JONES' ARMY ON LONG MARCH

Miss Lillian Major Announces Her Engagement to Man Who Lugs "Col." Craft's Knapsack—Suffragettes Are Game.

Nyaack, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Gen Rosalie Jones' army, on its hard scramble hike to Albany to impress the legislature with the importance of giving women the right to watch at the polls, reached Nyaack last night. The little army had not tramped ten miles against the biting wind that swept down across Yonkers and Van Cortlandt Park when the first accident happened.

The baggage automobile of Commissary General Alphonse Major broke down on Warburton avenue near Graystone. Gen. Major looked blue as the red-cheeked troopers marched past, but Miss Lillian Major his daughter, looked contented.

"There are lots of interesting things about this army," she remarked. "Now look at that young man tramping along the road there, the handsome one. He is an English engineer and is on this hike, they say, just because he's engaged to one of the young suffragettes."

Everybody looked over at Geoffrey Bare, who was carrying Col. Ida Craft's knapsack for her and wondered.

"Who's he engaged to?" some one asked.

"Me," said Miss Major, smiling down at her papa, who was trying to fix something under the car. The commissary general sat up suddenly. Finally he emerged and said:

"The reason they are calling this hike the 'hard scramble hike' is that Gen. Rosalie has picked out the west side of the river, all up hill and down mountains, and is trying to make Albany by forced marches in half the time she made it before. The troubles of this campaign have just started."

When the army left Van Cortlandt Park at 9 a. m. a crowd was present to see it off, and in the enthusiasm one young suffragette who had said she was going to walk every step of the way to Albany forgot, and when Dr. and Mrs. Logan, in their auto, offered her a lift she got in and rode a mile and a half before she remembered. Col. Craft sent her back to walk it over. She did it, and caught up at Hastings.

As the army filed past a ravine on Warburton avenue near the old Samuel Tilden estate it met a cutting wind blowing off the Tappan neck. A dozen hobos, sitting around a comfortable camp fire in their "jungle" down by the railroad came up and begged the girls to come down and get warm.

"Our fire is open to all trampers," they generously exclaimed.

Just then Frank Wuppermann, son of Mrs. George Wuppermann, of Riverview Manor at Hastings, arrived in an automobile, and on behalf of his mother invited Gen. Rosalie and all the hikers to luncheon at the big white stone house on the hill.

All hands accepted. Here it developed that Miss Rosalie Jones was tired.

Suffered with Throat Trouble.

Mr. Barnes used to be sheriff of Warren County, Tennessee. From exposure to the elements he acquired throat trouble. He supposed that his health was entirely ruined, in spite of all the treatment he could procure.

MR. B. W. D. BARNES, McMinnville, Tenn.

After using four bottles of Peruna he claims that he was entirely restored to health.

Catarrh of the throat is not only an annoying disease of itself, but it exposes the victim to many other diseases. We are constantly breathing into our throats numerous atmospheric germs. Disease germs of all sorts. This cannot be avoided. If the throat is healthy the system is protected from these poisonous germs. But if the throat is raw and punctured with numerous little ulcers, by catarrh, then the disease germs have easy access to the system.

Keep the throat well and clean. This is the way to protect yourself against contagious diseases. Gargle the throat as explained in the new "Tills of Life," sent free by the Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Barnes says: "I had throat trouble and had three doctors treating me. All failed to do me any good, and pronounced my health gone. I concluded to try Peruna, and after using four bottles can say I was entirely cured."

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell. I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good."

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together. My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century. Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.
