HARPER-DAWSON MARRIAGE TODAY

BRIDAL PARTY WILL RETURN TONIGHT

Hadley-Forbes Marriage at Greenville.
Parties Well Known Here.

Dr. H. D. Harper, jr., left this morning for Conover, where he will be married this afternoon to Miss Dora Dawson. The following accompanied him: Dr. H. D. Harper, sr., Messrs. Carl and Jasper Harper, Mrs. B. W. Hatcher, all relatives of the groom, and Messrs. Hoge Irvine, W. A. Mitchell and Guy Webb.

The marriage will take place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and Dr. H. D. Harper, sr., father of the groom, will perform the ceremony. Dr. Harper has married more people possibly than any man in the State, and it is very fitting and must be much pleasure for him to officiate at his son's marriage. Mr. Carl Harper, brother of the groom, will act as best man.

After the ceremony, the bridal party will come to Kinston on tonight's A. C. L. train. A reception will then be given at the home of the groom's father to a few intimate friends.

The couple will stay at the home of the groom's father for a week or so, when they will make their home on Independent street.

Dr. Harper is one of Kinston's most popular young men. In his profession of dentistry, though a young man, he has already gained a fine reputation and there is a promising future before him. In it.

He possesses a bright intellect and engaging manners, which has made him many friends over the whole State.

The bride has relatives in Kinston, whom she has visited a number of times, and is well known here. She is one of the handsomest ladies in the State. Dr. Harper wins a lady that he can well be proud of.

The Free Press sincerely congratulates Dr. Harper and extends to them both its heartfelt best wishes.

Mr. Geo. B. W. Hadley, of LaGrange, and Miss Clara Bruce Forbes, of Greenville, were married at the home of the bride yesterday. Both these young people are nearly as well known in Kinston as at their own homes, and both have a large number of friends in Kinston.

After the marriage they left on a bridal tour. After their return they will make their home in LaGrange.

The Greenville Reflector of yesterday contains the following account of the marriage.

"This morning the Methodist church was the scene of one of the most beautiful marriages ever solemnized in Greenville—that of Mr. George B. W. Hadley, of LaGrange, to Miss Clara Bruce Forbes. The whole chancel was a mass of palms, ferns, chrysanthemums in pink and white. Over each aisle was an arch draped in tulle and smilax, and from the centre one was suspended an exquisite wedding bell of pure white chrysanthemums; over all was the soft glow of myriads of candles greatly enhancing the beauty of the scene. Promptly at 7:30 to the thrilling strains of Lohengrin's march, played by Mrs. J. B. Cherry, the bridal party preceded by the ushers, Messrs. Mark Quinerly, Hayward Dail, Joe Moye and Dr. E. A. Moye, entered in the following order: From the left aisle Miss Mamie Hines with Clarence Jones; Miss Mary Moye with Dr. Green; Miss Bessie Patrick with Robert Jeffress; from the right Miss Nannie Cox with W. E. Hooker; Miss Lizzie Jones with Emmett Wooten; Miss Elizabeth Laughinghouse with Charles Stewart Carr. The bridesmaids were handsomely gowned in white cloth, with black picture hats, and carried pink chrysanthemums. Then followed the dame of honor, Mrs. Mark Quinerly, in lawn tulle with LaFrance roses. The maid of honor, Miss Winnifred Skinner, pink cloth and apron with bridesmaids roses. The bride, beautifully attired in a going-away gown of blue and carrying a shower bouquet of brides roses, entered from the left aisle on the arm of her brother, Mr. Charles Forbes. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Kirby Sutton. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. H. M. Eare. Then the psalm of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bridal party left the church followed by the best wishes and congratulations of a host of friends. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hadley left for an extended tour north."

SCENE FROM "THE ETERNAL CITY," THE MOST SENSATIONAL PLAY OF THE SEASON.

For the first time on an American stage a play has been offered in which the leading character is a Roman Catholic pope. The lines which go with the scene here pictured are as follows:
