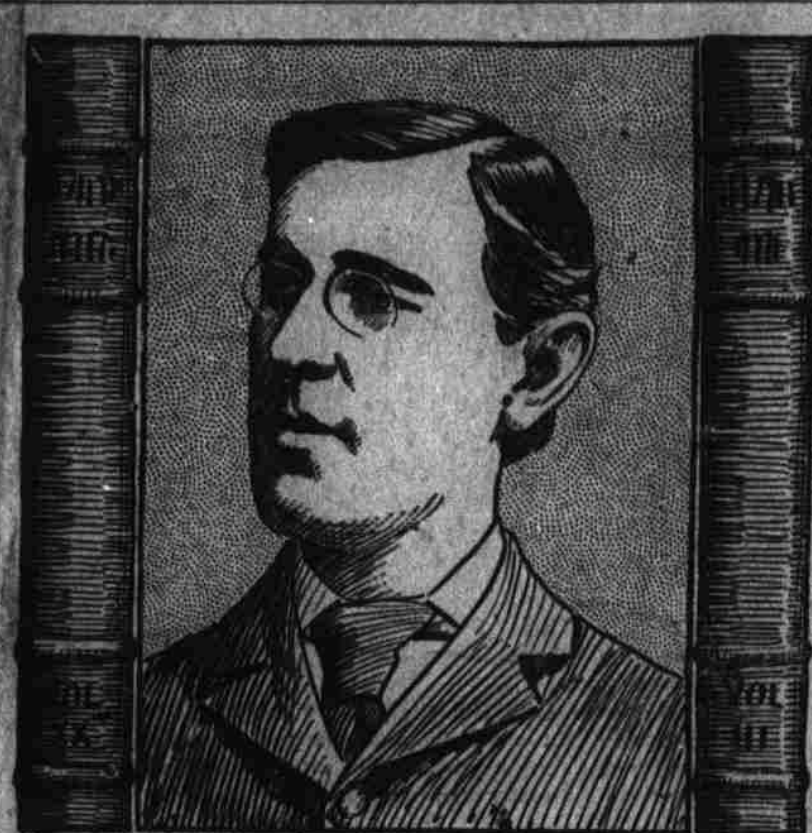

As evidence of the king's persistent refusal to efface himself from his connection with state affairs and in corroboration of the statement that the physicians are satisfied with their patient's condition, the Associated Press learns that besides personally opening telegrams Wednesday evening, King Edward then insisted upon a full inspection of the honor list. There was one appointment of considerable importance which had not been definitely decided at that time; the king approved this nomination and gave the final order to the department interested, thus saving one of the recipients of honors from severe disappointment.

To these hopes of a favorable issue of the king's illness, no less an authority than the queen gives this encouragement. Writing to the Lord Mayor of London today to thank him for his expressions of sympathy of the city of London, Queen Alexandra says through her secretary: "The queen rejoices to think that the bulletin of this morning gives a favorable report of the king."

Following the expressed desire of the Prince of Wales, the arrangements for illuminating the city which involved the costly erection of set pieces for electricity and gas lights will be allowed to remain and will be utilized "immediately it is authoritatively announced that the king is out of danger."

By the king's personal desire the royal pardons of offenders in the army will go into effect just as if the coronation had occurred. The last intimation suitably brings to a close the day which was to have been notable in English history.

The most striking feature of the coronation day, as it is still called, was the

PROFESSOR WOODROW WILSON, THE NEW PRESIDENT OF PRINCETON UNIVERSITY.

Woodrow Wilson, the new president of Princeton university, is one of the youngest university presidents in the world. He is but 45 and was born in Virginia. He was educated in the schools of Augusta, Ga., and Columbia, S. C., and at Princeton. He studied law, but concluded to abandon it in favor of literature and higher education. For some years Professor Wilson has been a member of the Princeton faculty and his selection as president of the university is said to have come as a great surprise to him. Dr. Patton, the venerable instructor whom Professor Wilson succeeds, will retain two professorships, though most of his time will be given up to literary work.

universal substitution of services of interest for those of rejection. These services occurred throughout the country and on board the great fleet that lies unriveted in Portsmouth harbor.

In face of today's favorable bulletin tears and litanies are obviously out of place. The crowds that packed the streets of the metropolis until midnight tonight evidently appreciated this; they did not "miff" but there was general rejoicing, which, even with the most unreluctant failed to become inordinate.

All night long the strand was thronged with crowds of people who usually confined themselves to taking a stroll or look at the decorations gradually disappearing from the front of Buckingham palace. Only a slight gathering awaited the night bulletin, and when that was posted, the royal residence, save for a few stragglers, became deserted.

Inside the palace the members of the royal family spent a quiet evening and the number of callers was smaller than any night this week.

ABOUT THE HOSPITAL.

Family Protective Union Adopts Resolution.

The Family Protective Union falls in line with the other benevolent orders and at their meeting last night adopted resolutions favoring the erection of a hospital and pledging its support.

The resolutions follow: Realizing the need of and the blessings to be derived by this town and community from the establishment of a hospital for the care of the sick and afflicted and being a fraternal order caring for its sick and disabled in times of emergency;

Resolved, That News Council No. 237, of the Family Protective Union heartily endorses the movement for the erection of a hospital and pledge our individual support of same and that we as a body will lend our best efforts in behalf of same.

