MR. BRYAN TALKS.

Says He Didn't Accurately Describe
New Jersey.

Burlington, N. J., Jan. 28.—"I was put in nomination twice by my party," declared William J. Bryan tonight, "only because it was known that there was no chance for my election."

Free silver's apostle spoke before an audience of 2,500 persons at the Auditorium Theatre. City and county officials were on the stage and men of national prominence were in the boxes.
Mr. Bryan spoke without manuscript on "Higher ideals and their advantages in the different phases of life." It was upon this subject that he spoke at length, merging into a scathing attack upon corruption in politics. At one time his gestures were so vehement that a button burst from his coat and flew off into the audience. During his life, he said, he had three ambitions: first, to become a farmer and raise pumpkins; and finally to be a lawyer. Then he declared that he had been put in nomination twice in succession by his party only because there was known to be no chance for his election. His ideal ambition, he said, was not to seek or attain office, but to do what he was able to make the government so good that a private citizen should be greater than a king.

Much of the latter part of his address was in line with his recent speech in New York. Upon commercialism he based all the faults of foul politics.
He told his audience that if they knew of the full extent to which corruption was carried by both parties they could not retain their seats. He feared Jersey had been contaminated by its proximity to Delaware, and he had been saddened still more to find that some of the same corruption had stepped into Pennsylvania and was working.
He said he was accused of disharmonizing the Democratic party, while the fact was that no one had been in a better position to want harmony than himself. He objected to so-called reorganization because the old platform to which the party would return, had a rotten foundation. The most plutocratic administration that the nation ever knew followed the campaign of 1898.

"When I was in New Jersey last," said he, "I made enemies by designating it as a robber's roost. Now I want to apologize for my moderation. I wish to express my regret that my imagination was not great enough to keep up with the facts."

Manila, Jan. 28.—The Japanese government is buying cattle in the Philippines.

Congratulations.

Mr. John H. Cullom, editor of the Garland, Texas, News, has written a letter of congratulation to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as follows: "Sixteen years ago when our first child was a baby he was subject to croupy spells and we would be very uneasy about him. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in 1887, and finding it such a reliable remedy for colds and croup, we have never been without it in the house since that time. We have five children and have given it to all of them with good results. One good feature of this remedy is that it is not disagreeable to take and our babies really like it. Another is that it is not dangerous, and there is no risk from giving an overdose. I congratulate you upon the success of your remedy." For sale by J. E. Hood & Co.

A SAFE BLOWN OPEN

At Winterville and $220 in Cash and Valuable Papers Taken

VAULT DOOR BLOWN THROUGH WALL

A Tramp With Hand in Sling and Two Other Strangers Did Work. People Saw it but Feared to Give Alarm.

The safe in the store of Harrington, Barber & Co., at Winterville, was blown open by safe crackers Friday morning between 1 and 2 o'clock and $220 in cash and a lot of valuable papers were taken out. Notes to the amount of one thousand dollars were found the next morning along the railroad track, thrown away by the robbers as worthless to them.

A gentleman from Ayden, who was in this city yesterday and who was financially interested in what was stolen from the safe in Winterville, stated that a tramp was seen about Ayden a few days ago with his hand in a sling and two other strangers knocking about there excited suspicion and it was thought that an effort would be made to rob the Bank of Ayden. A guard was set and precautions taken, which it is presumed scared the robbers away and they went to Winterville and cracked the safe there. The robbers went in the direction of Greenville and search is being made for them.

Friday morning when the robbery was discovered it was seen that the door to the safe had been blown entirely off the hinges and the explosion hurled it through a partition wall of the office some distance out in the store. One window was badly shattered and another was broken. The safe showed that two holes had been drilled in it and the drill was found on the floor.

An incident connected with the event that is creating some bit of talk and a lot of criticism is the fact that two persons sleeping across the street were aroused by the noise of the explosion and looking out of the window saw the robbers at work but gave no alarm nor made any effort to capture them.
They never reported the matter until 6 o'clock next morning, it is said.

A Prisoner in Her Own House.

Mrs. W. H. Layha, of 1001 Agnes Ave., Kansas City, Mo., has for several years been troubled with severe hoarseness and at times a hard cough, which she says: "Would keep me in doors for days. I was prescribed for by physicians with no noticeable results. A friend gave me part of a little of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the directions and I wish to state that after the first day I could notice a decided change for the better, and at this time after using it for two weeks, have no hesitation in saying I realize that I am entirely cured." This remedy is for sale by J. E. Hood & Co.

SALOONS IN JACKSONVILLE.

Argument Before Judge Ferguson as To Whether They Shall Continue to Run Until July 1st.

Wilmington Messenger, 29th.

Judge G. S. Ferguson heard argument last night in a case concerning the right of several saloon keepers in Jacksonville, N. C., to sell whiskey since Jacksonville voted whiskey out by large majority. The points involved are rather unique and this makes the case quite interesting.

On the 10th of last December the town of Jacksonville went dry by a large majority. There were two saloons in the town and the proprietors having already secured the right to renew their license, did so and refused to close the doors. The saloons are owned by Messrs. J. N. Bell and Geo.
N. Barbee. On the first Monday in December they went before the county commissioners of Onslow county and secured permission to get license for the ensuing six months, viz: from January 1st until July 1st. On December 10th the election was held and whiskey voted out. Just before the first of January, when the saloon license expired, the proprietors secured a new license for six months. The saloons remained open until January 21st, when Mr. F. W. Hargett, on behalf of the citizens of Jacksonville who were opposed to the saloons, brought an injunction proceeding against Messrs. J. N. Bell and Geo. N. Barbee, to restrain them from selling whiskey in the town of Jacksonville.
The case came up before Judge O. H.
Allen at Kinston and an order was issued restraining the saloons from selling intoxicating drinks until the case could be heard. The case was made returnable before Judge Ferguson in Wilmington. After remaining closed one day the order was modified allowing the saloons to remain open until the legality of the license was decided upon by Judge Ferguson.

The argument in the case was not concluded last night, but will be finished tonight, when Judge Ferguson will probably make known his decision.

Lincolnton, Jan. 29.—Berry Abernethy and Earle Seagle, of Reepsville, each aged 15, were hunting today when they jumped a rabbit and running with cooked gun, Seagle fell. His gun was discharged and the entire load entered the head of Abernethy at one ear and came out at the other, killing him instantly.

While the two children, a boy and a girl, of Sheriff J. F. Jordan were playing in a room of his home in Greensboro Thursday morning, there was an explosion of a cartridge which had been swept into the fire by a servant, and the bullet penetrated the head of the little girl, inflicting an ugly and painful flesh wound.

Dunn, Jan. 29.—Mr. W. J. Lee was found dead today in the road between Smithfield and his home near here.
His body was cut and gashed in several places. Clarence Glover accompanied him to Smithfield yesterday, where both became intoxicated before leaving together late in the afternoon.
Upon being strongly suspected Glover has been apprehended and in default of bail is now in jail at Smithfield.

Marion Fisher, Bill Deal and Joe Lowsley were killed Tuesday in the south mountain section of Burke county. According to the information received, a number of men became involved in a row, when Julius Fisher killed his uncle, Marion Fisher; York Fisher killed Deal and a man named Ed Hunt killed Joe Lowsley. Particulars regarding the affair are meager, and it is not known how the row started.

Edsall-Winthrope Stock Company at The Opera House.
The Edsall-Winthrope Stock Company, which will open a week's engagement at Loftin's opera house Monday night, February 1st, is highly recommended by the press and public. In speaking of the company the Wilmington Messenger says:
"A Wilmington audience and the Edsall-Winthrope Stock Company met for the first time at the Academy last night. Each was greatly pleased at the introduction, for the former was of giant size and very appreciative and the latter is a splendid one and gave a splendid performance. The occasion was the inauguration of a week's engagement by the company and for the inaugural number a fine performance of the English drama "Brother Against Brother," was given. There were three especially bright stars in the cast, Miss Pearl Winthrope, who charmingly played "Ned," Mr. De Loss Edsall, who gave a simply great portrayal of the role of "Lazarus," and the handsome leading man, Mr.
Edmund Barrett, who well appeared as "Harry Glyndon."

RECEIVERSHIP PERMANENT.

Messrs. N. J. Rouse, L. R. Varser and G. V. Cowper have returned from Wilmington, where they have been to appear before Judge Ferguson in the case in which a permanent receivership was asked for the Gay Lumber Company. The order making Mr. J.
W. Grainger permanent receiver was signed by Judge Ferguson.

Mr. Wm. S. Crane, of California Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did and it effected a complete cure. For sale by J. E. Hood & Co.
