PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON EXCEPT SUNDAY.

VOL. V .- NO. 94.

KINSTON, N. C., SATURDAY, JULY 19, 1902.

PRICE TWO CENTS

NORTH CAROLINA'S

ALL DEMOCRATS CAN STAND UPON IT

Excellent Work of Congressman Kitchin And His Conferees.

Hearty Approval for the Present State Administration and Pledges Renewed to Extend and Improve the Public School System-Will Encourage Good Roads-Senator Simmons Endorsed

"We congratulate the people of North Carolina upon the adoption of the suffrage amendment to our state constitu tion and upon the benefits that have resulted therefrom and we pledge the Democratic party to faithfully maintain it by happiness of the whole people. every legitimate me and we demand that the republicau party shall declare its purpose either to accept or reject it, and until it is accept d as a finality by all parties we declare it the duty of the white people to stand together for its

"The democratic party, representing the latelligence, the virtue and the man-bood of the people of the state, recalls with pleasure the entire absence of scandals during its administration of public affairs and the gratifying advancement that has been made amongst us in all in-dustrial lines. We have fostered agriculture and promoted manufacturing and bave given to capital full security and have protected the rights of labor. We pledge the party to a fair and just sys-tem of taxation and we demand that all subjects of taxation shall bear the just and equal proportion of the burdens of

We renew our pledges for the extension and improvement of the public school system of the state, so that it may keep pace with the needs and conditions of ourspeople, and point with pride to the great impetus and progress in this great work during the last two years and call attention to the fact that this year, for the first time in the history of the state, every school district has been able to maintain a public free school for four months as required by the constitution. We believe that the permanent prosperity of the people of this state depends largely when the constitution and maintanance. upon the construction and maintenance of good roads and we pledge the party to the hearty support of all wise meaares to that end. We heartfly commend and endorse the administration of Governor Charles B. Ayeock and other state officials for their faithful execution of the party's promises in so far as the same as been possible thus early to their terms of office. We likewise extend our appreciation and endorsament to United States Senstor F. M. Simmons and to our Demo cratic representatives in Congress and congratulate them and the people of the state for their faithful and official services to the state in councils of the nation.

We affirm our allegiance to the Democratic party and its principles as enunciated in its national platform. We denounce the policy of imperialism as inaugurated by the republican national administration and declars it to be obnoxious to our form of government and fraught with danger to the very exist-ence of the republic. We denounce as op-pressive and illegal those combinations of capital known as trusts and monope ties that stifle competition, throttle indi-vidual effort and destroy the generous spirit of rivalry that should exist in the commercial world.

We denounce the deceptive and sorry course of the republican party in Con-gress in furthering the existences of the trusts by its refusal to enact legislation training them and to enforce in good faith the existing laws against them, that party being in the full control of all just and trust creating protective tarif, imposed upon the people by the republi-um party, and demand its immediate on, to the end that all unjust bur dens shall be removed and especially upon the necessaries of life. Its provisions products to consumers at home at greater prices than are charged for the same goods to the foreign consumer. We domand, therefore, that all such trust made goods be placed on the feet list. goods be placed on the free list. We favor the establishment of the Appalachian park and urge that our senators and representatives in Congress use their best efforts to secure its establishment.

TH CAROLINA'S

We again appeal to the people with a Two Good Games of Baseball With confidence that it is only from the Dentocratic party that there can be expected an honest, capable and efficient administration of the government of the state, and point with pride to its past history in the administration of the affairs of state, and challenge a comparison with the infquities of fusion and republican rule. We promise the people of the state a continuance of that bonest, safe, conservative and economical government which has always characterised democratic rule and pledge our best efforts for the advancement of the material prosperity and Man's Strength.

The average man is at his weakest. from a muscular point of view, when he rises in the morning. His strength is greater after the midday meal.

The Moon. Everybody who has ever looked at the moon with a telescope knows that it is a wonderful world of extinct volcanoes. We have upon the earth no craters to be compared with the giants of the moon, some of which are fifty or sixty miles in diameter.

It has been shown that the cocoon of a silkworm will yield a thread 1,000 yards or three-fifths of a mile long.

Camels In Africa,
Camels flourish only in the dry parts of Africa. Some years ago a caravan of these animals was loaded with goods near Zanzibar and started for Lake Tanganyika, but not one lived to see the lake.

St. Louis.

