Meacham-Alexander Nuptials.

Mr. George Meacham, a former resident and well known in this city, took as his bride Tuesday afternoon in Fayetteville, Miss Josie Alexander of that city. They will reside in Wilmington, where the groom is employed in a packing house branch office.
Mr. Meacham is a son of Mrs. Georgia Meacham and brother to Mrs. G.
W. Sumrell of Kinston. This morn-ing's Wilmington Star had to say of the wedding:

"Friends in the city yesterday learned with much interest and pleasure of the marriage of Mr. George A.
Meacham of Wilmington, and Miss Josephine Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Alexander, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents in Fayetteville Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Watson M. Fairley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Fayetteville. During the ceremony Miss Nina Andrews of this city played softly 'To a Wild Rose,' by McDowell.

"The home was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers. The wedding was very quiet, only the members of the family and a few close friends being present.

"They returned to Wilmington on the afternoon train and will make their home at Ninth and Princess streets. The bride formerly lived in Wilmington and her many friends here are glad to welcome her to the city again. She is a young woman of charming personality. The groom is a young man of fine ability."

Statistics Show Wealth Producing Capacity Banks Very High, but Accumulation Is Not So Noticeable—State of Kansas Out of Debt.

Chapel Hill, Oct. 29.—Is North Carolina's capacity to retain wealth commensurate with its wealth-producing power? Does the wealth produced stick to the palms that sweat it out?
This engaging topic was discussed by the North Carolina Club at its recent meeting, Fred. R. Yoder of Catawba county, leading the discussion. Figures carefully compiled, indicated that North Carolina produced far greater crop wealth per acre in 1913 than Iowa, Illinois or McLean county, Illinois, one of the eight banner agricultural counties in the United States. North Carolina's per capita wealth was $24 per acre over against $17 in the State of Iowa. This wealth does not stick to the palms that sweat it out—the bulk of the yearly farm wealth seems to disappear as fi-by evaporation, scattering to the far ends of the earth. The inability of North Carolina cotton farmers, in the many years of fat, to lay up a sufficient store of wealth to tide themselves over a depressed business period brought on by the limited demand for cotton, conclusively proves that the State's wealth retaining power is not commensurate with its wealth producing power. The reason is apparent: Excessive farm tenancy and its associated conditions of the one-crop, supply-merchant farm civilization. This prevailing condition slaps in the face any concerted effort for the diversification of crops and the development of live-stock industries. The natural consequence is a deficiency of home-raised feeds and food-stuffs. The wealth-retaining power of the State of Kansas—the only State in the Union absolutely free from debt—was contrasted with that of North Carolina. Kansas is a self-sufficing, home-ownership, livestock growing State. The single farm wealth of Kansas is two thousand dollars over against three hundred and twenty-two dollars in North Carolina.
The dairy products of Kansas are valued $9,549,129; dairy products of North Carolina, $1,787,245; Kansas poultry, $11,923,882; North Carolina poultry, $3,338,912; Kansas animals, $130,736,764; North Carolina animals, $7,209,308; Kansas feedable crops, $22,911,128; North Carolina feedable crops, $2,061,783. The two types of farming are illustrated distinctly in this State. Scotland county represents the one-crop, farm-tenancy, supply-merchant system; Alle-ghany county represents the many-crop, livestock, ownership system. The food produced per capita in Alle-ghany county is $106; in Scotland the per capita production of food is $42.
Alleghany produces a surplus food for marketable purposes, $170,890; Scotland county has to expend for imported foodstuffs, $645,246.

The North Carolina Club has bulletined for discussion and debate a batch of live topics for the year's program. The subject are calculated to arouse the students of the University to a proper appreciation of North Carolina problems and thus further link up the State University with the soil. The topics are: "The Decreasing Meat Supply of North Carolina and the Increasing Cost of Living"; "Local Packing and Refrig-erating Plants"; "Are Farm Lands Bearing an Unreasonable Share of the Tax Burden?" Debate Query—"A State-Wide Dog Tax for Schools"; "The Farmer's Share of the Consumer's Dollar"; Debate Query—"Resolved. That Home and Farm Ownership is Beneficial to the Negro and the Community in Which He Lives"; "New Zealand's Graduated Land Tax."

by Illinois suffragists was the big subject to be decided when the annual three day convention of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association opened today in the Congress Hotel.

Opposition to the re-election of Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout as president developed several weeks ago and centered about this one idea. Mrs.
Trout's opponents declare she has not made the association the powerful force in Illinois politics they expected and accuse her of being "too easy going." One of their specific objections to her candidacy for reelection is the fact that she did not press the fight to have women granted the right to vote for county commissioners.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and this condition can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars
