A BIG RUN ON CORDUROY

Margaret Mason's Weekly Discussion of the Fashions of Womankind—Masculine Garb Adopted for the Fair Sex's Use

By Margaret Mason

Written for the United Press Eve's mantle has descended on the modern maid, they say, But just what sort of mantle do they mean? The only mantle poor Eve ever knew was when a rosy blush Had mantled all her snowy brow serene. The only coat she had, no doubt, was just a coat of tan. Her only wrap when she was wrapped in thought. The modern maid doesn't give a rap for any wrap like that For they sport every cloak that can be bought. They wouldn't even give a fig for Eve's bareskin outfit Selected sealskins they prefer, I've noted They have a different wrap and cloak for everything they do Why even when they're ill their tongues are coated.

New York, Dec. 4.—Keeping up with the Fashion means adapting a bit of brogue and "capering" up with them this season. Such a bewildering array of capes and wraps and mantles and loose coats and jackets and flaring cloaks are offered for each and every occasion.

The sumptuous evening wraps of brilliantly tinted velvets, fur collared, cuffed and edged are the same wonderful creations as shown earlier in the season. The military capes and flaring Cossack cloaks, the braided and frogged military jackets have their stanch adherents still. It is of the new sport coats however, delightfully appropriate for golf, for motoring, for skating, for hiking or just plain knock about wear that descriptions are now in good order.

There is a great run on corduroy for sport coats and they are shown in all the brilliant colorings as well as in the more conservative tones of "tete denigre" Russian green, sand putty, mustard and corbeau blue. A particularly stunning model in this material is almost ankle length with a flaring bell shaped back and a belt consisting of two straps across it. The collar is the new military effect and buttons up tightly about the throat. Short box coats buttoned up high around the neck and widely belted come in the corduroy as well as in the huge horseblanket plaid effect just like big brother's mackinaw. These shorter coats are of course more desirable for skating and golf but going them one better for these sports are the lovely light weight but feecily warm belted sweater of angora wool in softest tints of old rose, old blue, old gold, sage green and grey. With jaunty caps to match, what skittish skater or girlish golfer could ask for more perfect apparel.

As usual, clever woman has helped herself to the best of masculine garb for her own needs. She has taken his new picadilly raglan of Scotch mixture or English tweed and lifted it bodily to her own fair shoulders, there to do for a storm coat, a motor coat, a hiking coat of much and varied service.

A novel raincoat of transparent rubberized crepe de chine is the latest chic covering to keep milady from the wrathful elements. They come in shimmering and shining greens and yellows and are as durable as they appear delicate. Perky little hats to match, make up a moisture proof outfit guaranteed to keep their lucky wearers as dry as the state of Kansas. You are sure to be spotted as ultra smart if you are wearing a leopard skin coat this winter. There seems to be something particularly fitting about this feline fur that adapts itself to most tunes of femininity.

(Certainly not, Geraldine, no catty insinuations are meant.) There's something fascinatingly barbaric and elemental about it that makes it especially alluring on a sinuous brunette with glowing olive skin and scarlet lips and ducky eyes.

Thus coated lovely woman has it on the leopard whose skin she is sporting in as much as she can change her spots with impunity by simply shedding his hide.

Leopard skin coats collared and cuffed in beaver or seal skin are very striking but even simply self trimmed they have a three weekish effect that out far Glyns Eleanor's old tiger skin.

MISS WARD TALK ON CHINA GREATLY ENJOYED

First of Series of Entertainments by Local Clubwomen for Belgian Relief Fund—Native Costumes and Customs Described.

To introduce the series of entertainments planned by the clubs of Kinston for the Belgium Fund, the Round Table and their friends were delighted with a most charming and instructive discourse on "China" by Miss Mary Ward of New Bern, on Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Mitchell.

Miss Ward spoke in a very pleasing way of the manners and customs of the Chinese in the different cities. Some of our old theories concerning the Chinese were reversed, such as their not sitting on the floor, but in chairs, as we do, and not being ugly and unattractive, but intelligent and pretty.

As a prelude to Miss Ward's address, a musical program was exquisitely rendered. An instrumental solo, Grieg's "To Spring," by Mrs. Sitterson, and a lullaby, "Sleep, Little Baby Mine," by Mrs. Quinerly.

Mrs. Harvey, in her usual gracious manner, introduced Miss Ward to her audience, and at the same time set forth the plan and aim of these series of entertainments, showing how each talent might have an opportunity to be used for high and noble purposes, even as Miss Ward was using her "heathen knowledge" at the present time.

After Miss Ward had concluded her address, a solo, Schubert's "Serenade" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Wooten, accompanied by Mrs. Hitterson.

The two parlors of Mrs. Mitchell's home, in which the lecture was held, were attractively decorated with beautiful embroideries brought from China by Miss Ward and Miss Mary