Louis IX., the saint after whom the city of St. Louis is named, died of the plague while on a crusade in Africa.

One of the tricks of Japanese jug-giers is to put an egg on a long, slender stick, let it woll down to near the far-ther end, then raise that end and let the swaying elliptoid roll back into the Three Sided Houses Many Porte Rican houses have only three sides, one being left out to give access to the sin. Rain comes down so straight that no harm results from

Canada's Forests, It is estimated that Canadian forests will furnish wood for the pulp industry for 840 years.

A Gentle Hint.

In our style of climate, with its sudde auges of temperature,—rain, wind and nations often intermingled in a single y,—it is no wonder that our children, ends and relatives are so frequently sen from us by neglected colds, half the

TO LOSE BUT GLORY IN IT

12 INNING STRUGGLE YESTERDAY

Wilson's Team.

It Looked Like Kinston's all the Way Along up to the Fatal Eighth, then the Visitors Siruck a Streak and Tied-Listless Game in the Brolling Sun this Morn ing and Wilson Took that too.

Kinston saw one of the hardest fought pase ball battles yesterday that ever took place on the local diamond. The Kinston pontes had the ex-state leaguers representing Wilson outplayed from the beginning but luck was with the visitors at two important stages of the game and they won out in the 12th inning.

It was a hair raising game from start to fluish abounding in the sharpest kind of plays on both sides. As usual the uneven ground was responsible for some costly errors, but it was base ball all the way along and the ponies proved that neither Wilson nor Tarboro has any

We should like to go into the details of the game but they were so numerous it would make too long a story. Suffice it to say that both infield and outfield was as near perfect as the ground would allow and while we were beaten by chance there is not the shadow of a complaint to be made. The summary tells the story: WILSON.

ч		AR.	R	H. 1	PO.	A. E
d	Turner, cf	6	0	2	18	0
ă	Traegar, If		2	1	1	0
ä	Smith, 2b		2	0	6	4
ă	Reed, c		0	1	5	L
3	Wilkins, 88	6	1	2	21	200
ä	Wysham, 3b		1	1	2	9 4
8	Lattimer, 1b		0	21	5	0 ;
ě	Cassidy, rf	5	0	139	8	虚
3	Sullivan, p
3	10%。在10%的特色与对抗性的企业。	18	4		4
8	Total	u.,	411	7.5		邁
æ	A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR	ncore:	2000	over 100	8.780	SUZZIN
a	KINBTON	MH	Herra		8060	20H
ă	AND DESCRIPTION OF THE PROPERTY.	PHI.			0.	翻
1000	A.	B.		H. P	0.
S. P. S.	Hicke, c	B.		H. P 1., 21	0.	0 4
ASSAULT NAMED OF	Hicks, c	B.		H. P 1 2.1	0.	0 4 0 7 8 2
SATURDAY PRANTICES	Hicke, c	B. 6 8		H. P 2 1 0 0	0 6 6 8 1	0 4 0 7 8 8
STATE	Hicks, c	B. 6 6 5		H. P. 21 00 0	0. 4 6 (8 (0 4 0 0 3 8 0 0
Water Strategies and Strategies	Hicks, c	B. 6 6 5		H. P. 21	0. 1 6 4 1 4	0 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
MINISTER AND RESIDENCE AND RESIDENCE	Hicks, c	B. 6 6 5		H. P. 21000	0. 1 6 6 1 6 1 6	8 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
THE RESERVE OF THE PARTY OF THE	Hicks, c	B. 4. 6 6 5 6 5 6 5 6 5 6 5 6 5 6 5 6 6 6 6		H. P 2 1 0 0 2 0 0	D. 6 6 6 1 6 1 6 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	0 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
TO SHARE THE PERSON OF THE PER	Hicks, c	B. 4. 6 6 5 6 5 6 5 6 5 6 5 6 5 6 5 6 6 6 6		1 P 2 1 0 0 2 0 1	2	0 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
TO THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN TWO IS NOT THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN TWO IS NAMED IN	Hicks, c	B. 6 . 6 . 5 . 5 . 5 . 5 . 5 . 5 . 5 . 5		210000000000000000000000000000000000000	0. 1 6 6 1 6 1 6 1 6 1 6	0 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Bases stolen: Wyzne, McDonald, Wooten, Cook, Traegar, Smith (2). Two base hits: Sugge, McDonald, Wilkins, Wysham, Lattimer. Double plays: Wysham to Smith; Wysham to Smith; Wysham to Smith; to Lattimer. Bases on balls: off Sullivan 3. Struck out: by Sullivan 5; by Krause 4. Passed balls: Beed 1. Time: 2 hours. Umpires: Mr. W. S. Herbert and Mr. Lewis.

