WILSON'S WATERLOO KINSTON IS KING

Batted Out a Victory and Stepped Into Second Place.

The story of yesterday's game, the first league game with Wilson on the home ground, might be told in a few lines and if the distressing details were gone into it would fill several columns. It was a rough, ragged and sloppy game, marked here and there by a sharp, snappy play and remarkable throughout by the awful swatting of the home batters. One after another pretty nearly the whole Wilson team took a turn in the box, but whether they lobbed them over or tried speedy twistlers it was all one and the same to the Kinstonians and the chief occupation of the sphere was soaring skyward and riverward. It was a delight to see the pretty hitting, but the game was too one-sided to interest, especially as Kinston, having clinched the game in the first three innings, became careless and simply toyed with the visitors as a cat does with a mouse. Players and spectators had alike had enough and the slaughter was mercifully stopped in the eighth inning.

That Kinston has some crack base ball players and star artists in stickwork is beyond question. The three bright particular stars in yesterday's game were Harvey, Green and McDonald. All the wiles of the numerous opposing pitchers could not prevent these three from cracking up long hits every time they poked up their wagon tongues. McDonald is not only a skillful but lucky batter. They simply can't lose him. Harvey and Green just kill the ball. All the other Kinstonians shared well in the onslaught. On the other hand Wilson's 8 hits were gifts of the generous Green, who did not let a link during the game and held them at his mercy.

The Wilson boys stood the gall in good heart and in good nature. The game was not marred by any unseemly behavior, and all hands departed themselves like gentlemen.

There is likely to be a different story and a better game this afternoon, as Wilson's star pitcher, Sullivan, will occupy the box. Our boys can't be stepped from winning, but they will have to play ball from start to finish, so a snappy game is certain.

NEWS OF THE DIAMOND.

Yesterday's state league games resulted as follows: Charlotte 8, Raleigh 5; New Bern 4, Wilmington 0; Greensboro 8, Durham 4.

Parks team defeated Goldsboro at Goldsboro yesterday; score 15 to 8. Batteries, Parks and Newsum for Parks, Bass and Robinson for Goldsboro.

Parks team will play Kinston, second nine, and Pink Hill teams tomorrow at Seven Springs, at 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., and will play Snow Hill in LaGrange on the 11th instant. Parks has played nine games this season, winning seven.

The Kinston team will play an exhibition game at Weldon tomorrow.

There is no doubt that Kinston has the fastest team in the Eastern Carolina angle and it has the greatest percentage of home plays. Yet it is the only one that is not supported. Let's get together and give the boys some working capital and enable them to get uniforms which will be a credit to Kinston.

Judge Clark Nominated.

The total vote in the Democratic state convention will be 1,237, of which 619 will be necessary to a choice. As Wake county, where Judge Clark resides, gave him last Saturday her solid 38 votes, so his native county of Halifax on Tuesday gave him her solid 44 votes, and carried him beyond the 619 necessary, and by a singular coincidence has named him for Chief Justice. Thus, by the unanimous voice of the people who know him best—Wake and Halifax—has he been unanimously sustained, as he has been by so many other counties. In only one county, in which a vote has been taken, has he fallen short of a majority, and in nearly all the vote has been unanimous.

In the 40 counties yet to hold conventions it is confidently believed he will receive over 400 votes, making his total over 1,100 out of the 1,237. He has had no opponent, but 27 1/2 votes have been instructed for Justice and 6% for Shepherd, all in the counties which were not unanimous.—News and Observer.

Lawn Party at Hookerton.

There will be a lawn party given by the Ladies Aid Society in the Academy Grove at Hookerton on Thursday night, July 10th. The public is invited to attend. No invitations will be sent out.

MERE MEN.

E. S. Cook, a merchant of Boston, controls 400 square miles of hunting land in Maine.

Senator Hanna is planning a shooting trip to his Georgia game preserves when congress adjourns.

Dr. N. C. Morse, president of the Iowa Association of Railway Surgeons, is the heaviest physician in America, weighing 325 pounds.

Congressman Prince of Galesburg, Ill., and Congressman Lloyd of Missouri so closely resemble each other that one is frequently taken for the other.

C. K. Sober of Lewisburg, Pa., is known as the "chestnut king" because of his great and successful ventures in raising for the market an improved variety of chestnuts.

The O'Connor Don would be legitimate claimant to the Hibernal throne did it exist. He claims to be able to trace his lineage in unbroken succession to the last of the Irish kings.

Professor Virchow, the German physiologist, celebrated his eightieth birthday recently, by taking a double dose of borax to prove that its taking was a benefit to the health. He has taken a dose of borax daily for years past.

