WILMINGTON KIDLETS ARE AHEAD OF THE WAR

The Einstein brothers, Kinstonians, who are now in the wholesale business at Wilmington, have just received from Germany the largest consignment of toys ever purchased by a concern in the Carolinas, says a Wilmington paper. There were 200 cases of gaudy Noah's arks, iron horses, little woolly dogs and hundreds of other kinds. The shipment was sent out just about the beginning of hostilities, and had to run the gauntlet of British men-of-war on the high seas. There will be a toy famine in America this Christmas, because Germany, the principal producing country, will be blockaded effectually until the war is over. Wilmington kids certainly have nothing to fear in that line.

WHICH FOOT DOES THE SHOE FIT, ANYHOW?

A negro teacher in one of the rural schools of the county, who is not in attendance upon the institute now being held in the Shine-Street colored school, wrote Supt. Joseph Kinsey that other affairs were responsible for his having "missed" the opening. This flagrant misspelling of "missed" would probably have cost him his job if he wasn't such a good disciplinarian. He knows how to handle the other negroes of his neighborhood, and his school is well conducted, the superintendent says. Mr. Kinsey compares this poor speller, who is a competent master with a veteran who applied for a job as teacher. He missed every word to be spelled in the examination, and the examiner called a halt. "Hey, you won't do," the old soldier was told, "you can't spell." "Why, that's all right, sonny," said the vet; "I won't have to spell. I'll just take the book and make those youngsters do the spelling."

WOMEN'S CLOTHES ARE OF MILITARY EFFECT

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 20.—"Military in mode and tone," is the dictum of Cleveland manufacturers for fall and winter styles in ladies' cloaks and suits. No longer will milady appear in the sheer blousy waist and peg top skirt. Present styles in coats and jackets are doomed, for war mad Paris has decreed that ladies' wear must be military. Skirts will be plain, and only straight lines will be tolerated. Jackets and coats will also be plain and button close about the throat. Low, or "V" necked waists, too, will be replaced by stiff military collars and cuffs to match. Milady's walk and carriage must conform strictly with her new mode in dress. A long and straight step and stiff carriage of the body will be the only mode approaching good form. Meanwhile buyers and other people who lay down the law of dress are marooned in Paris, becoming fully imbued with the military spirit. They will be back with their trunks of samples. With them will come the "military."

SUFFRAGISTS INFESTING FORMER DIVORCE CENTER

Reno, Nev., Aug. 20.—This former seat of divorce activity is now one of the hottest suffrage spots in the West. With the Nevada Equal Suffrage League working hard for the women's rights amendment to be voted on in November, and the Nevada Association Opposed to Equal Suffrage striving with equal energy to defeat it, the "votes for women" issue is becoming overshadowingly important in the present State campaign.

PUPILS TO BE SEGREGATED IN THE SEATTLE SCHOOLS

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 20.—Educators today began work on the plan adopted by the city school board to segregate the boys and girls in the Broadway high school at the beginning of the fall semester. It will be the first time the experiment has been tried in Seattle. School officials deny that moral questions had anything to do with the adoption of the plan. Students whose parents oppose the separate class-room idea will have the privilege of attending any other high school in the city.

Not only is it planned to segregate the boys and girls, but Superintendent of Schools Cooper will assign, as far as possible, men teachers for the boys' classes. "Because of intellectual and temperamental differences in sexes," said Superintendent Cooper today, it is thought that each works more effectively in separate classes, and that they enjoy such separation.

WASHINGTON EXPECTS FIGHT BILL TO PASS

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 20.—It seemed assured today that a bill providing for a State boxing commission will be introduced in the State Legislature at its next session in January, 1915. MR. GILBERT TELLS OF CANAL'S WONDERS

Kinston Man Who Has Been in Canal Zone for Eight Years. Says Big Ditch Is Interesting.

James J. Gilbert, assistant director of post on the Panama Canal Zone, who is on a visit here, says the big ditch is already a paying investment, although it will not actually make operating expenses under four or five years.

"The canal pays by doubling the efficiency of our fleet," says Mr. Gilbert. "Now men-of-war may make the trip to San Francisco from the canal in six or seven days, while before the work was finished it would take as many weeks." The concentration of a big fleet at Colon or Panama will make the force available for service in either ocean.

Mr. Gilbert is a native of this section, and was at one time assistant postmaster of Kinston. He is now second in charge of the postal service of the zone under Colonel Goethal's government. The canal zone postoffice department is separate from that of the United States, although patterned after and supplying its clerical force under the same civil service rules. He is stationed at Ancon, the government-built town, in which the population is about 6,000, and the death rate is almost zero.

Even to a resident of eight years the canal is wonderful. Mr. Gilbert says the fortifications at the ends of the canal are among the biggest in the world. The utmost secrecy is maintained in their construction, and not a dozen people of the 35,000 on the zone have ever been through all of them, passes only permitting one to see such portions of the work as the officers in charge are willing for curious eyes to observe.

It requires about eight hours to go through the canal. Its adequacy is apparent, and a big fleet of vessels may be moved through it in twenty-four hours' time. Inside of five years, authorities estimate, the canal will pay working expenses, and in about two decades will pay interest of one per cent and a half per cent, taking into consideration the average increase of traffic.

Constipation in Summer time is more dangerous than in the fall, winter or spring. The food you eat is often contaminated and is more likely to ferment in your stomach. Then you are apt to drink much cold water during the hot weather thus injuring your stomach. Colic, Fever, Promaine Poisoning and other ills are natural results. Po-Do-Lax will keep you well, as it increases the Bile, the natural excretive, which aids the bowels of the congested poisonous waste. Po-Do-Lax will make you feel better. Pleasant and effective. Take a dose tonight. 50c at your druggist.
