L. R. VARDER & T. C. WOOLLEN—Salo of Land.

Fifteen bales of cotton were sold on the Kinston market yesterday.

There will be a dance in the opera house tonight. Dancing will commence at 9:30 sharp.

There will be preaching in the East Kinston Methodist chapel Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Prof. Rhodes.

The stock broker's firm of J. E. Latham & Co. closed its doors at this place yesterday, and will not continue business here.

Mr. E. O. Moore, of Moore & Parrott, left last night for northern cities to purchase a supply of tin and iron for their increasing business.

Telephone subscribers will add to their lists the following new subscribers: E. J. Beeton, residence, 208; Miss Sue Cobb, 171; Kinston Coin and Book Exchange, 182.

At a business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society last night, Mr. Claid Ballard was elected secretary and treasurer. Miss Mary Kilpatrick is the president.

Mr. V. A. Rountree returned this morning from Morehead City with six wild ducks. He has been hunting, but we are unable to state whether or not he bagged the game.

Many men engaged in the tobacco industry in Kinston who have been spending the holidays elsewhere have returned. Others are coming back on every train now. The tobacco market will reopen on Monday, January 5th.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Maie Marcelline Orrell, of this city, to Mr. James Herbert Benton, Jr., of Raleigh, to take place at the home of Mrs. J. A. Orrell on Caswell street, Wednesday evening, Jan. 7th, 1903.

The Farmers' Life association will hold its annual meeting in Kinston on Tuesday, January 13th. Many farmers from the neighboring counties are expected to be here on that day. This order now has nearly seven hundred members.

Mr. H. W. McKlaine celebrated his 51st anniversary yesterday with a birthday dinner to which a few friends were invited. Mr. D. E. McKlaine, of Princeton, and Mrs. S. B. Parker, of Newbern, brother and sister of Mr. McKlaine, were also present.

Frank Davidson, comedian, and his well known company, will appear in Loftin's opera house, Jan. 14th, in "The Folks Up Willow Creek." This attraction brings an elaborate equipment of special scenery and other details necessary to a perfect production.

The Kinston Coin and Book Exchange will move into the store just vacated by Myers & Midyette, and owned by Mr. J. A. McDaniel. The report has gotten out that Mr. McDaniel would erect a large brick building from the Chadwick house to the mayor's office, but Mr. McDaniel says he has no intention of doing anything within the next few months.

A pretty Christmas tree filled with presents was in the Methodist Chapel in East Kinston Tuesday evening for the members of that Sunday school. This Sunday school now has one hundred and twenty members enrolled; and has an average attendance of seventy-five. Many a Sunday now the Chapel is so crowded that there is hardly any comfortable room.

Mr. J. S. Gooding, who has been visiting his brother, Mr. J. E. Gooding, of Woodington township, left this morning, returning to Willacoochee, Ga. Mr. Gooding left this county for Georgia about eight years ago, and has gotten himself in comfortable circumstances in his new home. He has not struck a gold mine or anything like that as some folks say they have when they return home. He raises the long fibre cotton called sea island cotton. Last year he received 18 1/2 cents a pound for his crop. The year previous to this he got 21 1/2 cents.

The Woodmen of the World gave a supper last night to its members, the occasion being the annual installation of officers. There was no installation exercises though on account of the non-attendance of some of the officers-elect, sickness being the cause of their absence. The supper was given at Mr. J. T. Skinner's cafe and though it did not exactly reach the dignity of a banquet, was enjoyed by those participating. This order has grown rapidly in Kinston during the past year and now numbers a good membership. The district convale will be held in Kinston in March. The district is composed of North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Arnway's Croup Syrup is pleasant to give baby, cures coughs, a cold and croup. Beware of cheap imitations. Don't risk the life of your child. Buy the genuine.

Death of Mrs. Z. V. Barrington.

Mrs. Z. V. Barrington died at her home at 93 Metcalf street early yesterday morning after five weeks sickness from typhoid fever. Although desperately ill most of the time it was hoped that with the superior medical skill and nursing she received that she would recover. Her suffering from the beginning of her sickness was intense but she bore all bravely.

