The Democratic county convention will meet in Kinston at the court house at 12 m. Saturday.

Subscribers to the telephone system will please add to their list Mr. C. R. Dodson, stemmery, No. 47.

Miss Jennie A. Culver of Stockholm, N. Y., has been secured as musical director in the Rhodes Military Institute. She is highly recommended.

A force is at work on the sidewalks now. It will take several weeks though for all the walks to be cleaned of grass. Another force is needed to cut the weeds down in the streets.

The colored excursion from James City and New Bern, which was scheduled to come to Kinston and which was prevented from doing so by the prompt action of the mayor and board of aldermen and chamber of commerce passed through Kinston at noon, probably for Goldsboro.

A momentary blazing up of gasoline in The Free Press engine room when the engine were being started up at 7 o'clock this morning led to an unwarranted and unnecessary alarm of fire. There is no danger in it and the flame was quickly extinguished, even before the bell rung the alarm.

The remains of Mr. John F. Hostetter were taken this morning to Suffolk, Va., for interment. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hostetter and a committee from the Elks', consisting of Messrs. E. B. Lewis and W. D. LaRoque left with the remains. About a dozen of the Elks went to the train to pay their respects to their member departed.

In yesterday's article on the library, new subscribers should have read non-subscribers. New subscribers have as much right to borrow books as old subscribers. Non-subscribers may not take any book from the library, but may read any book there, if they remain in the library room to do so, without any charge.

Dr. James Parrott, who has made several trips in the country during the past few days, predicts a dull week in the Kinston tobacco market. He says farm labor is very scarce and the farmers are all so busily engaged pulling fodder very little curing is being done. The tobacco is coming along all right and soon the farmers will be able to give it their undivided attention and then the market will boom.

The Best Prescription for Malaria.
Chills and Fever is a bottle of Grove's Taster's Chill Tonic. It is simply iron and quinine in a pleasant form. No cure—50c. Price per bottle.

The Tobacco Board of Trade held their regular monthly meeting last night and elected one membership, that of Edwards & Fullerton. It was the regular meeting for election of officers, but that was postponed on account of Chamber of Commerce meeting at the court house until the last Monday night in August.

Messrs. W. C. Fields, Jr. and H. D. Harper, Jr., gave a mellow feast to a party of ten at the latter's office yesterday morning complimentary to Miss Eva Smith and her cousin, Misses Olive and Lizzie Smith of Suffolk, Va., who are visiting her. They all spent a pleasant hour and left voting the hosts a couple of pleasant entertainers.

Nothing doing in the matrimonial line last week in Lenoir county, which same shows that our young beaux and belles are neglecting golden opportunities to launch into a state of connubial bliss. We feel sure that this is only a temporary lull in business and hope this week will show better results, as Kinston has established a record in this branch of industry from which she must not recede.

Did you ever hear a Chinese row? Well, one occurred last week and the bystanders were treated to a lot of choice Chinese expletives which were wholly unintelligible to them except when a few Americanized cuss words, such as "damme" and "hellie" were brought into play. The Chinese laundry down the street is conducted by two celestials, and it seems that they had a misunderstanding about the business which resulted in the aforesaid row. No bones broken, nor deaths recorded.

The A. & N. C. management is preparing to give the people along the line a grand treat by taking all who wish to go to "the land of the sky." A special train will leave Morehead at 3:40 a. m., on Tuesday Aug. 19, stopping at Kinston at 6:37 and scheduled to reach Asheville at 7 p. m. Round trip tickets at all stations west of Tuscarora will cost $5 and are good to return on any train out of Asheville up to and including Aug. 22. This is a fine opportunity to see the magnificent mountain district of North Carolina at very small cost.

An impromptu dance was given at Goldsboro last night, complimentary to the visiting ladies, to which several of Kinston's devotees of the terpsichorean pastime received invitations and attended. Among the number were Miss Mamie Hines and Messrs. W. C. Fields, Jr., Harvey Hines and Frank Quinley, all of whom expressed themselves as having spent a delightful evening and are correspondingly grateful. Music was furnished by Whiteley's orchestra, a new band of musicians organized in Goldsboro, and who dispensed dreamy waltz music to the "tripping of the fantastic toe."

Mrs. Theresa Francis Chadwick died suddenly this morning at 9 o'clock at her residence on East King street, of general debility. Mrs. Chadwick had been in a feeble state of health for a long time and her dissolution, although sudden, was not much of a surprise. She leaves one son, Mr. E. W. Chadwick, and several grandchildren. Mrs. Chadwick was a Dunn before her marriage, one of the oldest families in this community. She was a sister to Mr. Wm. Dunn and Mrs. Susan Nichols, both of whom survive her, though more aged than she, who was at out 65 years old. The funeral will take place tomorrow at the old family burying ground of the Dunes at 10 o'clock. Will leave Kinston residence at 9 o'clock.

Boy Cured of Cold After Physician's Treatment had Failed.
My boy when four years old was taken with colic and cramps in his stomach. I sent for the doctor and he injected morphine, but the child kept getting worse. I then gave him half a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and in half an hour he was sleeping and soon recovered.—F. L. Wilkins, Shell Lake, Wis.
