N. B. MOORE AND J. C. WAGNER.—
 Notice!

OETTINGER'S—Boys' and Children's Clothing.

Mr. H. E. Moseley received a check yesterday from the Fraternal Mystic Circle in payment of the insurance on his wife's life.

Elder L. H. Hardy, a Primitive Baptist minister will preach in the Christian church in Kinston, on Wednesday night, May 27th at 8 o'clock.

Leave cares and troubles at home, take a light heart and a full basket and enjoy one day of genuine pleasure on the excursion to Wilmington.

Mr. Claud Chamberlain sees Mr.
 Hay's corn tassel and goes him a cucumber better, from his garden. He has a lot of cucumbers in his garden.

The Farmers' Life association will meet in the court house in this place Thursday, May 28th at 11 a. m. The meeting will be an important one and each council is urged to send delegates.

Mrs. Kennedy's music class will give a public recital at the opera house Thursday evening. The doors will open at 8 o'clock and the music will begin at 8:30. A large program will be rendered. Admission 15 cents.

Dr. L. L. Nash, of Rocky Mount, came yesterday afternoon and preached in the Methodist church last night.
 Dr. Nash is a strong preacher and delivered a powerful sermon last night on "Knowing Christ Better." The sermon made a deep impression on his hearers. He will assist Rev.
 E. H. Davis this week in the protracted service at the Methodist church.

Mr. J. F. Taylor received Saturday the first of the yarn made at the Chesterfield mills, near Petersburg, Va.
 The quality of the yarn was all right and will be kept up to the standard set by the Kinston Cotton Mill, the management of which will supervise the manufactory at Petersburg. The brick kiln on the property bought by the company is in operation now, also.

The orphans will be here Friday night, May 29, and give a concert.
 Whenever the orphans come to Kinston to give their concert the public is assured of a good entertainment and this year will be no exception. The concert will be under the auspices of the local Masonic lodges and the proceeds will go to the Oxford Orphan asylum and they should have a full house.

Mr. V. A. Rountree returned this morning from Morehead City, suffering right much from a sprained ankle which he sustained while alighting from a boat on the sound a few days ago. Mr. Rountree with a company of Kinston young men was out sailing at Morehead last Sunday and in alighting from the boat his ankle was sprained, causing him a great deal of pain and inconvenience, as he has to use crutches.

Masters Ross Bailey and Sam Chadwick have constructed an "automobile" that is certainly wonderful for boys of their youthful years to build.
 It is not an electric "auto," but is propelled by a crank device that can be worked up to considerable speed. The "machine" has a box buggy body with a seat for one and has 3 wheels.
 These young boys have displayed remarkable mechanical genius before in making things of this kind.

Chief of police Simmons has a curiosity in the way of fowls. It is neither guinea chicken, nor peafowl, yet it is both, and resembles both, and being the property of the preserver of the peace, has taken its cue readily and acts as regulator of the morals of the fowl kingdom in Mr. Simmons' fowl yard. A few days ago two small chickens became engaged in an "affray" in the yard, when Mr. Guinea-Peafowl deliberately walked up and caught one of the belligerents by the top of his head and carried him to a distant part of the yard, thereby stopping the row. Now Mr. LaGrange Sentinel, will you be good?

IN YOUTHFUL SOCIETY.

The Little Folks Have a Good Time
 With Their Playmates.

The young folks of this city had charge of the social realm yesterday and, of course had a delightful time.

Little Miss Mary Spencer Johnson, five-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Johnson, entertained a dozen and a half of her little friends and playmates at her home on Independent street yesterday afternoon from 4:30 to 8:30.

Games of amusement suitable to their age were played and refreshments were served them, and all had a mighty good time.

The little hostess, whose birthday party it was, received a number of pretty little presents from her guests.

MISS JULIA PARROTT ENTERTAINS.
 Miss Julia Bizzell Parrott, thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.
 F. Parrott gave a birthday party at her home on King street last evening, from 7:30 to 10:00, to which were invited about 20 of her young friends.

A pleasant two or more hours were spent by the young folks in pursuit of pleasure, which all found in abundance.

The guests gave the hostess a number of nice birthday presents, some of which were useful and valuable.

After the round of romp and pleasure, refreshments were served, which all enjoyed very much. The party broke up about ten o'clock and all went away happy.

If you are tired, thirsty and your head is too full of work drink one or two Pepsi-Colas and you will be refreshed and feel like a new man. It is delicious. 5 cts. at all fountains.

Old papers for sale at this office; 20c per hundred.

The Princeton Outing
 "EFF-EFF"

how many coat-vest-and-trousers suits you may have this season, you really can't do without what is popularly called an "Outing Suit"; that is if you want to be really comfortable this Summer.

Our Outing Suits, one of which we herewith illustrate are made from fabrics specially designed for this purpose. These fabrics are extremely light weight, but so woven as to give excellent service, while admitting enough air to make them the coolest of Summer garments. The patterns of these fabrics are this season very beautiful and we are showing a large variety of styles from which you can choose an Outing Suit that will be becoming as well as satisfactory in other respects.