Resolved, That a copy be furnished The Kinston Free Press for publication and that a copy be spread upon our minutes.

R. A. WHITAKER, Pres.
A. E. MOORE, Treas.
C. H. BAYNES, Sec.

A Menu to Suit Any Appetite.

It will surprise any readers of the Free Press, who have not noticed it, to see how great a variety of reading matter it furnishes daily to its patrons. I give below a simple enumeration of the things found in a number of the paper picked up at random: Advertisements, almanacs for month, agricultural items, baseball news, biographical sketches, continued stories, church services, city local, closing and opening of mails, deaths, fashion notes, housekeeping hints, humorous items, horticultural items, incidents of travel, marriages, meetings of societies, pensions, personals, produce market, new inventions, political news, railroad schedules, recipes for good eatings, poetry, scientific news, short stories, weather forecasts—nearly every letter in the alphabet represented. Here can be found reading matter suited to the degree of intellectual development of every reader. If any other subject comes to the mind of any patron of the paper that would tend to interest the reader, I have no doubt that the editor will readily supply it.

ARACRE.

The Best Prescription for Maladies
Chills and fevers, a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is simple, safe and reliable in a hundred cases. No more—J. E. Daff. Price per bottle.

NEW AND OLD FRESHLY TOLD

Items of Interest for Male and Female

Natal was annexed by the British fifty-nine years ago.

Onions are a preventive and oftentimes a cure for malarial fever.

U. S. Jackson of Boston has invented a device to secure privacy on the telephone.

The Brazilian coast city of Bahia has about 200,000 inhabitants, who live in 17,000 houses.

Since the art of abbreviation is perfected in America dealers in pineapples call 'em pines.

Lead deposits have been found in Stinking valley, Lycoming county, Pa., and will be developed.

The Netherlands rank in importance second only to Great Britain as a market for American flour.

Philadelphia now boasts a Wayfarer's lodge, where the hungry may get food in exchange for work.

Chicago city council is contemplating the establishing of nine small parks for the benefit of the "no-room-to-live" poor.

The Bulletin des Halles of Paris estimates the number of horses in the world at 74,000,000 and the number of mules and asses at 12,000,000.

A philanthropic society in Philadelphia paddles ice in the summer to the poor at a cent for several pounds and pure sterilized milk at a cent a bottle.

A church is to be erected at Aldershot, England, in memory of the Roman Catholic soldiers—mainly Irishmen—who lost their lives in South Africa.

Telephone wires have been strung through the San Gabriel forest reserve, California, for the purpose of warning the rangers of the presence of forest fires.

From the census of 1890 the United States department of agriculture estimated that we had within our borders 5,000,000 trotting bred or roadster horses.

If one were to swallow a bee or a wasp while eating fruit and the little beetle were to sting one in the throat, decidedly the best thing to do is to eat a small onion.

The Midland Counties (England) Trades federation has voiced its opinion that if works were started with the money that would in the usual way be spent in strikes there would be no strikes to spend money on.

The cereals (wheat, corn, oats, rye and barley) raised in the United States during the past five years represent a value to the farmer of $8,250,000,000, or an increase of nearly $1,000,000,000 over the preceding five years.

Intemperance in anything brings its own punishment by lessening the pleasure that thing can afford. One practical lesson appears to be this: If a favorite odor or flavor is no longer fully appreciated, it should be foregone altogether for a period.

"Mounted on jet black chargers, with snow leopard skins on their saddles, they are one of the smartest troops in India," writes a correspondent describing the Imperial Cadet corps, organized in India by Lord Curzon for the sons of native princes.

In Lisbon, Portugal, a peculiar feature of an ordinance regarding spitting in public conveyances is that the fine is to be imposed on the conductor, who is held responsible unless he can prove that he has informed the police of the infraction of the rule.

The Spanish Society of Dramatic and Musical Authors has intimated to the Spanish government that it will not allow any of its plays or dramas to be performed at Madrid unless the government grants a subsidy to the new national theater now in course of construction.

No harmful microbes were found in the air of the house of commons when it was analyzed. The fact was established, however, that the atmosphere of the chamber was too rarefied and dead. These defects, due to the methods of filtration and ventilation, are to be remedied.

The Paris Academie des Sciences is examining a remarkable theory to the effect that the key to human stature lies in the gland situated in the throat under the larynx. By artificially stimulating this gland it is claimed that any child can be made to grow to maximum height.

Boston is a shade more foreign than Chicago. It has 35.1 per cent of foreign born, while Chicago has only 24.6 per cent. But New York is more foreign than either. The percentage of foreign born is 37 per cent. These three run a close race for the lead. San Francisco comes in with 31.5 per cent.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen Foot-Pain, a powder. It cures painful, smarting, nervous feet and burning soles, and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. Try the greatest comfort discoverer of the age. Allen's Foot-Pain powder is in use about half the world. It is a certain cure for swelling, itching and hot feet, and for all the troubles of the feet. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores. Don't accept any substitute. It is made in Chicago. Price per box 25c. Allen's Foot-Pain, Le Roy, N. Y.

THEY REACH THE STEAMER ONLY TO FIND THAT A DANGEROUS PORTER HAS KILLED THEM. FIND THE CARRIERS PORTER.