Mr. Bennie Bloom of Bayonne, N. J., is here on a visit with relatives.

Mr. B. J. Thompson of Winston-Salem is a Kinston visitor today.

Mrs. K. T. Bullard of Martin county, is visiting friends in the city.

Miss Katherine Stadiem of Greensboro, is here on a visit to relatives.

Miss Neva Padrick has returned after spending a pleasant week at the seashore.

Misses Pauline Barfield and Sadie Ross of Durham, who have been the guests of Mrs. Ray Cason for a few days, returned home this morning.

Miss Julia B. Hooker entertained Monday night at her home in Hookerton in honor of Miss Gertrude Jones of Kinston, and other guests.

Mrs. W. A. Pierce and little daughter, Miss Martha, who have been visiting Mrs. D. T. Edwards at Savannah, returned to their home in Weldon this morning.

MRS. FRANK HASKINS DEAD.

Mrs. Kate Haskins, wife of Mr. Frank M. Haskins, died Thursday afternoon, at her home on East Caswell street, as the result of a stroke of paralysis suffered several years ago. She was sixty-five years of age, and well known throughout the city.

Mrs. Haskins was a woman of estimable character and a devout Christian. She was a Miss Casper of Jones county before marriage, and was extensively connected in that section.

Sons and daughters surviving are Mr. Art Haskins of Enid, Okla.; Messrs. Emmett, Oscar, Marion and Archie Haskins, all of this county, and Mrs. Augustus Moseley of near Airy Grove.

JAMES RINGGOLD DEAD.

New Bern, Aug. 22.—James Ringgold, aged seventy-two years, died in Fairview Hospital here, and was buried at Beach Grove today. Mr. Ringgold succumbed to injuries received when thrown out of a buggy that was struck by an automobile several weeks ago. The collision was declared to be an accident. James Baughman, a wealthy youth of Washington, drove the machine. Mr. Ringgold was a prominent citizen of the Beach Grove neighborhood.

ACCUSED BY STEPDAUGHTER.

Salisbury, Aug. 21.—James S. Hartsell, a farmer of the Woodleaf section, and about forty-five years of age, was bound to Superior Court from the County Court on the charge on his step-daughter, Ethel Horah, who is probably sixteen years old. According to the girl's story, the man's criminal relations with her began about five years ago, but fear of him prevented her telling her mother until recently, when a physician was called to her.

FINANCIAL SITUATION SHOWS IMPROVEMENT.

New York, Aug. 22.—Except for the Stock Exchange and the foreign exchange situation, where the deadlock remains unbroken, there is increasing evidence that the domestic financial situation is moving into smoother waters.

Financial institutions throughout the country are releasing funds with more freedom than was deemed possible a week ago and the mercantile world is heartened by a broader inquiry from commercial paper. In the money market today some loans were renewed at 6 per cent., but the prevailing rate was nearer 7 per cent.

Infection and Insect Bites Dangerous.

Mosquitoes, flies and other insects, which breed quickly in garbage pails, ponds of stagnant water, barns, musty places, etc., are carriers of disease. Every time they bite you, they inject poison into your system from which some dread disease may result. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. It is antiseptic and a few drops will neutralize the infection caused by insect bites of rusty nails. Sloan's Liniment disinfects Cuts, Bruises and Sores. You cannot afford to be without it in your home. Money back if not satisfied. Only 25c. at your Druggist.

BIG DOCKET AWAITS JUDGE FRANK DANIELS

Superior Court will be convened here Monday with one of the largest dockets in the history of Lenoir county. There are 220 cases. This number has been surpassed at only one previous term of the court, when there were 240 cases docketed. The term being formerly one week, it is not expected that the docket will be cleared, especially as there are a number of intricate cases, which include bigamy, abandonment, seduction, etc., that will take considerable time to try. Annie McGee, for murder, and John Perry, for first degree burglary, will be capital defendants. Judge Frank Daniels, brother to the Secretary of the Navy, will preside.

PICKANINNY IN TOILS FOR VARIOUS CRIMES.

Johnny Brown, about ten years of age, and so diminutive that if he starts on a job within his profession he can slip through a hole made by the removal of a single pane of glass, is in the county jail here because the authorities don't know what else to do with him, and his father has asked that he be confined. Johnny is the most adroit thief the colored race in Kinston has ever produced, the police say. They allege that he has stolen $200 worth of goods in a few months' time, including three bicycles. He entered a colored hotel, a grocery, a drug store, the Kinston Iron and Mantel Works' plant and other places. Charles Dunn, the negro banker and business man, was the accuser of the little burglar in police court. Johnny Brown's shrewdness availed him little, although he made an assertion which surprised the court, that the colored financier had it "in for him," and was prosecuting him to "get him out of the way." Judge Daniels in Superior Court, will be asked to have the little criminal committed to a reformatory.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are I can help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day night.

5 or 6 doses of 60¢ will break any case of Fever or Chills. Price, 25 cents. (Adv.)

WAR EXCITEMENT IN AUSTRIAN CAPITAL

BOON TO THE SMALL BOY

Sleepless Cars in New York Enable Him to Procure Numerous Free Rides.

No matter what else can be said in regard to the new sleepless cars now in operation on Broadway, they are certainly a boon to the small boy who depends on riding free, says the New York Times.

The advent of the pay-as-you-enter car and the success of the idea of placing a tin guard over the rear bumper, thus frustrating the efforts of those bent on obtaining free rides by sitting on the bumper, have done much to obviate all chances of riding on surface cars without paying the necessary nickel. The small boy, as usual, suffered most from those inventions.

It goes without saying that it was not an intentional act on the part of the company providing means for the small boy to ride free.

The boy waits for a crowded car at a corner where he notices some one else waiting. When that person crowds into the car the boy follows, unknown to the conductor. The boy makes sure to hide himself behind the form of an adult. The conductor on his eye fails to notice the boy, and after the car has run on for a number of blocks the conductor cannot be positive the boy failed to deposit his nickel in the box.

AIR AFFECTED BY SOUND

Ventilation and Acoustics of Public Places Seem General Matter of Controversy.

The effect of ventilation on the acoustics of public halls has been a subject of investigation. Architects have found that currents or layers of air of different density interfere seriously with the passage of sound, but that a mass of moving air—if homogeneous—may have little influence. Heaters in front of the stage give especial trouble.

A book by C. Garnier mentions a new Paris theater in which air is admitted near the footlights, forming a kind of curtain between actors and spectators, and much interference results, the sound from the stage being weak, while that from the orchestra is intense.

In another theater with ventilation by heated air passed across the stage into the auditorium there was improvement in the acoustic qualities when the ventilating apparatus was working.

Another inquirer concludes that ventilation can have only slight influence in improving acoustics, that parallel layers of air may be particularly harmful, and that a single column of uniformly heated ascending air will affect sound very slightly.

By the Professor.

Professor Jones and Mrs. Jones were both of the type colloquially known as strawberry blonds. In accordance with the immemorial custom of professors' families on small salaries at this particular southern college, the Jones family grew apace. Mary, the first, was born, and her hair came perilously near to being cerise. The twins lost to Mary in respect of red hair by just a shade. Johnny, the next, bade fair at three months to make Mary seem a neutral color. Now, Mrs. Jones longed for just one black-haired one. When the learned professor of ology from the scientific department dropped in for supper, Mrs. Jones almost tearfully propounded to him a question.

"O, doctor," she asked, "do you think it must always be hereditary?" The doctor looked from the aureoles of Professor and Mrs. Jones to the successive four alarms of fire-red hair on the little Joneses.

"Not so much that," he assured her at last, "as redhereditary."

Putting Them "In Right"

A Canadian who had been on a pleasure jaunt to New York tells of an incident of Gotham's amusement life. He went to the Carnegie lyceum. It's a big place with several different entertainments going on at the same time in various parts of the building. On this particular day they had moving pictures of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" on the ground floor and an orchestra concert upstairs. High-brow music-lovers and patrons of the movies would have got all mixed up in looking for their respective places of entertainment if it had not been for a big-voiced negro porter who stood at the stairs to announce in stentorian tones: "Dis way to de Symphony concert. Less Miserubble downstairs."

A CONFESSION

Hopes Her Statement, Made Public, will Help Other Women.

Hines, Ala.—"I must confess," says Mrs. Eula Mae Reid, of this place, "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good."

Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously.

Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight."

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer.

For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year. Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the womanly constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength.

Cardui has helped others, and will help you, too. Get a bottle today. You won't regret it. Your druggist sells it.
