Friday Evening, Sept. 25, 1914.

A ten-year sentence for a coldblooded premeditated murder is rather light, but that is the finding in the case of the unfaithful wife and homewrecking brother over at Williamston.

There is some encouragement in the matter of enforcing the anti-spitting law . A city authority reports that he actually saw a man walk to the edge of the sidewalk and expectorate in the gutter.

It is funny after you find yoursel? and get back home, but those who have been lost in the woods, and have had to spend the night, can sympathize with Kinston's sportsmen, who recently lost their way in the brambles a few miles from the city.

Nine miles of trenches filled with dead and dying as the result of one day's carnage. Can a civilized man, who has not actually gazed on sucz. a terrible scene, have any conception of what it is? And still the countries fighting are civilized and accredited Christian nations.

Secretary McAdoo says the banks have it in their power to relieve the situation, and he promises to endeavor to see if it is not possible to make them loosen up. Mr. McAdoo is the peoples' friend, and there has been no hint that he was a tool of the Wall Street or financial clique, since he has been a member of the cabinet.

The crowded condition of Kinston's city schools is a most encouraging indication, but a very vexing problem for the school authorities. When the new buildings are completed the congestion for this season, at least, can be taken care of, but it appears that more room will have to be provided for next year if the growth is as pronounced then as it has been since last

Virginia has been very liberal with the liquor forces in the matter of time to dispose of their goods. Two years it would appear is an unreasonable delay in putting into effect laws, which are manifestly so desirable to the larger part of the citizens of the commonwealth. The antis should not be allowed to lose sight of the tremendous vote against liquor in the interim of two years, for they'll be trying to ring in the "time worn" excuse that public sentiment is not in favor of a strict enforcement of the laws, etc.

There is some chance for Villa to be appeased without the necessity of further bloodshed, and every effort is being made to accomplish this much desired end. This paper has conteded all the time that no factional leader will ever be able to sit on the lid of Mexico successfully. A man who has not been a recognized leader of any of the many factions will have to be found to do the work before any permanent peace can be looked for.

If the diplomats of the several belligerents, who have been sent to Am erica and other neutral countries to protest at the alleged atrocities of their enemies would enlarge the scope of their protests and include the whole business, every man that has been killed and every hardship endured, they would not be exceeding the limit of civilization even if the rules of international warfare countenance some of the outrages. The whole affair is a terrible blot on a civilized world.

CURTAILING TEAIN SERVICE

It is sumored in Kinston that the management of the Norfolk Southern has decided to take off out of the tenins new running from Goldsborn KINSTON BAPTISTS ARE RIGHT to New Bern. The train leaving Kin- Charity and Children: "Kinston is points in the north and west, and the night train arriving here at 11:15 p. m., and which is one of the connecting trains from the north and west, are the ones to be cut off, it is said. The Chamber of Commerce of Kinston has already taken steps to get he railroad officials to reconsider, if their order has gone forth, and it is understood that the Chambers of New Berne and Goldsboro are doing the same. There should be no curta ::ment of passenger service in this section. The connections afforded people, living along the Norfolk Southern, who desire to go north or west, are not now any too convenient. There is a long wait in Goldsboro, coming and going, for most of the travelers and the two trains, which it is thought are to come off, at present furnish about the closest connections, both ways, that we enjoy. These trains, as a rule, are fairly well patronized, and it is to be hoped that the rumor is without foundation. The railroads, like all other businesses, are affected by the war depression, but the train service of a community should not be curtailed if there is any posstbility to avoid it. Let the business men of Kinston, La Grange and other points along the line take immediate steps to enter protests and ask the railroad to give a little more time to consider the matter. The report abroad is that the curtailment is to go into effect Sunday, and if such is the case, some telegraphing will have

WHAT OTHERS SAY

VERY GOOD FOR THE GOOD

Greensboro News: "The Virginta vote gives additional point to Savoyard's quotation from General Butler; This is a d-d bad year for the wick-

THE COMMONER'S ATTITUDE EXPLAINED

Charlotte Observer: "Mrs. W. J. Bryan has formally announced that she is an advocate of woman suffrage. And that is what has been at the back of the Colonel."

FORWARD, MARCH

Greensboro Record: "Virginia went dry yesterday. The next stop is Washington, the capital of the nation. It may be a few years before this is accomplished, but it is coming and shrewd observers, residents of Washington, realize it."

RUSSIANS COMMENDED

Durham Sun: "It must be said of the Russians that in the many cities they have bombarded and captured that they have spared life and property as far as possible. The armistice that was allowed at Prezemysi was in marked contrast to the way cities in Belgium and France were treat-

WE WOULDN'T CHANGE THE CUSTOM

Wilmington Star: "A girl will come down town and look out for pedestrians, but if her beau is with her she expects him to help her to step up on the curbing without the least possibility of danger in climbing over an obstacle about five inches high. There are times when she expects to be looked after. There are other times when she doesn't have to be looked after.'

ARE THEY 5c PER APPLE

Henderson Gold Leaf: "According to the esteemed Charlotte Observer, the "buy a barrel of apples" movement has been started in Western North Carolina. "What's good for the surplus of the cotton farmer," says the Observer, "ought to be good for the surplus of the apple raiser." And so it ought. But from the buyer's standpoint, there is a difference. The cotton will keep and the apples won't, especially if the buyer happens to have a few youngsters about the

ENFORCING THE LAW

Raleigh Times: "The voters of Virginia having determined that liquo: shall not be sold legally in that State, must now see to it that the law is en-forced. They have won a great par-tle, but it is only one of many that must be waged, and public sentiment must be behind the officers in order to make the cause triumph as should. We cannot believe that Vis ginians will forget their struggles soon; they must not forget that the law is yet to be enforced. North Carolina is glad that her neighbor to the north has joined her in a good cause. New lat the good work go on in other tsates."

where connections are made for all ed in on the brethres the other day, and found the splendid $50,000 Baptist temple well on the way. It is to be one of the most complete and beautiful church buildings in North Carolina, and to the other modern improvements, such as a complete and elaborate Sunday school equipment, four excellent auditoriums for the various agencies of the church and a fine swimming pool and gymnasium for the boys, will be added. Pastor Blanchard has the qualities of a great general and his people are standing by him as loyally as the tenth legion. The Kinston Baptists are very wealthy people and, what is rarer, they are a willing people. They have never known their own power, but are beginning to feel it now."

THE VALUE PLACED ON COTTON Wilmington Dispatch: "In this State many merchants have already decided to accept cotton in payment of debts, at 10 cents per pound, and others have decided to accept it in the purchase of goods. The movement to make the fleecy staple even more a matter of currency is extending. and is not confined to the South by any means. We notice in the New World that the principal of a school for young ladies offers to take cotton in payment of tuition. This school-head, a Miss Mason, whose institution is located at Tarrytown-onthe-Hudson, says that she has written the parents of girls in the Southern States, who had planned for their daughters to enter college, that she will accept cotton in payment for the tuition. She will accept the cotton at 10 cents per pound, when delivered to any responsible warehouse near where the cotton is grown.

"This and other moves in the same class, show how valuable is considered cotton, and how important to the material prosperity of the entire country it is deemed."

DEER HUNTER SHOT.

Washington, Sept. 25 .- While Jesse M. Edwards and Thomas Clayton planters of the Corepoint section, were hunting deer in the vicinity of their homes, Edwards shot Clayton with a charge of buckshot, intended for a buck which passed the corner in the direction of the victim. The load took effect in Clayton's hip. He is not believed to be seriously hurt.

DON'T TAKE

WRONG MEDICINE

If your liver gets lazy you need a liver tonic, not merely a laxative for the bowels. Many people take a simple laxative when the liver gets sluggish rather than take calomel, which they know to be dangerous. But a mere laxative will not start a sluggish liver. What is needed is a tonic that will liven up the liver without forcing you to stay at home and lose a day from your work.

You have such a tonic in Dodson's Liver Tone. Dodson's Liver Tone is all that is claimed for it because the druggists who sell it agree to hand back the money with a smile, to any person not satisfied with the relies Dodson's gives.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a vegetable liquid with a very pleasant taste and is a prompt and reliable remedy for constipation, biliousness, sour stomach and torpid liver.

E. B. Marston Drug Company give it their personal guarantee. Large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone is only 50 cents. For children or grown people it is the ideal medicine. Try it on REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF (advt.) the guarantee.