PANAMA HATS.

A supplementary way to avoid dying rich is to buy a real Panama hat.—Hartford Post.

The carved in hat is copied from the feminine hat. Next year it may be carrying feathers or birds or flowers.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The men who are wearing Panama hats this summer and who are gloating over their fellow citizens who have not "the price" will be wondering next summer how they are going to get their money's worth out of something that has been passed by the autocracy of fashion.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

HIGH PRICES.

Nearly everything has advanced in price excepting railway rates, postage stamps and newspaper subscriptions.—Burlington Hawkeye.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS.

Report of Recent Meeting in the City of Boston.

EDITOR OF THE FREE PRESS:
Knowing that some of the readers of your up-to-date paper are interested in the annual meeting of the Christian Scientists recently held in Boston, Mass., I ask space for the following:

The Boston Herald of June 16th says: "A religious gathering rarely seen anywhere in point of numbers and sustained interest throughout was the annual communion service yesterday in Mechanics hall of the members of the First Church of Christian Scientists, the mother church of Christian Science. It was announced that the membership now numbers 24,515, of whom 2,784 were admitted June 15, 1902.

"The large hall seats 5,000. Every chair was taken long before service began. It was estimated that all of a thousand more stood throughout the services, both morning and afternoon. Judge Septimus J. Hanna led the meeting.

"The communion service is a simple ceremony of silent prayer, followed by the repetition in unison of the Lord's Prayer.

The message of the pastor emeritus, Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, was read. It is printed in full in the Boston Herald of June 16.

I quote a few sentences from the message. The keynote of it all was "Love one another." "When loving we learn that 'God is love;' when mortals hate or unloving are neither Christians nor Scientists. No person can heal or reform mankind unless he is actuated by love and good will towards men. The energy that saves sinners and heals the sick is divine, and love is the principle thereof.

"It does not follow that power must mature into oppression; indeed, right is the only real potency, and the only true ambition is to serve God and to help the race. Envy is the atmosphere of hell.

"According to Holy Writ the first lie and leap into perdition began with 'Believe in Me.'

"Competition in commerce, deceit in councils, dishonor in nations, dishonesty in trusts, begin with 'Who shall be greatest?' I again repeat, follow your leader, as the follower Christ."

Prof. Herman S. Hering, who has been chosen to succeed Judge Hanna as first reader of the First Church of Christ Scientist, is the youngest son of the late Dr. Constantine Hering of Philadelphia, the founder of homeopathy in this country.

After graduating from the University of Pennsylvania, Prof. Hering took special courses in London and became professor of medicine and electrical engineering in the Philadelphia Manual training school. He held this position five years, and then was associate in electrical engineering at Johns Hopkins university for eight years.

He became interested in Christian Science about eight years ago, and in 1899 gave up his profession and since then has devoted himself entirely to Christian Science work. He was second reader of the second church in Baltimore for five years. The Boston Journal thus speaks of the proposition to raise any part of two million dollars for the extension of the mother church:—

Assembled in the largest church business meeting ever held in Boston—perhaps the largest ever held in the United States—the members of the First Church of Christ, Scientists, Boston, the mother church of the denomination, voted yesterday to raise any part of two million dollars that might be needed to build in this city a church edifice capable of seating between four and five thousand persons. This astonishing motion was passed both with unanimity and assurance. It was not even talked over, beyond two brief explanations why the building was needed. Learning that a big church was required, the money to provide it was pledged with the readiness and dispatch of an ordinary mortal passing out a nickel for car fare.

THE PANAMA CANAL ROUTE AND THE SENATORS WHO HELPED IT TO VICTORY.

The illustration shows a sectional view of the Panama Canal route which, by the recent action of the United States congress, has been at least tentatively adopted as the inter-oceanic ship waterway to be built by our government. Senators Hanna of Ohio, Spooner of Wisconsin and Jones of Arkansas are regarded as having been mainly responsible for the selection, by the upper branch of congress, of the Panama route.

"Haven't you any of Panama straw?" he asked.—Chicago Post.

Good at a Pinch.
Ethel—Would you consider Percy Monckton a good catch?
Madge—Certainly, if all the others got away!—Freck.

A Fish Story.
Who taketh from a dumskull's lips
The surest kind of equine tips
And on the looser plants his chips?
The lobster.

At poker, when the draw's complete,
Who murmurs, with a querying breath,
"How many do four aces beat?"
The lobster.

Who, when a maid, all guileless, say,
Avers she's fond of fizz frappe,
Repleth, "Creature, hence away?"
The lobster.

Who every kind of duty hates,
Yet, harassed by the adverse fates,
Grinds out bad verse at workhouse rates?