*Beed out for batting out of order.

Beaten Again This Morning.

The diamond at 10 o'clock this morn ing, when the second game was called, was white and bilstering under a scorch-ing sun. Even in the grand stand the heat was almost unbearable. Naturally a listless, sleepy game followed and players and spectators alike were glad when the agony was over. As usual Kinston got none of what little luck there e compelled to let pop fouls fall to the

J. PIERPONT MORGAN AT HIS DESK. ration shows America's greatest financier, J. Pierpont Morgan, one of the gigantic schemes that have recently aroused the a, J. P. Morgan & Co., has its main office in New York, with nd because he could not see them in sun glare. The bases were filled remitedly, but little came of it. Nobody ould run if they could help it and obody blamed them. There were no perial features about the game and the tery of it is told in the summary.

By innings: Double play: Lattimer to Smith. Um-ire Mr. E. B. Lewis, time of game 1:45.

The Eight of Privacy. appellate court of the state of York, in an opinion written by the Parker and concurred in by a grity of his collengues, passes upon assist of more than usual public cost. In defining what is vaguely tion proceeding brought by a hand some young woman of Rochester, who turing firm from paing her picture as an advertisement on flour sacks. The justice of the supreme court before whom suit was brought held that Wilson, 001000040002-7-11 s there is a right of privacy which had Kinston 04100000000-5 7 7 had been violated and granted an inthere is a right of privacy which had junction. He said a woman's heauty was her inviolate property and not public material for advertisers. The manufacturers carried the matter to the court of last resort, which has now reversed the decision of the lower court. In his opinion Justice Parker

The so called right of privacy is, as the phrase suggests, founded upon the claim that a man has the right to pass through this world, if he wills, without having his picture published, his business enterprises discussed, his successful experiments written up for the benefit of others or his eccentricities commented upon either in handbills, eirculars, catalogues, perfodulais or newspapers, and necessarily that the things which may not be written and published of him must not be spoken of him by his neighbors, whether the comment be favorable or otherwise. While most persons would much prefer to have a good likeness of themselves appear in a responsible periodical or leading newspaper rather than upon an advertising card or sheet the doctrine which the courts are asked to create for this case would apply as well to the, one publication as to the other.

other.

An examination of the authorities leads us to the conclusion that the right of privacy has not as yet found an abiding place in our jurisprudence, and as we view it the doctrine cannot now be incorporated without doing violence to settled principles of law by which the profession and the public have long been guided.

There would under this decision seem to be no remedy for people who find it annoying and distasteful to have their pictures paraded on flour sacks, cigaette boxes and other advertising plaards unless it can be shown that these opresentations are positively injuriou to them in person or estate, in which event their recourse would be through the tedious and expensive process of suits for libel and personal damage. show that they are burt in feeling there is no remedy at all and a hig bill of costs to pay. There are no doubt wons who have so exalted an idea of the "right of privacy" as to feel uggrieved whenever public mention is made of their frivologs or serious do-ings without their consent, and there s no reason why a law should be enected to mable them to demand write of injunction, though it would appear that laws could easily be enacted and person's features as that complained of by the Rocketter young woman.

From Chicago to the Gulf.

The favor with which the public has received the authorization of the isthmian waterway stimulates the hope in certain quarters that congress may be brought to a favorable consideration of the projected deep water chan-nei from Chicago to the gulf of Mexi-co. The canal fever seems now to be on, and it is not at all improbable that prior to the completion of the former work will have been begun on the lat-

This is an old project, having been discussed for more than fifty years As long ago as 1847, when Chicago was a tiny infant and the development of the northwest had scarcely begun, a barge canal from Lake Michigan to the a question of more than usual public interest. In defining what is vaguely designated as "the right of privacy." the court evers that there is no such right.

The case in question was an injunction of the Mississippi river was seriously considered. That was the seed from which the present grand scheme has grown. Chicago had this stupendous enterprise in mind when it expended $33,000,000 on a drainage canal. Ex-Congressman Lorimer in a recent speech in Chicago said: "For $25,000,000 we can connect the drainage canal with the Illinois river and through this waterway and the Mississippi river have a direct connection with the ocean. The Mississippi river valley is the richest in the world, and such a waterway would make Chicago in fifty years the financial center of the world."

