FRIDAY EVENING, Nov. 13, 1903

Some very satisfactory tobacco sales are being made. One gentleman from Onslow county sold a small load at an average of over 2 1/2 cents.

The encampment branch of I. O. O. F. will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock. All members requested to attend, as work will be done in the Patriarchal degree.

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Revs. G. N. Cowan and B. W. Spillman will hold a rally at New Hope church in the interest of the Winterville High School.

Mr. Z. Edwards wishes to thank the public for the prompt and willing help they extended him in his recent misfortunes by fire. He says he has more friends than he thought he had.

The R. M. I. is now being equipped with a steam heating outfit. The work is progressing rapidly and will be completed before many days. The work is being done by a Suffolk firm.

Follow the fortunes of the "Cuban Spy" next Wednesday night at Loftin's opera house and you will pass a delightful evening. The play is rich and racy and will be well presented by local talent.

Mr. H. E. Shaw returned this morning from a visit to his old home in Bladen, where he has been for a week or two. While there Mr. Shaw gained quite a reputation as a Nimrod, having 76 squirrels and numerous other kinds of game fall before his "unerring aim."

The will of the late John F. Wooten was probated in the clerk's office today. The will was written in 1893 and bequeaths the estate to Mr. Wooten's youngest sons, James Francis and Lloyd Kirby Wooten and names the widow, Mrs. Mary P. Wooten as executrix. She receives a life estate and dower rights in the estate.

The remains of Pastor Thomas' wife, of the A. M. E. church, were taken to Pensacola, Fla., last night for interment. Quite a large crowd, including the Household of Ruth members, a colored female society, were at the train to pay their respects. The corpse was accompanied by Pastor Thomas and Sarah Colly, a friend of the deceased.

The vagrant hunt is progressing finely. One or more of the leisure ones are forced to do the quick step to the station house every day. Many of the familiar figures that have been seen heretofore hanging out at the saloon doors are now seen there no more. It is said that they are in hiding waiting for the wave of industry to roll by.

Clerk of the superior court has had a rush today of probate business—having three wills offered for probate. One of them, the will of the late Joshua Daly, having three codicils, each with different witnesses. One of the witnesses to the will is out of the State and one in Halifax county, both of the witnesses to one codicil are dead. The probate of this will required quite a lot of work of an unusual character. The others were without any unusual circumstances.

Raleigh Council, No. 6, of the Modern Puritans, at their last regular meeting nominated Dr. Henry D. Harper, Jr., of Kinston, to represent the State of North Carolina in the meeting of the supreme council in January, 1904. The meeting will be held at Norfolk.—News and Observer. There are 13 councils of this order in the State entitled to vote, five of which have already nominated Dr. Harper to represent the State in the supreme council and a majority, or seven, will elect him.

Mr. J. F. Joyner when coming down town from his supper last night noticed something peculiar in the actions of his dog which was following him. Mr. Joyner returned home and the dog followed. When they reached the front porch the dog fell and appeared to be dead, but got up in a few minutes. Mr. Joyner watched him for a short while and being convinced that the dog was mad shot him to death. There seems to be an unusual number of reputed mad dogs in this section this fall.

Mr. Frank Hartsfield returned this morning from Caldwell, Texas, and reports a distressing state of circumstances in the cotton section of that great state resulting from the destructive boll weevil. Mr. Hartsfield says the farmers there are almost in despair about it and see no remedy as yet whereby they can get rid of the little destroyer. He says the crop conditions here are much better than in the most fertile portions of Texas because of the damage done to cotton by the boll weevil.

PERSONAL MENTION.

[Before leaving town or if you have friends visiting please notify this office for the benefit of your friends.]

Prof. L. C. Brogden left last night for Fayetteville to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the colored State normal today.

Messrs. E. L. Brooks and John G. Cox returned yesterday afternoon from Thomasville, where they have been to attend the marriage of Mr. Brooks' brother to Miss Cramer, of Thomasville.

Mr. Frank Hartsfield and daughter, Mrs. J. T. Heath, returned this morning from Caldwell, Texas, where they have been for a month attending the bedside of Mr. Geo. Hartsfield, Mr. Frank Hartsfield's son, who moved to Texas years ago from here, and who has been very low with typhoid fever. He is still very low.

He Never Finished the Game.

Gid Sharp likes to play pool and his propensity for indulging in this fascinating sport is the immediate cause of his reposing in jail. Gid was wanted by the police of the city for stealing a pair of shoes here last fall, since which time he has been non est to the police. In fact Gid has not been in evidence until last Saturday night when he returned to "haunt the scenes of former days." He kept away from the watchful eye of the officers until yesterday afternoon when his desire to "play one game" overcame his discretion and he was at the colored pool room down town in the act of making a difficult shot when his eyes beheld the blue coat and brass buttons and "Gid's" nerveless fingers dropped the cue and he went in company with Policeman Taylor to the county hotel. He has had more or less trouble in the police court here before.

Deep in Comfort

You have the average health and the average strength of a woman of your age. Yet you find yourself unduly fatigued by a day spent upon your feet. This is not a question of your condition but a question of your shoes. It is just here that I can help you.

I have built my famous "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe on an entirely new plan not shaping it from guesswork measurements on a wood last, but using the actual bones, muscles and ligaments of the foot as the last for the shoe, working entirely from X-ray photographs.

The result is the most remarkable shoe you ever dreamed of, and one which makes no day too long for its happy possessor. I can never make you realize its comfort till you try a single pair. Won't you do this today?

Sincerely yours,

Dorothy Dodd
