TRYING TO APPEASE IRTATE FATHER-IN-LAW

The father of thirteen-year-old Beulah Simpson, nee Dail, the wife of James Simpson, a young Pitt county man, has brought proceedings against his son-in-law in the courts of that county.

Simpson is charged with abduction. A brother of the husband is accused of complicity in that he wilfully misstated the girl's age before the register of deeds, it is alleged. An effort is being made to adjust the matter satisfactorily to the angry parent so that the legal procedure may be stopped.

NEW PASTOR'S FIRST SERVICE HELD SUNDAY

Rev. E. N. Harrison, the choice of the recent Conference for pastor of Caswell Street Methodist church, which with the present conference year commenced its career as a separate pastorate from a Goldsboro church whose minister, Rev. J. M. Wright, had supplied its pulpit. Rev. J. E. Underwood of Goldsboro, presiding elder of the New Bern district, was with the new pastor and preached in Caswell Street church Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. Harrison was due in Kinston several weeks ago from his recent station, Battleboro, but was deterred from coming by the illness and death of a child.

UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB RENDRED PLEASING PROGRAM

Large and Appreciative Audience Was Well Pleased With Saturday Night's Performance at Loftin's Opera House.

(Contributed) The Glee Club representing the University of North Carolina made its appearance in Kinston Saturday night at Loftin's Opera House and entertained a large and appreciative audience for an hour and a half.

The numbers were well selected and still better rendered, and the boys received encore after encore. The program was varied and did not drag.

The choruses were good, and there was real harmony in them. The solos of Mr. Preston H. Epps were excellent, and made a hit with the audience. Mr. Harris at the piano was good in the rendering of difficult selections of a classical turn, while Mr. Clement made good in the rendering of popular airs. Mr. Wright made good on the "fiddle." The quartet work was pleasing as well as that of the Mandolin Club.

One of the great hits of the evening though, was the Sextette from "Lucia," a parody on that well known selection.

SCHOOL LEADERS ARE GETTING READY FOR COMMENCEMENT

(Continued from Page One) wall-paper designs, decorate with drawings, etc. Hand craft to illustrate such stories as that of Hiawatha and other heroes of child life may be prepared.

3. Written Exercises from all the grades in school: compositions, language work, such as copying, dictation, etc., number work, and arithmetic. Prepare history notebooks and geography scrap books. All written exercises should be on paper of uniform size and bound in neat attractive cover design.

4. Drawing. Specimens of art work in all grades should be exhibited. It should consist of work done in black crayon or pencil, and color. Original designs should be encouraged.

5. Penmanship. Of course, all written exercises should be executed in the best possible penmanship; but, in addition, there may be a regular exhibit of penmanship. This should consist of exercises from each grade bound in attractive cover designs. Some of the exercises should be of in fact, any drill that shows es drill work, illustrating movement; in fact, any drill that shows especial method in teaching this subject.

6. Map Drawing of continents, countries, State, with counties, school, community. The work should be done in colored crayon. Relief maps may be made with paper-pulp and glue, putty or with salt and flour.

7. Products. The important phases of the growth and manufacture of cotton and tobacco, for instance, may cotton and tobacco, for instance, may be shown on large mounted cardboard. Make a large map of the United States showing chief products, pasting or otherwise fastening these on each State: as, cotton, corn, coal, on the States producing these. Pictures of horses, cows, hogs, etc., may be used for the cattle and dairy States. These suggestions may also apply for a similar map of State or County.

The success hoped for in the undertaking for the first time of holding a county commencement would suggest that this work would be a great preparation for a Rural School Day to be held during the proposed Lenoir County Fair, probably during the fall of 1915.

OLD GUARD TAKES LAST LOOK AT REPR PAYNE; BODY TAKEN TO AUBURN.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 13.—The official life of the nation today paid tribute to Sereno E. Payne, the veteran New York member of the House of Representatives, who died here suddenly Thursday night. Black-garbed legislators and executives, members of the judiciary in their official robes and representatives here of foreign countries joined in the first formal funeral ceremony held in the chamber in fifteen years.

The cloud of sorrow hung heaviest over a little group of legislative veterans who sat together far in the rear of the chamber. They were the Republican "old guard," companions
