TURNAGE TO JAIL IN DEFAULT OF BOND

Leslie Turnage, who was arrested in Wilmington last week at the request of local authorities for shooting Policeman Frank Bursell, was late Thursday bound over Superior Court from Municipal Court, and in default of $400 bail, went to jail. Turnage wounded Bursell, since resigned from the force, when the latter went with another officer to arrest him on Chestnut street several years ago.

REV. C. A. UPCHURCH SPEAKS IN NEW BERN.

Rev. C. A. Upchurch, who several years ago was stationed here as pastor of the First Baptist church, and is remembered by many Kinstonians, made an address to the members of Tabernacle church at New Bern Thursday night. Rev. Mr. Upchurch is now enlistment worker of the Baptist Home Mission Board. His address followed up a four-days' teachers' institute held in the First Baptist church at New Bern.

ELDERLY COUPLE WEDDED; CLIP CUTS UP A BIT.

James H. West and Mrs. Susan Bland were united in marriage Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride, on Adkin street, East Kinston. Pastor E. N. Harrison of Caswell Street Methodist church, officiating. The official record gives the ages of the groom and bride as 64 and 47, respectively. James H. Roberts and Miss Katie Brown arranged to get married in the sheriff's office at the Courthouse Thursday evening, so as to have the protection of officers, it is "officially stated." The young lady was just 18 by a day. The relatives of the bride, who intended to be whether or no, discovered that the nuptials were to be pulled off despite their objection, and withdrew it. The ceremony was performed in the home on Caswell street, by Magistrate H. C. V. Peebles. The bridegroom is a prosperous young farmer, and Mrs. Roberts is a very attractive young woman who, until her wedding, was in school here.

BEST-FED FIGHTING MAN IN THE WORLD IS FRENCH SOLDIER

By William Phillip Simms (United Press Staff Correspondent)
With the French army at the front, Nov. 30. (By mail to New York)—Probably no army in the world, actually in the field, was ever better fed than is that of the allies.

Every French soldier in the field is entitled to 23 1-3 ounces of bread a day; 3 1-3 ounces of rice, beans or peas; 10 ounces of meat; 1 1-3 ounces of sugar; one ounce lard; 2 1-3 ounce salt and a little more than 2-3 ounce of coffee.

These articles constitute the daily ration under ordinary conditions. There are times, however, when circumstances are extraordinary, when fresh meat, new bread, dried vegetable and regular coffee can not be delivered daily to the soldiers. Under such conditions the French fighting man falls back on his "reserve" rations, which are:

Ten ounces of "biscuit," or "war bread" as hard tack is known in the French army; 10 ounces of canned meat; 2 2-3 ounces of sugar 1 2-3 ounces of soap essence, in cube form; 1 1-4 ounces of essence of coffee, also in cube form, and .0625 litre (1 1-6 of a quart) of brandy.

Back of the fighting line the French soldier has never had to fall back on his "reserve" rations. He always has his fresh beef, mutton or other meat; his coffee made from the coffee bean; his fresh bread and the rest. Furthermore, these things are quite good. I have lived for days with the private soldiers and eaten their food, so can give personal testimonial as to its excellence. I have eaten their "reserve" food also, their canned meats—"monkey meat," the soldiers call it—and tackled their hard tack; drank their "cube" coffee and perhaps of the bullion made of their soup cubes. It is also wholesome and nutritious. The brandy is good and stimulating and, administered in medicinal doses, is the good Marianne of France administered, it can not harm the brave fellows standing in trenches which are not cold and at one and the same time. Some of this brandy if of the ing committees for his incumbency, shall appoint a committee on immigration. "calvados" brand and is made of fine, luscious apples, and in sipping it, the smell and taste of the apple are quite noticeable.

The revictualing of the Allies, under ordinary circumstances, is carried on by England and France separately. That is France feeds her own troops and England feeds hers. It rarely happens—though the circumstance is now known—that the French have to feed the English or vice versa. The English eat more varied goods than the French, one reason being their means of transport are more difficult. They also consume tea in enormous quantities whereas French are not addicted to the tea habit. In France I heard this story of an English mother who had just received a letter from her son at the front:

"My poor boy" exclaimed the mother. "He is undergoing enormous sacrifices and hardships! He writes me that a few days ago he was obliged to go from 9 o'clock in the morning until 6 that evening without lunch and no tea was served that day at all!"

SOFT FLUFFY HAIR IS FIRST AID TO BEAUTY

If your hair is not fluffy, soft and lustrous, is falling out, streaked, faded, brittle, or full of dandruff, and if the scalp itches, do not think it must always be that way, for pretty hair is only a matter of care and the use of the proper hair dressing. Your hair is like a plant—if neglected it soon dies, while with a little attention it keeps fresh and beautiful.

Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies just the elements needed to invigorate the hair to grow long, thick, fluffy, soft and lustrous. It removes all dandruff with one application and quickly stops itching head and falling hair. It is the ideal hair tonic and scalp treatment—contains nothing injurious and is delicately perfumed.

J. E. Hood & Co. or any druggist can supply you with Parisian Sage—it is inexpensive. You cannot be disappointed with this delightful and helpful toilet necessity, for it will surely give your hair the beauty and charm of youth.

NEW YORK OFFICIAL PHOTOGRAPHER

Escapes Nervous Breakdown—His Strength Gradually Ebbing Away—Made Well and Strong by Vinol.

New York City:—"I have found Vinol to be a godsend as a reconstructive tonic for a run-down constitution. I am an official photographer and for a long time I suffered from weakness and general debility, and soon realized that my strength was fast leaving me. I tried different tonics without benefit, but one day I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it. Before I had taken two bottles I had gained in health and strength so I could do 100 per cent. more work than before.

"Vinol is the best tonic I ever took and I cannot say enough in its praise to do it justice."—William Kohlhoff, 1 Irving Place, New York.

It is the combined action of the curative elements of the cods' livers aided by the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron contained in Vinol which makes it so successful in overcoming such conditions.

If you are weak, sickly, run-down, and overworked try a bottle of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, with the understanding we will return your money if it does not help you. J. E. Hood & Co., druggists, Kinston, N. C., and leading drug stores everywhere. adv

OSTEOPATHY DEFINED
Osteopathy is a system of healing disease by scientific manipulations, the purpose of each manipulation being either to arrest some derangement in the position of the tissues or to increase or to decrease the activity of some organ. It is not a remedy for some particular disease, but successfully treats all curable non-surgical, acute and chronic diseases.
