Mrs. Bizzell
Entertains.

(Special to The Free Press.) Norlina, Jan. 30.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bizzell, on Dar-din street, was the scene of one of history of Norlina on last Thursday the most brilliant social events in the afternoon and evening when Mrs.
Bizzell entertained a large number of her friends in honor of her guest, Miss Georgia Bizzell of Kinston, who by her graceful and charming manner has won a number of friends during her visit here.

The entrance hall and connecting rooms were tastefully and artistically decorated with ferns and potted plants and the walls were festooned with running cedar, pink and white carnations.

From 4 to 6:30 in the afternoon the lady friends of Mrs. Bizzell's were entertained. The guests were met by Master Gordon Hall and little Miss Susie Rogers Bizzell, who took the cards. In the receiving party were Mrs. A. C. Bizzell, Miss Georgia Biz-zell of Kinston, Miss Bettie Lee of Emporia, Va., and Mrs. Hamilton B.
Tarry of Norlina, who welcomed the guests, and presented them to Mrs.
H. M. Terrell, who conducted them to the punch bowl, which was presided over by Miss Reade of Portsmouth, Va. Mrs. W. P. Lifsey conducted the guests to the dining rooms, where they were served delicious refreshments by Mrs. W. C. Hall and Mrs. M.
E. Walker. The affair was largely attended and the happy throng of beautifully gowned ladies made the scene one long to be remembered by all present.

From 8:30 to 11:30 in the evening a number of other guest seagerly accepted of Mrs. Bizzell's hospitality and spent a most pleasant evening.
Music, cards and dancing were indulged in and the time passed all too quickly for those present. Mrs. W. P.
Lifsey and Mrs. W. G. Hall gracefully presided over the punch bowl, and Mrs. A. C. Bizzell, assisted by Miss Georgia Bizzell, served dainty refreshments.

Among the out of town guests present were Miss Reade of Portsmouth, Va., and Mr. Peter Squire of Emporia, Va., while the young folks of the town were well represented. At a late hour the guests reluctantly departed after voting Mrs. Bizzell a charming hostess and their thanks for the pleasant afternoon and evening.

Prince Among Trio Who Worked as Stoker—A Modest British Officer
"Danber" Discovers There is Such a Thing as Too Much Realism

(By the United Press.)

Copenhagen, Feb. 1.—Stowaways anxious to get back to the Fatherland and join the troops at the front are constantly arriving here. When the Danish steamer Esrom recently came in one of the three stowaways aboard, who had been compelled to work as stockers revealed himself as a German prince, as they were being paid off. Presenting his wages to the other stockers, he said:

"I want to thank you boys for your kindness to me when we were working together. I'm not by profession a stoker, and have not been used to this kind of work. As a member of a German princely house I want you to know that this is one of the happiest days in my life. Now I can go and help to each these British a lesson."

And with that the trio departed for the frontier.

London, Feb. 1.—"We have had a scrap in the trenches; a serious one." That is the laconic manner in which Captain W. L. Brodie, of the Highland Light Infantry, described the deed which won for him the Victoria Cross.

Paris, Feb. 1.—M. Tattgrain, the well-known painter, is ready to admit that one can have too much realism. Recently he conceived the idea of painting the bombardment of Arras—in his Paris studio—and in order to get color he arranged with an Arras refugee named Vasse, to carry out a number of experiments in the studio with the object of getting a vivid idea of shell fire. Unfortunately some two pounds of gunpowder exploded by accident while preparations for the experiment were proceeding and the explosion wrecked the studio.

Rome, Feb. 1.—All foreigners now residing in Italy are being subjected to the most rigid surveillance on the part of the public authorities. When the time comes for Italy to carry out its present plans of intervening in the war for the purpose of retak-ing the two provinces of Trieste and Trent as well as a portion of the Dalmatian coast she does not propose to have her efforts handicapped by the presence of any innocuous looking strangers who might in reality be spies. All Germans and Austrians now in Italy are being watched with special care and every effort made to ascertain whether or not their alleged reasons for being here are the actual ones. In addition to this surveillance the Minister of Foreign affairs is also preparing a list of the foreigners whom Italy deems it will be desirable to expel the moment that hostilities become certain.

UNCERTAINTY KEEPS
COTTON PRICES ON GO

(Reported by R. H. Rountree & Co.) New York, Jan. 29.—Evidences of a reactionary tendency in the cotton market noticed last week, became more pronounced the last few days.
After selling at 9.10 for May, the market worked off to 8.96 yesterday.
There has been a great deal of nervousness and uncertainty owing to unfavorable news from financial quarters on one hand, and the lack of aggressive selling of actual cotton by the South, on the other. This conflict of tendencies has kept prices moving about in uncertain fashion, but with no actual weakness in evidence. This is in great measure due to the absence of a sufficient stock of cotton in New York to act as a balance wheel. As long as this is the case, very wide and frequent fluctuations are to be expected. But it will be some weeks before the holders of March contracts will be called upon to accept the actual cotton; and this will leave the market without the pressure necessary to arouse enthusiasm on the selling side.
Weakness in stocks, as a result of the passing of the dividend on Steel Common may leave a depressing effect on sentiment. There may be more or less profit-taking and a slightly lower range of prices. But there is every prospect of a new buying power coming into the market on any good break, and on a substantial reaction the South is less likely to offer cotton. The market has now reached a level where contracts are for sale on advances, and this makes a good trading market for all interested.

Cotton Seed Oil.
The market was active throughout the week, reaching the highest point yesterday. July selling up to 7.50.
We still think that purchases made on any fair break will prove profitable.

Carefully Treat

Neglect of children's colds often lays the foundation of serious lung trouble. On the other hand, it is harmful to continalways indoors.

Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and a good application of Vick's "Vap-O-Rub"
