SERIOUS AFFRAY IN THE MULATTO COLONY

Arnold Mills is at the point of death and Pinkney Grant, who shot him, is a fugitive in Greene county, according to a report today from Brownsville. The men are residents of the notorious mulatto colony at Brownsville, and Grant bears a bad reputation.

The men had been enemies for some time. Mills had previously suffered injury at the hands of Grant. A man who sought to elope with Mills' sister was aided by Grant, who set out to secure the niece. Mills intercepted him, and was assailed by the other with a bludgeon and severely beaten.

The direct cause of the recent difficulty is not known. Mills was shot in the left breast, a pistol bullet lodging dangerously near the heart.

Hook and Eye.

The scene was a teachers' training college; the class one of girls; the lecturer on phonetics a gentleman with a nice taste in sarcasm. "This sound," he said, "has for symbol something even you can all remember—a dressmaker's hook; just the ordinary thing you are all familiar with." As he spoke, says the Manchester Guardian, he drew the symbol in chalk on the board, and the worried pupils all laughed. Even they—to borrow the professor's remark—knew that the "hook" depicted was an "eye."

LINCOLN CITY IS SCENE OF MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

Three policemen who were called to Lincoln City, a colored suburb, near Southeast Kinston, at 1:30 o'clock, Sunday morning, ran into what at first sight, seemed to be a riot. Fifty negroes, most of them armed, were extremely active. The officers burst into the mob to find that the law and order element of Lincoln City had been called out to apprehend a peeping Tom who had lurked in the village, probably with a view to burglary.

A corn field on one edge of the suburb had been surrounded by the excited residents, and the man was thought to have been panned in. The officers beat up the corn field in a vain effort to find him, but a sentry discovered him in another locality, and the scene of operations was shifted. The pursued was too alert to be captured, and escaped with a fusillade of shots following him. No entry had been effected, but watchers had seen the stranger acting suspiciously at several houses.

No Danger of Competition.

In L'Esprit des Français is an instance of the sharp, biting wit for which Alexis Piron the French ap-grammatist was famous.

A young author whose ability was by no means equal to his conceit was discoursing at length upon the merits of his work.

"I am tired of writing of that which others write of," he said. "I want to create an original work, something that no one has ever written about or ever will write about."

Piron turned quickly to the speaker. "Why not write your own eulogy?" he said.—Youth's Companion.

Puts Airships in Prayers.

Under the orders of Emperor William, as the head of the Lutheran church, and with the consent of the Lutheran synod, the general prayer, which is said weekly in all Lutheran churches, now asks the protection of God for the aerial service as well as for the army and navy. The sentence, as amended, reads:

"Protect the king's army and the entire German war forces on land and sea, and particularly the ships and airships while on their journeys."

As You Like It.

Jimmy, who was no highbrow, had gone all alone to see one of those outdoor performances of Shakespeare. He was telling his elders about it.

"Some class to Shakespeare," said Jimmy. "The show was fine."

"But what show was it?" asked Jimmy's big sister.

"Let Ev'body Do to Suit Himself," replied Jimmy.

FENCES TO ELIMINATE "MASHING" AT MOVIES.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Now comes the "movie masher" and the problem of getting rid of him. "It's easy," says Mrs. S. A. Gregg, prominent Cleveland clubwoman. "We'll segregate the sexes."

To accomplish this end, Mrs. Gregg has taken the matter up with the Cleveland Mothers' Congress, of which she is a member. If this body acts favorably, city officials will be asked to frame an ordinance which will put a fence in movie houses between unaccompanied women. Escort women only would thus be allowed to talk to the men in the dim light.

FLOOR OF LAKE ERIE BEING SWEEPED TODAY.

Conneaut, Ohio, Aug. 24.—The floor of Lake Erie today is being swept with huge electrical magnets in an effort to recover the huge car ferry Marquette and Bessemer No. 2, which went down on Conneaut harbor during a terrible storm on the night of December 9, 1909. The ferry carried a cargo of coal valued at $35,000, and a crew of thirty men, all of whom were lost.

The work has been undertaken by a syndicate of business men from Windsor, Ont., who have taken a six-months' option on the boat and cargo and expect to realize handsomely if she is recovered. E. L. White, an electrical engineer of St. Thomas will direct the search from the large yacht Berthie, which has been equipped with special apparatus for the work.

EAST MEETS WEST IN POLA MATCH.

Denver, Aug. 24.—The West now has a chance to make good its boast that it can produce players at least equal to the four which lost the international cup to the British challengers this summer. For the first time in the history of polo in this region, a tournament began at the Denver Country Club field today, in which crack players from the East and West will meet. These include Joshua Crane of Boston, Foxhall Keene of Meadowbrook, the Veiles, father and son of Kansas City, and Major Colin Rose and Walter Dupree of Coronado, Cal. Teams from Glenwood Springs, Colorado Springs, Kansas City, Denver, Sheridan, Wyo., Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, and Fort Riley are entered. Cops worth $10,000 have been offered.
