FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS
FOR BARKACHE KIDNEY AND BLADDER

SOCIAL And PERSONAL

Mrs. Anna Jones Wooten of this city was the contributor of the poem below to Monday's Raleigh Times:

("War is a vulture that thrives on men's corpses.")

"Heart of a Beast and head of a Man; Wings as black as the dunest night; A Vulture soars in the sun's clear light And evilly circles a continent's span.

"A plot takes shape in his cruel brain, A purpose forms in his baleful eye, As, foul wings polluting the azure sky, He makes his passage from main to main.

"And looks with hate on the scene below Where men are at peace and their harvests, white, Beckon them into God's glad sunlight To wholesome toil,—and no man's a foe.

"Then sudden he swoops, this Bird of Hell, Inky wings blotting the golden sun— And a chill, dread darkness descends upon The earth, and woe that no words can tell!

"Their sight is blinded, and man hates man; The rulers are curs'd with a lust for power; And the Vulture's talons, within the hour, Are rending the Nations that loo'd his ban!

"Under his pinions, the cannon roar; Shrapnel screams, and the putrid air Breaths of the awful carnage where The sicken'd land drinks deep of gore.

"Bewilder'd horses scream in death, Women weep and work alone, While far a-field lie men who moan Of home and beloved with dying breath.

"Dead are the harvests, once so white Fair cities, whose glories of art and of spire Once lifted men's souls and ennobled desire, Are razed to the dust in a single night.

"And the true heart's blood of a million men Cries from the ground,—there ruthlessly pour'd,— "Our rulers were our keepers, Lord!" O, Rulers, Where are thy brothers, then?

"Ah, what a mockery, God of Love, That men should invoke Thy holy Name In a cause of Hate! Oh, biting shame This guilt to wed with Heaven, above.

"When 'tis on men's passions the Vulture, War, Preys and fattens and thrives apace! Grant us, Lord, in Thy tender grace, Forever this curse from our earth to bar.

"Oh, banish the loathsome Bird of Hell

Hell
Back to the pit from whence he came, And nevermore let this horror claim A shining world where Thy creatures dwell!"

Bazaar to Be Held in the Grand Jury Room
The Ladies' Aid Society of the Atkinson Memorial Presbyterian church will hold its Christmas Bazaar in the Grand Jury room of the Courthouse, beginning Wednesday afternoon, December 9.

The Rock Hill, S. C., Herald last Thursday carried the following which will be read with interest here:

A charming affair of last week was the afternoon party given on Thursday by Miss Mary Marshall at her home on Pendleton street. It was in the nature of an announcement party and shower in honor of Miss Mabel Hart, who is to be married on the sixteenth to Mr. Horace Dupree of Kinston, N. C. The home of the hostess was most attractive in its simple yet beautiful decorations of ferns and potted plants. After the arrival of all the guests, the postman was announced, and the mail consisted of postcards for each of the guests, the stamps being tiny red hearts pierced with arrows. After reading these by Mrs. Webb White, which furnished much merriment, they were presented to the guest of honor as souvenirs of this enjoyable occasion.

The guests were presented with tiny cards bearing wedding bells in gold and written on these in gold were "Hart-Dupree, December sixteen, 1914." For making the most words out of these words, Mrs. M. F. Cobb won the prize—a beautiful crochet centerpiece, which she presented to the guest of honor.

At an opportune moment the door bell rang and a deliveryman handed in a suit box and hatbox, which were addressed to Miss Hart. Upon opening these they were found to contain a beautiful assortment of dainty lingerie for the bride-to-be Following this a delicious salad course was served, the hostess being assisted by her little nieces, Julia Thompson Roddey and Frances Marshall, Mrs. A. C. Izard, Misses Eunice Moore and Julia Boyce. About twenty-five guests were present on this delightful occasion.

Miss Hart wore a lovely gown of green silk poplin with lace trimmings. The many friends of Miss Hart will be interested to learn of this announcement, for since coming to the city several years ago she has made many friends who regret that her marriage will take her away. She graduated from the Fennell Infirmary about three years ago and since that time she has been doing private nursing. She is a young woman of many admirable traits of character and her many friends wish for her a long and happy life. Mr. Dupree is prominent in business and social circles in Kinston.

Mrs. Webb White will entertain Saturday morning in honor of Miss Hart, who will leave next week for Greensboro, N. C., at which place she will be married on the sixteenth of this month.

NEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

But Husband, With Aid of Cardui, Effects Her Deliverance.

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death. Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken.

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefited by its use. There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength. If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has a million others.

Get a bottle of Cardui to-day.
