The people between Newbern and Morehead City are very much dissatisfied at the discontinuance of the shoo fly train, especially on Sunday. They say it is a great convenience at all times and that if it was continued the business would increase. — Newbern Journal.

Moore & Parrott, of this city, have just completed the contract for slating the roof of a splendid residence for Sheriff Edwards, of Snow Hill, and closed the contract for putting in water works fixtures. The handsome building is a credit to the town of Snow Hill.

At a regular meeting of the anti-saloon league held last night it was decided to petition the city council to call an election for prohibition at their regular meeting in December next. On investigation it was found that more than a sufficient number of registered voters had signed the petition calling for said election, but for reasons, which seemed best it was decided to postpone the matter until that date. — Newbern Journal.

Mr. Jacob Parrott, who lives about 3 miles from Kinston, entered suit this morning against the A. & N. C. Railroad Company for $1,000 damages for putting his younger brother, Simon, off the train between LaGrange and Goldsboro one Saturday night some time ago when Simon claimed he had bought a ticket to Goldsboro. Simon is a minor and Mr. Jake Parrott brought suit as the next friend. The papers were made returnable before the superior court judge at the November term.

The Chrysanthemum Show

Thursday and Friday evening will be a scene of beauty and a visit to it will more than repay one for going. The floral display will exceed any ever made before in this city. Although the early frosts have injured a great many of the flowers, those raised for competing for the prizes have been protected and are very large and pretty.

E. B. Lewis Vindicated.

Baltimore special to Pittsburg Dispatch. A new hair restorer has been discovered by Robert Saylor, who has been employed since last march on the new Northern Central Railway elevator at Canton, near this city. He was noted for not having any hair upon his head, which often made him the butt of jokers.

While attending to his duties on the elevator a fellow-workman told him if he would discard his hat when the sun shone he would be assured of the return of the hirsute adornment, which had once been Mr. Saylor's pride. Without faith in the advice Mr. Saylor continued to work on the hottest days without any covering on his head, which brought him warnings of the danger of isolation.

Without telling the object of his persistent courting of the solar rays he continued to comply with the prescription until he began to realize that hair was growing on a pate that had been hairless for many years. Now Mr. Saylor can show a full suit of hair of which no man need be ashamed.

[The above restorer for exaunt omnes hirsute adornment was discovered by our fellow townsman, Mr. E. B. Lewis, and to him alone belongs the honor, and although patent has not been issued the world at large is given notice that it has been applied for and no infringement of rights will be tolerated, says Mr. Lewis.]

LENOIR S. S. CONVENTION

Held at New Hope Church Saturday and Sunday. Officers Elected For the Ensuing Year.

The association of Sunday schools for Lenoir county held their annual convention at New Hope church, Neuse township, Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday's sessions were devoted chiefly to the reports and the business of the association.

Sunday morning at the Sunday school hour Rev. B. W. Spilman spoke on the lesson and made a fine talk. At 11 o'clock Rev. P. B. Hall, of the Christian church, of this city, preached the convention sermon, and the sermon was highly complimented by those who heard it. At the conclusion of the sermon dinner was served and the good people of that section did themselves proud. It was a bounteous dinner.

Proceeding the afternoon session the Neuse association was organized with the following officers: E. O. Moore, president; Rudolph Croom, vice-president and A. A. Croom, secretary.

The following officers were elected for the Lenoir association: Y. T. Ormond, president; J. J. Rogers, vice-president; L. R. Varner, secretary; Mrs. B. W. Spilman, superintendent of the cradle roll department and Mrs. Jacob F. Parrott, superintendent of the home department.

Rev. B. W. Spilman delivered a strong address on the workings of the International Sunday school work, at 2:30 p. m.

The convention adjourned at 3:30.
