They will leave in a day or two for New York, from whence they will take a steamer for their Central American home. Mr. Taylor is an auditor for the United Fruit Company in San Jose.

REX BEACH COULD NOT STOP AT HAVELOCK. Rex Beach, the famous novelist, has returned to New York from a fishing and hunting trip. Mr. Beach was compelled to decline the invitation of Charles L. Abernethy and others to stop over at Havelock for a few days' sport, business cutting short his stay in North Carolina. The author told Mr. Abernethy that he would try to return in a few weeks to enjoy his hospitality at Havelock camp. Beach annually visits Oera coko.

DR. SPILMAN AT S. S. INSTITUTE IN NEW BERN. Two of the ablest leaders in Sunday school work among the Southern Baptists are featuring the institute of the Neuse-Atlantic Baptist Association being held in the First Baptist church at New Bern. These are Dr. B. W. Spilman of Kinston and Rev. E. L. Middleton of Raleigh, field secretaries for the South, and the State, respectively, of Sunday school work. Dr. Spilman addressed the institute twice Monday and again today.

"MA AND I ARE NOT TO BLAME." The local Equal Suffrage League Monday afternoon issued the following statement: "W. C. T. U. women of Ohio, undaunted and undismayed by their 'delayed' victory, explain the results of the November 3 election. 'I can't vote; Neither can ma; Ohio's gone wet; Blame it on pa.' 'Miss Mary T. Henderson of Salisbury, chairman of the legislative committee of the North Carolina Equal Suffrage League, left for Raleigh January 4, to stay during the entire session of the Legislature, looking after the interests of the bill about equal suffrage."

COSTLY NEW INSTRUMENTS FOR MILITIA BAND HERE. The band of the Second Infantry, located here, is to have an expensive new set of brass and reed instruments. The outfit will cost at least $3,000. It has been only three or four years since the band was issued a score or more of new horns, clarinets and drums, which are still in good shape, but the fact that the equipment was not entirely uniform is supposed to have caused the government to consider furnishing a new instrumentation. The chief and principal musicians of the organization have been ordered to select the desired instruments, which are of the most expensive make.

STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY'S EMBARGO ON WHISKEY WILL BE EMPHASIZED

The action of the State Medical Society last June in declaring whiskey of no use in the pharmacopoeia will be made much of at the bi-ennial convention of the North Carolina Anti-Saloonists in the Capital City next week. Kinston is much interested because of the fact that Dr. James M. Parrott, the prominent local physician who, as president of the society, started the opposition to intoxicants among the doctors, will be the principal speaker of the opening day of the convention.

Dr. Parrott's speech before the Medical Society created something of a sensation in the State, and attracted attention far and wide. It was approved by his fellow-physicians because his "advanced position on prescription writing for alcoholic stimulants" was proper, and the society advised that its legislative committee be instructed "to ask the next Legislature to enact more stringent laws against this pernicious practice."

CHANGE MANAGEMENT POPULAR HABERDASHERY

The firm of Dail and Taylor, conducting one of the best known haberdasheries in the city at 216 North Queen street, has been dissolved, A. N. Taylor withdrawing to accept the management of a farmers' warehouse here. The senior partner, J. C. Dail and Paul C. Hemby, will conduct the business as J. C. Dail & Co. Mr. Hemby has been connected during the past two or three years with the tailoring department of Barrett & Hartsfield, and is an experienced man in that line. The stock of the concern will be increased, and Mr. Dail will leave about the end of the week for New York to purchase new stuff.

NORTHERN CONTRACTORS WANT FEEL WORK HERE

Representatives of New York and New Jersey contractors were here on Monday looking over the site and plans and specifications of the proposed Federal building for Kinston. A number of others have applied to Postmaster LaRoupe for information. Bids for the construction will be opened by the supervising architect in the Treasury Department at Washington next Monday at 3 p. m. All bids received after that time will be promptly returned, without being opened, of course. Consideration of the bids had by the 11th will require until February 1 or longer, and it is not expected that the contract will be let within a month after the opening of the propositions.

NATIONAL F. M. C. OFFICERS MAY COME

It is probable that one or more national officers of the Fraternal Mystic Circle may come here in April for the annual meeting of the State Ruling, according to Thomas Grady, special supreme deputy of the order. Mr. Grady stated today that if his health would permit, F. H. Duckwitz of Philadelphia, at the head of the F. M. C., in the nation as Supreme Ruler, will attend the convention. J. D. Miles, Supreme Recorder, also of Philadelphia, is expected to come.

THREE-CORNERED MIXUP OVER STORE LEASES, ETC.

Papers were Monday served upon Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Knox, who conduct the "J. M. Stephenson" store at 102 South Queen street, demanding that they vacate the building. The plaintiffs are Chamberlain and Braxton, who conduct a ladies' shop in the Hotel Caswell building and Mr. N. J. Rouse, landlord of the store occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Knox. Justice H. C. V. Peoples will hear the ejection proceedings Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, if it cannot be settled out of court before then. The proprietors of the Stephenson store gave notice some weeks ago that they would vacate and the store was soon afterwards rented to Chamberlain & Braxton. It seems that Mr. and Mrs. Knox had secured a lease on another store, but the tenant there would not vacate, alleging that the proper notice had not been given.

The three-cornered situation promises to become even more interesting. Mr. and Mrs. Knox are placed in a distressing situation by their inability to remove to their intended new quarters, and Chamberlain & Braxton are inconvenienced, because they cannot get into their new stand.

The litigation so far seems to have been without feeling, and all the parties in the unfortunate affair express a desire that the tangle may be adjusted amicably.
