A BALD SUBSIDY.

It is said that sugar is the largest item of tonnage that will pass through the Panama canal. This sugar comes from the Hawaiian islands and since these islands belong to the United States trade with them must be accounted domestic commerce and therefore the subject of American coastwise trade which is confined by law exclusively to American bottoms. Foreigners cannot compete with Americans for this tonnage; and as nearly all this Hawaiian sugar is consigned either to New York or Philadelphia refineries it comprises a very important carrying trade.

The production of the islands is some 600,000 tons a year by far the larger part of which is carried by ship from Hawaii to the Isthmus of Tehautepec, carried over the isthmus by rail and then reshipped to the Atlantic Coast destination. The steamship company that carries the sugar controls the water borne commerce between New York and San Francisco. It has practically a complete monopoly of the traffic. It is protected against foreign competition by our coasting laws. It charges the highest ocean rates in the world, only a little lower than the trans-continental rail rate and twice as much as foreign lines ask from New York to Yokohama, Australian or Buenos Ayres. It is the only considerable fleet of American vessels in existence that is in the field, organized, with an established business, bidding for this trade and standing ready to accept any special favors that congress may hand out.

Should congress refuse to repeal the toll exemption clause this "sugar line" would enjoy a very handsome subsidy. At present the line pays the Tehautepec railroad for a short rail shipment considerably more than it would have to spend by paying Panama canal tolls. If it were relieved of the necessity of paying tolls and by the people of the United States presented with a free waterway across Panama it would simply pocket the saving and enlarge its carrying trade probably without even so much as saying "thank you" for the favor. Neither the sugar planter of Hawaii nor the sugar consumer of the United States would ever experience any benefit from the rake-off given the sugar line.

Our laws give our ships a monopoly in this carrying business. Providence has provided them with an open waterway for most of the trip, and thus the means of the cheapest traffic known. That ought to be enough "encouragement." And when Uncle Sam spends his millions in order to lower their expenses and give them an all-water-way they should at least be compelled to pay a toll which would amount to something like a partial return on the money spent by the public treasury. And yet there are men in congress, who will stand for this subsidy—men who are supposed to froth at the mouth every time they hear the word "subsidy" in connection with legislation!

Suppose the United States government had not cut the Panama canal but were to have constructed a rail route instead of a water route across the isthmus and given free to coasters not only rail service but maintenance and the handling of the shipping involved in trans-shipment, what would the people of the United States, the people who pay the bills say about it? What would those rampant anti-subsidists (?) in congress say about it? In that event the fraud would be too palpable to escape public censure. But the principle is the same whether the United States treasury furnishes a free water way or a free railway. It is a subsidy of a most pronounced type. And what is more it is an inexcusable subsidy.

And Dr. McBrayer has landed. After April 1st he will be in charge of the sanatorium at Montrose and have direction of the state bureau of tuberculosis. This is a very important position and in it the doctor will have a chance to do an exceedingly great service for the state in the war against dread tuberculosis. There are some ten or twelve thousand citizens of our state who are suffering from consumption each year and Dr. McBrayer will find here an inviting field for the best effort of which he is capable.

JUDGE OLIVER H. ALLEN

 "If this law is carried into effect and houses of correction are established at certain important points in the state with arrangements for neighboring counties to have the benefits of them by contributing proportionately to the expense and with certain amendments to the statute so as to embrace more crimes than is now provided for, I believe that would have all that is now needed."
 "There is not only a necessity for provision for the youthful criminal, but for the female and the defective and afflicted offender, and a house of correction would answer for all these."
 "Take the case of a cripple for selling liquor unlawfully (running a blind tiger) or a 14-year-old boy for gambling or carrying a concealed weapon or a woman for keeping a bawdy house and what can be done with them? These and the like are cases of constant occurrence. They couldn't pay a fine if that was suitable punishment. To put them in jail a long time is injurious to health and expensive. A short term is a license to continue in crime."
 "A house of correction is the best and most humane remedy for all such offender, and for even much more aggravated criminals when they belong to the classes named."
 "With these institutions distributed over the state there would be every opportunity for those who wish to contribute to the aid and reformation of the young and unfortunate in crime."
 "A much longer term could be imposed if we had these houses of correction than is now often advisable, because the statute already provides that the committing power can release a prisoner for good reasons upon the recommendation of the directors and if to this provision were added the parallel feature we would have the best method of punishment to the science of penology."—Charlotte Observer.

If the world paid more attention to re-education there would be less destitution.

Yell Defiance at Blood Disorders

A Remedy That Has Shown a Most Remarkable Purifying Effect.

At Last You Can Get Rid of Blood Troubles—S. S. S.

The word Medicine is one of the most abused in our language. There are certain medicinal properties just as necessary to health as the food we eat. Take, for example, the well-known medicine S. S. S. This famous blood purifier contains medicinal components just as vital and essential to healthy blood as the elements of wheat, oat, and corn, and the sugars that make up our daily ration. As a matter of fact, there is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming rheumatism, Catarrh of the Stomach and Intestines, skin eruptions and all blood troubles. Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and in a few days you will not only feel bright and energetic, but you will be the picture of new life. S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 219 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who maintain a very efficient medical department where all who have any blood disorder of a stubborn nature may consult freely. S. S. S. is sold everywhere by drug stores, department and general stores. Don't permit anyone to sell you a substitute. Insist upon S. S. S.

DOWNWARD COURSE

Fast Being Realizing by Kinston People.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak. Urinary disorders may quickly follow.

Dropsy and often Bright's disease. This frequently is the downward course of kidney ills. Don't take this course. Kinston residents should profit by the following experience.

Mrs. L. Cameron, Leon, N. C., says: "A dull, nagging backache, accompanied by sharp twinges through my loins, bothered me for a considerable length of time. I could hardly stoop or lift and was unable to get my proper rest. I had no energy or ambition and was caused additional annoyance by the kidney secretions. Having Doan's Kidney Pills recommended to me, I got a box. After taking them my back stopped aching and the trouble with the kidney secretions left. Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly a reliable kidney remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. (adv)

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Patron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.
