latter's salary, upon the same basis. Besides the criminal matters now cognizable before the mayor, the bill would give the recorder jurisdiction in the following: Carrying concealed weapons, gaming, fornication and adultery, keeping bawdy houses, assault upon females, indecent exposure of person, gambling and conducting gambling houses, larceny, receiving, failure to list taxes, assault and battery with deadly weapons, abandonment, cruelty to animals, trespass, etc., and other matters of similar importance not now triable before the Mayor with ordinary magistrate's jurisdiction.

The recorder shall be required to make a monthly report to the Clerk of Superior Court of all cases tried except those for violation of municipal ordinances. Upon demand, a defendant shall have the privilege of a trial by jury.

The bill gives the City Council the power to fill a vacancy in the recordership.

Section 15 provides that the city charter be amended to repeal all phases conflicting with the new act. This section also fixes the Mayor's salary at $1,000 a year. The books and stationery, etc., for the recorder's court shall be bought out of the city funds.

The solicitor of this judicial district would be solicitor ex-officio of the recorder's court, unless something should transpire to require another person appointed, in which event City Council would appoint a prosecuting officer.

Solicitor's fees are fixed in section 18.

The Aldermen voted unanimously for the adoption of the bill drawn up by Attorney Dawson.

VALUE OF HYOMEI

It's the Same Catarrh Remedy—Nothing Better for Head Colds.

Do not endanger your health by taking strong drugs in the hope of curing coughs, asthma, head colds or dangerous catarrh that frequently destroys the hearing. Use Hyomei, a simple combination of healing oils that you breathe through a small inhaler. Its curative and health-giving medication clears stuffed-up head like magic.

Hyomei quickly goes to all the sore and inflamed tissues lining the nose and throat—its antiseptic healing begins at once and dull headaches, that distressing choking, constant sniffing and unclean discharges surely cease. Hyomei is not only a pleasant treatment, but very inexpensive. Be sure to get the complete outfit that contains inhaler and bottle of liquid. J. E. Hood and Co. sell it on the "No-cure-no-pay" plan. Surely try Hyomei today—you have nothing to lose on this generous offer.

Mr. J. D. Bizzell spent yesterday in Raleigh.

Mrs. C. C. Dunn has returned to her home in Grifton after a short visit with relatives here.

Miss Clara Oettinger, until recently of this city and now of Greensboro, is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. E. Eutaler, in Greenville.

Miss Gertrude Wallace has returned from a visit with Miss Genevia McLawhorn, in Ayden.

Mrs. H. Galt Braxton is spending the day in Washington. She accompanied Mrs. George M. West, who left for Norfolk this morning, as far as Washington, and will return tonight.

A meeting of the mothers of beginners in the Gordon-Street Christian Sunday school, called for Wednesday afternoon by the Superintendent of the Beginners' Department, Miss Mildred McDaniel, was postponed on account of the inclemency until next Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. George M. West of Richmond, who has been visiting her nephew, Mr. H. Galt Braxton and Mrs. Braxton, at their home on East King street, for the past few weeks, left this morning for Norfolk, where she will join Mr. West and go from there to her home the latter part of the week. Mrs. West was the recipient of many social courtesies while here, and made many delightful friends.

THEY SEE THE WORLD THRO' THEIR BABY'S EYES

Blind Father and Mother and Brother and Sister Will Depend Upon Newcomer, Whose Sight They Prayer For, in Future

(By the United Press.)

Colorado Springs, Feb. 25.—In a little home at Lake George, 25 miles from here, there is a baby boy, who, when he grows up, will be able to tell his father, his mother and a brother and sister, of the beauties of the mountain region in which they live, but which have been shut out to them throughout their lives.

This baby, the pride and wonder of the entire district, possesses the blessing of sight, denied all other members of the family. The baby's father is Benjamin Richards. He is blind. The little mother, now the happiest woman in all Colorado, was Miss Myrtle Higby. She was born blind. She was a student in the State School for the Blind, and while there met Richards. His sight had been destroyed in an accident.

Drawn together by their affliction which sent them through the world in darkness, Richard and the little blind girl were married. Five years ago a baby girl was born. Anxiously, they waited for the word that would tell them whether the innocent little newcomer had also entered the world in darkness. Their hearts were torn when they were told the baby girl would never see. Three years later a baby boy arrived and he, too, had been denied the gift of sight.

Time went on. As mother Richards heard the voices of her two little ones as they played in the darkness of their baby lives, she knew that the great, good bird, the Stork, would soon hover over her home again. She knew that he was about to bring another baby soul into the world, and mother Richards prayed that this innocent might be spared the blight of eternal darkness. Mother Richards was cheerful and hopeful, but when the time came for father Richards to summon the village doctor, his heart fairly stood still.

Some friends accompanied the man of medicine to the Richards home. They knew of the prayers of the mother and father and of their hope. The doctor could only tell them that he hoped, but there was pre-natal influence to be overcome.

Before him was the sightless mother. Waiting with the mountain friends was the sightless father and the children of night. The doctor came from the room. His face was wreathed in smiles. He grasped father Richards by the hand.

"A boy; seven and one-half pounds—and perfect eyes. He sees," the big man told the father even as he himself was almost overcome with emotion. There were tears of joy in the Richards home that day. Though they did not know just why, the childish laughs of the little ones of darkness carried a new note of cheer and hope.

THE MAURER SISTERS ORCHESTRA

The Maurer Sisters Orchestra is about to enter its ninth year on the Lyceum and Chataqua platforms. This organization had five years' experience before coming to the Redpath Bureau, beginning to play in public very young in years and making good from the very start. In fact, the Redpath Bureau has never had a company of young women of whom it has felt prouder and received better reports than the Maurer Sisters.

The first two years they were with the Bureau they were known as the Orchestral Entertainers.

For versatility on musical instruments the parallel of the Maurer Sisters is seldom found. In this respect they fill an important place in the Lyceum, for there is much demand for just such a combination. The only reason that there are comparatively MAURER SISTERS ORCHESTRA. few such companies is because versatility in music is so apt to be accompanied by mediocrity. Especially is there a demand for this kind of an organization where large door sales are a consideration to the committee. Pictures of numerous instruments and promises of a widely varied program attract young and old from far and near.

Some of the features of the Maurer Sisters' program are cornet solos with orchestral accompaniment, flute solos with piano accompaniment, violin solos with piano accompaniment, whistling solos, cello solos, violin and flute duet, humorous readings, orchestral numbers with piano, violin, flute and cornet; ensemble vocal numbers rendered in conjunction with orchestral music.

"GET KIN TO KINSTON"

The Only Town in the World by That Name

Kinston not only occupies a unique distinction in name, but in reality as a real town. Right now it is favored by natural conditions that place it in the front rank of commerce. By reason of its agricultural resources, business is good in Kinston, while other Southern towns are up against it. Yet, Kinston and its territory are only partially developed. Plenty of room here for more folks and unbounded opportunities for financial investment.

The story in words and pictures will be told forcefully in the many pages of the coming
