Other Club Women Gather Rags.

The Ladies of the Round Table and the Booklovers' Clubs have joined in with the Reviewers' Club in gathering old linen and other white rags for use as bandages in the European war zone. Mrs. J. F. Taylor and Mrs. R. L. Crisp will continue as the committee to receive the contributions of rags, and it is earnestly desired by the ladies that all rags be turned in by Monday of next week. So far the response has not been as large as it should have been, and the club women want it emphasized that every housekeeper in town is urged to take part in the movement and make donations. The crying need of the hospitals makes it important that a shipment of bandages be made as soon as possible.

SCHOOL BAZAAR AT PINK HILL SPLENDID SUCCESS

Proceeds Wiped Out Debt On Piano. Spirited Popularity Contest Resulted Misses Turner and Tyndall Being Nominated.

(Special to The Free Press.)

At a meeting of the trustees of the Pink Hill district school last night, funds were produced by the principal of the school, representing the proceeds of the school bazaar, held in the school last Saturday night, which entirely obliterated the debt on the school piano, which was purchased three years ago on the understanding that it was to be paid for by funds raised through school entertainments, concerts, etc., and every cent of the cost has been met in this way. The raising of this fund was largely the work of Miss Celia Maxwell, the principal of the school, and it demonstrates the intense interest that Miss Maxwell has felt in the school since its inception, she being the first teacher to fill the appointment in the school at this place. The board, by a unanimous vote, tendered a resolution of thanks to the present teachers, Miss Maxwell and Miss Tyndall for their efforts in raising the piano fund, and exhibited their pleasure of the progress the school is making and the high standard kept, by soliciting their services, this far ahead, for the next school term.

"Pink Hill Is Wide Awake." The school bazaar at Pink Hill last Saturday was quite a success in spite of the inclement weather. The doors were opened at 2:30 p. m. Confectioneries, oysters, cream and hand-made souvenirs were sold. Beginning at 7:30 a concert was given by the school, which consisted of songs, pantomimes and speeches. After the concert there was a voting contest on the most popular young lady. It was a close race between Misses Bernice Turner and Lula Tyndall for quite a while, when it was announced that the contest would be closed in just ten minutes. The crowd anxiously waited while the time was called, and it was found that there had been 3,954 votes cast in favor of Miss Turner, who was presented the first prize, which was a beautiful cameo pin. Miss Tyndall received 3,067 votes, and was presented with a three pound box of chocolate candy as second prize. The proceeds for the evening were about $95, all of which will go for the benefit of the school, just as the teachers and trustees see fit.
