JUDGE ALLEN GRANTS

STAY OF EXECUTION.

Judge Oliver Allen of this city in Superior Court at Wilmington has granted an extension of thirty days to William Lewis, a negro under sentence of death for wife murder.

When sentenced Lewis was allowed thirty days in which to arrange for appeal, and this time expired several days ago. He was about to be taken to Raleigh to await the date of execution when his attorneys secured the extension. Lewis now has until November 28 to perfect his appeal.

"HOWDY, MR. SPEAKER."

When Representative E. R. Wooten walked up to a party in the lobby of the Tull Thursday evening to greet Ex-Judge Francis D. Winston, who was to speak in the Courthouse at 8 o'clock, the now district attorney greeted him with, "How are you, Mr. Speaker?" E. B. Lewis, Congressman Kitchen's private secretary, asked the campaigner if he really meant what he said. "I stand pat," said Judge Winston, who is confident that Lenoir county's legislator will be the next presiding officer of the House of Representatives.

DEATH AND FUNERAL

OF CAPT. CHARLES WHITE

The funeral of Capt. Charles A. White, one of Pitt county's best known citizens, was conducted in Greenville Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Captain White died at his home there Wednesday night, suddenly. A son was conversing with him when the aged veteran, reclining in an arm chair, gasped a few times and expired. He was 81 years of age. Captain White was well known in Kinston. He was a native of Pitt county and an ex-farmer, teacher, merchant and cotton buyer. He served in the Confederate army during the whole of the War Between the States, attaining the rank of captain.

TOUR WITH ORCHESTRA.

The Clef Club Symphony Orchestra, of which J. Tim Brymn, a negro, formerly of Kinston, is the conductor, will shortly begin a concert tour. The nearest stand to Kinston is Norfolk, where Brymn's famous colored musicians will perform on the night of November 10. Tim Brymn, the greatest composer and director of his race was here a few weeks ago to attend the bedside and funeral of his aged father, Peter Brymn. The Clef Club orchestra has a mammoth instrumentation. The club is the New York headquarters for colored vocal and instrumental entertainers, and much of the South's best negro talent has gone there.

THOMPSON HELD

WITHOUT BAIL.

New Bern, Oct. 30.—Jasper W. Thompson, who Wednesday night shot and probably fatally wounded Clara Kimball, a woman of the underworld, in her house in a suburb, is being held in jail without bail to await the outcome of the wound.

The woman was intoxicated when carried to a hospital, and that lessened to some degree the chances for her recovery.

The young telegraph operator admits his guilt. The police are yet able to learn little about the Kimball woman except that she came here from Richmond.

CHIEF MOSELEY "RESCUED" FROM "BURNING" BUILDING

Demonstrator Brockwell Shows Local Boys How to Bring Man From Third Story of Building on a Scaling Ladder.

A crowd of people late Thursday afternoon watched Sherwood Brockwell, fire prevention expert of the State Insurance Department, demonstrate modern fire-fighting methods to members of the local department in the rear of the First National Bank building. Two hose wagons and the hook and ladder truck of the city volunteers attracted the spectators to where Brockwell and his enthusiastic pupils were engaged in the use of scaling ladders, the life rope and the life belt. Brockwell slung Fire Chief Moseley over his shoulders and then brought him down from the third story by means of a rope. The local firemen, ex-Chief Brockwell, who trained the Raleigh regular department, says are among the most apt that he has had to deal with in the State.

He concluded the course in City Hall Thursday night with a lecture to an interested audience on first-aid work.

Brockwell left this morning to visit other cities. He will in a few days make a report to Insurance Commissioner Young on the condition of the Kinston fire district, the city's equipment for combatting the flames, etc.

GROCERS AND OTHERS LOOK FOR BAD CHECKS

Burns Agency Says "H. O. Williams," With Many Aliases, Operating In This Vicinity.

The First National Bank has been informed that H. O. Williams, alias T. A. Turner, a bogus check operator, is believed by the W. J. Burns Detective Agency to be operating in this territory.

"He is liable to put in an appearance in your town at any time—please do not neglect this warning," the agency advises.

The man is described as 23 years old, five feet, eight inches tall, weighing 140 pounds, fair of complexion, dark eyes and hair, smooth-shaven, neat and well-dressed and inclined to talk a good deal on first acquaintance. He claims usually that he represents the Louisiana Wholesale Provision Company and presents checks drawn in his favor by that company on the City National Bank of Knoxville, Tennessee. Grocers are his victims usually. He has recently been in Brookneal, Va., and Greenville, N. C. He is still supposed to be in this vicinity. The Burns people advise that anyone spotting the man keep him in conversation and secretly summon an officer.

JUDGE DANIELS AND ROUNTREE TO EXCHANGE

Latter Will Hold November Term of Superior Court Here—Judge Rountree Is a Former Kinstonian, And Is Well Known Here.

As the local bar association had anticipated, Governor Craig Thursday authorized an exchange of courts between Judge George Rountree and Judge Frank A. Daniels, whereby the former will hold Superior Court here during November. Judge Daniels will preside instead of Judge Rountree at Durham and in Granville county.

Judge George Rountree of Wilmington is a former Kinstonian, but has not yet sat on the bench in Lenoir county. His friends in the legal profession here have been very anxious to have him come to Kinston for a term.

A Magic Attraction at The Show Windows

Have You Seen The Comforts That Weigh Less and "Warm" More?

After seeing the display of Maish Comforts in our show windows, most people are not satisfied until they come in and sample their feather lightness.

"Just like down!" that is what almost everyone exclaims. "Better than down," we say. And physicians heartily endorse our say-so. There's no more healthful kind of bed comfort than one of pure, sanitary cotton. And the purest cotton comfort we have been able to find is the

MAISH COTTON DOWN COMFORTS

(Laminated)

But that isn't their only point of superiority. Maish Comforts do not bunch and lump. They stay comfortable 'till they're worn out. Made of finely-curling cotton, of exceptional purity and under absolutely sanitary conditions. They keep light, fluffy and uniform because they're made by a special process which gets the best service out of the best cotton and keeps it in shape.

This kind of comfort costs very little more than the "don't care" kind. So why not have it?

Come in and let us show you how light as well as thick Maish Comforts are. The covers of lovely Maisaline, Maisilk and Maisateen in soft art shades and are as fascinating as the wonderful lightness of these desirable comforts.
