KINSTON FURNITURE CO.—Automatic Engine For Sale.

A set of Fairbanks wagon scales are being put in at the new brick A. & N. C. depot.

The Bank of Kinston and the City's Savings Bank will be closed Thursday, January 1st, on account of New Year's day—a legal holiday.

The State executive board of Christian Women's Board of Missions will meet Thursday evening at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. D. LaRoque.

The Winterville High School at Winterville re-opened yesterday with an increased attendance. Over a dozen young ladies and men were present from Lenoir county.

The farmers are taking advantage of the pretty weather to haul guano into the country. Many wagons can be seen almost any time of the day around the depots awaiting their turn to load.

The receipts, both passenger and freight, at the A. & N. C. depot during the past year nearly doubled those of the preceding year. Some months this fall the receipts were even more than twice as large as in the same months of the previous year. For instance, in November, 1931, the receipts for both passenger and freight were over $10,000. In the year preceding this the receipts of the same month were about $4,000.

Rev. W. E. Brown left this morning for his new work at Pantego and Belhaven. Rev. B. B. Black has been sent by the M. E. conference to the field which Mr. Brown leaves. Mr. Black is expected some time this week. The churches which Mr. Brown has been preaching to are East Kinston Chapel; Beulah, in Falling Creek township; Woodington, in Woodington township; and Zion church, near Mt. Olive. This work has been included in the Kinston station work and has been looked upon as a mission point, but now it is changed. Dover and Bethany, both in Craven county, have been added to the above named churches and an independent circuit is established, named the Dover circuit. Mr. Black is the preacher for this newly made circuit.

While a crowd of young colored boys were out gunning yesterday, Ed Dixon, a small hunchback darkey who peddles fish for Mr. G. D. Wade, at LaRoque's corner, shot Scipio Locke, another diminutive specimen of the colored race, in what Dixon claims to have been a peculiarly accidental way. Dixon claims that he was removing the shell from his gun when it went off, the whole load entering Locke's left shoulder and producing a dangerous if not fatal wound. The other boys that were along tell a different tale—that Locke had enraged Dixon by slurringly calling him a hunchback, and that he shot Locke purposely. However, Locke's wound developed so dangerously last night that the attending physician advised the arrest and holding of Dixon to await future results, which was done by Policeman Brinson this morning, and Dixon is now in jail.

Place of Business Changes.
Tomorrow, or to be more exact, the next few weeks will witness a general moving by many of Kinston's business men. Several, who will move, have not yet found a store to move in, and are in a quandary what to do.

Mr. A. S. Padrick is to move his book store, but he has not yet secured a place. The store which he vacates will be occupied by a billiard and pool room.

Jones and Willis, colored, will move their barber shop to the building which is now being erected back of Hood's drug store. This store will be occupied for the Southern Express company's office.

The Central Market, next to Mr. S. A. Quinerly's, has been sold out to Mr. Heath, of Onslow county, and has been moved to the Coleman building. This store will be used for a new grocery store.

Mr. J. F. Hill tomorrow moves his shop to the rooms back of Dr. Faulkner's office, over Quinerly's store.

Fazio's barber shop will be moved in with Weeks' barber shop. Both establishments however will be run separate.

Mr. T. R. Lee will not move out of the store he now occupies, as we announced a few weeks ago. Arrangements have been made since then for them to continue to occupy the same old stand.

CHADWICK HOUSE BANQUET

A Happy Home Affair Given by Mrs. M. E. Chadwick.
An elaborate banquet was given last night from the hours of 9:30 to 12, at the Chadwick House by the hospitable landlady, Mrs. M. E. Chadwick, to those quarter of a hundred boarders who presented her as a Christmas gift a pretty silver service. Only the regular boarders and Mr. Kleber Denmark were invited.

The room was decorated with holly and mistletoe and showed the work of an artist. The whole affair, from the speeches to the menu, was one of the most enjoyable, those present say, they ever attended in Kinston.
Mr. C. S. Chamberlain was the toastmaster and a happy one did he prove himself.

The address of welcome was made by Mr. O. Cathrell. No one had the right to welcome the banqueters more than Mr. Cathrell, for he has probably been boarding at the Chadwick House longer than any boarder there with one exception.

The response for Mrs. Chadwick to this welcome was made, as the toastmaster said, by the "silver tongued orator," Mr. W. M. Harbert. Words could hardly convey that feeling of pride and love which the landlady had for each young man present.

Mr. Frank Draughan, "the huckleberry Sampson county speaker," was next called upon to make a few remarks pertinent to this subject: "The Chadwick House Compared to Other Boarding Houses."

"The Boarders," by Mr. Fred L. Hart was happily given by the Coast Line man.
Mr. Ellis Goldstein gave the "Memories of Life at the Chadwick House." That part of a man's make-up half way between the imagination and the overstepping of truth proved itself well developed in this interesting speech.

"Our Landlady," by Mr. C. J. Pittman, was the farewell of the evening. In a few well chosen words Mr. Pittman gave the sincere appreciation and vote of thanks of the young men to their happy hostess.

The menu was as follows:
Cold Turkey Ham
Deviled Crabs Salsm
Saratoga Chips Pickles
Beaten Biscuit Sliced Tongue
Crackers
Hot Chocolate Coffee
Syllabub Cake

Don't Worry.
This is easier said than done, yet it may be of some help to consider the matter. If the cause is something over which you have no control it is obvious that worrying will not help the matter in the least. On the other hand if within your control you have only to act. When you have a cold and fear an attack of pneumonia, buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and use it judiciously and all cause for worry as to the outcome will quickly disappear. There is no danger of pneumonia when it is used. For sale by J. E. Hood, druggist.
