OLD SOLDIERS' NEEDS URGED IN ELOQUENT APPEAL

that their last days might be comfortable—free from want; that this promise made in 1861 hold good today.

"Captain Sherrell made a good speech and plead hard for the old veterans.

"Senator Snow was eloquent and Captain Mason of Northampton made one of the efforts of his life for his old comrades. Mr. Laughinghouse of Pitt being present, struck strong blows and demanded increase of pensions.

"Major Graham again took the floor and feelingly appealed for help for the war- and time-worn old soldiers.

"Judge Clark again was upon his feet and in an impassioned speech prayed that assistance proper be granted before the grave swallowed up the few that were left of the 'old grey line.' It was a grand appeal!

It was an appeal to all that was sacred and manly. He made our hearts swell with gladness, our eyes fill with tears. One could but feel, listening to those several glowing tributes to the men of Lee and Johnston—that they might live on and on, to tell the story to the children of our Southland of the deeds of daring done; how fiercely their fathers fought; how devotedly they died. The writer was assured the pensions would be increased by the State, and he was asked by the committee and by Judge Clark and Capt. Mason to go before the County Commissioners in May and ask that they, the County Commissioners, supplement as best they can that which would be done by the State.

"Being three score and ten year this may be the last time, dear old comrades, that I shall be allowed to say a word for those who suffered great privations and bravely faced dangers in defense of the Old North State, and I now thank you sincerely for asking me to go to Raleigh and help as best I could, to smooth and sweeten the last days of the men of '61-'65, whose matchless valor is today Carolina's chiefest boast—her most glorious heritage."

Respectfully,
JOHN A. POLLOCK.

HOBSON MIGHT INTERPRET MEANING DIFFERENTLY.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—Baron Chinda, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, declared tonight at a dinner given by Secretary Daniels in honor of Admiral Dewa, Japanese representative at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, that Japan was looking to America with strong confidence for the solution of "all troubles." His remark was interpreted by the other guests as applying to the European war.

The dinner was given aboard the Presidential yacht Maykower, and Baron Chinda spoke in reply to the speeches of Secretaries Daniel and Bryan.

88 PER CENT. SCOTLAND CO. ROADS NOW IMPROVED

While Columbus County Brings Up Rear With Only 2 Per Cent.—22 Counties Joined Good Roads Procession in 1913.

(Special to The Free Press.)
Chapel Hill, Feb. 10.—The number of miles of public roads in North Carolina, the percentage of the total mileage improved in each county, and the number of counties having no improved highways—these vital facts are included in a tabulated form as compiled by the North Carolina Club. The statistics are assembled by W. J. Hardesty of the Carteret-Pamlico County Club. The University News Letter carries the analysis in complete form. The compilation covers the information available upon the subject of roads to January 1, 1914. The number of miles of public roads in North Carolina total 48,991. Thirteen per cent.—numbering 6,667 miles—are improved. There are 7,903 miles of unimproved highways in the State. These counties fall under that classification: Alexander, Ashe, Chatham, Clay, Dare, Gates, Greene, Hertford, Hyde, Jackson, Macon, Onslow, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Pender, Tyrrell, Warren, Watauga, Yadkin and Perquimans. Some of these counties, however, pulled up a notch by improving their roads last year. The good roads table, as tabulated by the Carolina Club, makes the county the unit and the counties in the lead are ranked on the basis of percentage of improved roads in relation to number of miles of highway in the county. Scotland county tops off the list with 266 miles improved—88 per cent. of its mileage. Columbus county stands at the bottom of the list of counties having any improved roads, with two miles equal to two per cent. Twenty-two counties joined the good roads procession in 1913. The end of the year saw only five per cent. of their mileage bettered. Eighteen counties had more than five and less than ten per cent. improved; seventeen counties improved between ten and twenty per cent. of its mileage. Seven counties caught the good roads fever with such intensity as to halve the unimproved number of miles.

Relief at last for YOUR pain

It doesn't matter whether you suffer from a bad cold, or cough, neuralgia or pneumonia, there is a way of applying Nixon's Menthol Balm so that it gives relief to your pain AT ONCE. Don't confuse THIS remedy with ordinary Menthol. For Nixon's Menthol Balm is a physician's prescription compounded of several penetrative, antiseptic and healing medicines—it's not a 'patent medicine.' You would be surprised if we published the name of the noted high priced specialist whose prescription this remedy is prepared after. The Nixon Laboratory paid a high price to get the right to sell it for so little at 25 cents a bottle. It is splendid also for Sore Throat, Headache, Earache, Pleurisy, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, Swellings, Stiffness, and Soreness. Used externally only—pleasant, too. In Kinston, N. C., sold only at J. E. Hood's—25 cents a bottle. adv.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles as are advertised are used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do to the system is too great to be trifled with. It is better to get the genuine. and better furniture. The next I came to was Woodington No. 1. This is a two-teacher school and is centrally located in a good farming section. There are three churches there. There are more boys and girls of school age in that district than in any section of the county except Moss Hill. I met there two committeemen and a number of the patrons. I was there by invitation for an address on better schools. Before I spoke the teachers had a short program, consisting of some songs by the school and two papers by Master Roland Miller and Miss Mettie Stroud. The lad's was in diary form, showing up the school from opening to date. The pupils of this school enter heartily into any work suggested by the teachers for improving the school. The improvement which will go towards getting all the things needed for making the school up-to-date. Among the improvements suggested were maps, globes, a new library, desks and a longer term. In addition to these improvements, she said she wanted the house improved, the grounds fenced, laid off in squares and flowers set out. She suggested so many things that I took her paper as my subject to talk upon. I urged the patrons to vote a special tax and just do what Miss Stroud suggested. When I presented the matter all agreed, and I am to get up a petition calling for an election. And I expect the election to be ordered next Monday. This community has the boys and the girls, and a small tax to be added to the sums given by the county and State will enable the patrons to have the best-equipped school from Richlands to Kinston.

"Just Breathe It" and Be Cured.
Do not try to cure catarrh, head colds, or sniffles by taking drugs. These common but dangerous ailments that often cause the loss of hearing cannot be cured that way. The common-sense way is to breathe Hymel, which gets the medication right where it is needed to heal the raw and inflamed lining of the air passages.