Lulu Maud Taylor was born 19 years ago in Harlowe and had lived there until her marriage to Mr. Barrington about three years ago. The friends of Mr. Barrington extend their sincerest sympathy in his great bereavement.

The remains were taken to Newport last night and this morning they will be taken to Harlowe for interment in the Methodist church yard.

Accompanying the remains were the parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Taylor, and brother and sister, uncle, cousins and friends.

A Jolly Party.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Shearer gave a delightful entertainment to a few invited friends yesterday evening at her home on East street, next to Mr. John F. Wooten's. It would be hard to find an adjective that would exactly describe the affair, and so with both the expressive and suggestive meaning of the word we shall simply call the party a "jolly party." From the hours of 8 to 11 every conceivable device was used to make the entertainment delightful. Strings, seemingly half a mile long, were industriously followed out, apples were bobbed for, a tall was pinned to the mule. The mule was drawn by Mr. T. J. Kemnitz with one leg slightly bent, as if it were going to kick. The whole evening was very pleasantly enjoyed.

Those present were as follows: Miss Effie Iser and Mr. T. J. Kemnitz; Miss Fannie Moseley and Mr. Robert Tunstall; Miss Kathleen Kilpatrick and Mr. S. H. Bright; Messrs. L. O. Moseley, T. V. Moseley and Mr. S. C. Citiss.

Died.
Mr. Luby Edwards, aged 15 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Edwards, died of typhoid fever this morning at the home of his parents, in Vance township. The remains will be buried tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at his home.

Notice! Commissioners' Sale of Land

By virtue of a judgment of the Superior Court of Lenoir county, North Carolina, obtained in the case entitled D. Oettinger, A. Oettinger and S. Oettinger, trading as Oettinger Bros. vs. C. F. Dunn at the November term, 1902. We the undersigned, as the Commissioners of said Court appointed in said cause, will sell to the highest bidder on the 2nd day of February, 1903, this being the first Monday in February, 1903, the following described lands:

First lot—A lot of land in the town of Kinston, Lenoir county, North Carolina, adjoining the land of John F. Wooten and others and bounded as follows: Beginning at the intersection of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad and Bright Street and running northwardly with said Railroad to John F. Wooten's line, thence westwardly with said John F. Wooten's line to the track of the Kinston and Scotland Neck branch of the Weldon and Wilmington Railroad, thence Bright street, thence east with Bright street to the beginning, being the land conveyed by Matilda Brown to said Charles F. Dunn on the 23rd day of April 1899. All of the above described tract except the right of way granted to Wilmington & Weldon Railroad and the parcel of land conveyed to John D. Miller, by deed of March 29th, 1900.

Second lot—One certain lot conveyed by Amos Jones, Jr. to the said C. F. Dunn by the deed of May 7th, 1900, adjoining the lands of S. H. Loftin and others, and bounded as follows: Beginning at the Lucy Chapman, northwest corner on Heritage street and running 50 feet north to S. H. Loftin's line, then east to said Loftin's line, then south with said Dunn's line 50 feet with said Chapman's line to the beginning.

Third lot—One certain lot conveyed to C. F. Dunn by Wiley Lowery and wife Winnie Lowery by deed of February 8th, 1897, adjoining the land of Henry Britt, Nancy J. Speight and others, and bounded as follows, viz: Beginning at the southwest corner of Henry Britt's lot, on Shine street running north with said Henry Britt's line 105 feet to a stake in Wiley Lowery's line then west with said Lowery's line 35 feet to a stake, then south with said Lowery's and Nancy J. Speight's line 105 feet to said Shine street 35 feet to the beginning.

This 3rd day of December, 1902.
L. R. VARSAR, T. C. WOOLLEN, Commissioners.

Start the New Year

with a good time piece. There is nothing like punctuality, and you can't have it unless your watch or clock keeps correct time.

Buy a new one or have the old one repaired. There's some satisfaction in knowing the correct time of day.