Mr. Lorimer's rosy forecast of Chicago's future greatness is not altogether a dream. The building of a deep water channel to the gulf would do very much toward its realization. There are, however, powerful interests, particularly in the Atlantic seaboard cities and the carrying companies which reach them from the west, that will fight this project with intense hostility, but if the people of the Mississippi valley agree upon it they can doubtless carry it through congress.

What Annoys an Oyster.

That the New Jersey state oyster con ssion should prepare to spend thou sands of dollags in an effort to exterminate the drumfish which have been despoiling the oyster beds of Barnegat bay will doubtless appear somewhat amusing to inland folks who are uninformed as to the nature of a drumfish and his attitude toward the oyster. At once there is recalled that string of nonsense which runs, you will remember, something like this: "What kind of a noise annoys an oys

"A noisy noise annoys an oyster."
"And why is it that a noisy noise annoys an oyster?"
"Recause he's such a selfish shellfish."

Unfortunately for the pat application of this joke to the condition in Barne gat bay, it must be stated that the drumfish is not necessarily noisy; in fact, he does not drum at all. He is a of ungainty denizen of the deep, veighing from 150 to 200 pounds. The way he annoys the oyster is by eating him, shell and all, at the rate of half a hundred at a single "sitting." But the annoyance of the oyster who finds himself thus ripped untimely from his native hed is nothing to that of the Jersey oysterman who has spent much time and money to planting the said syster bed. The oyster farmer finds othing humorous in the situation. He is "mad clean through," and he is kill-ing the drumfish with dynamice as rapidly as he knows how, little reckether or not be adds to the may

TIMELY TOPICS TERSELY TREATED.

Short Local Stories, Editorial Notes.

Oh, the cruel, cruel heat!

... Now the political pot is sizzling.

... Ten minute sermons are the popular sort these days.

There is a deal more kicking in baseball than football.

When each player gets four of a kind itis certainly a great deal.

A man paid 60 cents for a small steak yesterday. My, that was tough!

Crops are fine everywhere, but notwithtanding retail prices continue high.

The very latest in slang parlance is not "up-to-date." Now it is "up-to-

If anybody inquires if it's hot enough for you it will be safe to tell him it is. A man not satisfied with 104 had bettergo to Helena, Arisona.

There is no hope of winning the tri-angle league pennant now, but we want to be amused, and we certainly have a ball team that can put up a game for us, whether they win or lose.

Smith, wishing to pour oil on the troubled waters of a somewhat bitter church controversy, said: "It is a good thing that we do not all think alike, for thing that we do not all think alike, for if we did every man would have wanted Mrs. Smith." Jones, the leader on the other side, quickly retorted:" "I agree with brother Smith that it is a good thing we don't all think alike, for if other men had thought as I did no one would have had live. Smith." At this stage the constitute of the world by the side of the stage o

Fussin' at de wor!'

En a-groanin' as yo' woes,
'Spose de devil had you

Whar dey never turn de hose?

O silver moon up in the sky, How beautiful you are! How brighter is your smiling face

Than that of any star! O silver moon up in the sky,
It gives us bitter pain
To see, with all your beauty rare,
That you are full again!

. . . TO BE AT PEACE WITH THE WORLD

Forget little annoyances.

When good comes to any one, rejoice. When any one suffers, speak a word of sympathy. Tell neither your own faults nor those of others. Have a place for everything and everything in its place. Hide your own troubles, but watch to belp others out of theirs. Never interrupt any conversation, but watch patiently your turn to speak. Look for beauty in everything, and take a cheerful view of every event.

The suggestion for an athletic club made at the base ball meeting last Saturday night is one which should be taken up by both young and old men and evolved into a reality. It would not only afford pleasure and entertainme but would be a mental and physical benefit, the results of which would last for generations. If it were an athletic club in reality it would have a gymnafum for cold weather and an out-door training ground which would comprise a hicycle and running track, baseball and tootball ground and it would foster all the sports which produce brawn and mede, and manly vigor.

The younger element would take to it easerly, and properly conducted, with tournaments now and then at which there would be competition for small rises in the various departments, would seep the interest alive and produce a nucky set of young men that would be a redit to themselves and the town.

Timely Topics hopes the suggestion will be carried out, and may be relied