CONGRESS WOUND UP 63RD SESSION AT MIDDAY (Continued from Page 1) fore the present session began last December. The principal accomplishments of the Sixty-third Congress were the following laws: New tariff and income tax. New currency system. Creating a Federal trade commission. Amending the anti-trust act. Repeal of the Panama canal "free tolls" provision. Authorizing a government railroad in Alaska. Empowering use of armed forces in Mexico. The war tax. Creating a war risk insurance bureau. Ratification of 21 peace treaties. Another spectacular innovation inaugurated by President Wilson was his custom of delivering messages in person to Congress. With the echo of the adjournment gavel today many big figures in public life retired. Nine Senators and nearly 150 Representatives left the Congress today. The Senators retired today were Senators Root, Bristow, Burton, Stephenson, Perkins, Crawford, Thornton, Camden, among the prominent members who left the House today were Democratic Leader Underwood and Representative Broussard, who go to the Senate; Progressive Leader Victor Murdock, and Representatives Hukleley, Neeley of Kansas, A. Mitchell Palmer, Burke of Pennsylvania, Burke of South Dakota, Stevens of Minnesota, Metz, Henry George, Jr., Ainey, Bowdler, Goldfogle, Knowland of California, Beall of Texas, Bartlett of Georgia, Bartholdt, Hobson and Stanley. The Senate had today 53 Democratic, 42 Republicans and one Progressive member. The Sixty-fourth Congress will see 56 Democratic, one Progressive and 39 Senators seated. The House today had 286 Democrats, 124 Republicans, 17 Progressives and one Independent. The next

SOCIAL And PERSONAL

Mr. Dempsey Wood spent yesterday in New Bern.
Mr. G. V. Cowper is attending Superior Court in Jacksonville.
Mrs. J. M. Spencer and Miss Eula Cole of New Bern are the guests of friends here.
Mrs. S. B. Moore of Goldsboro passed through the city Wednesday en route to visit friends in New Bern.
Mrs. J. D. Curtis and child of Thompson, Ga., returned home Wednesday night, after a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Mewborne.
The Woman's Board of Workers of the United Charities will meet on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Baraca room of Gordon Street Christian Church.
The boys and girls of the intermediate and senior departments of Gordon Street Christian Sunday school will hold a social meeting this evening in the social rooms of the church, to which they are asked to bring their friends.

Mothers' Club of Kinston Organized. The mothers who met Wednesday afternoon by request of Miss Mildred McDaniel, organized a Mothers' Club for Kinston. The following officers were elected: Mrs. H. Galt Braxton, president; Mrs. E. G. Barrett, vice-president; Miss Mildred McDaniel, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Frank Hill, chairman of the program committee.
The meetings will be held the first Wednesday in every month in the Baraca room of the Christian church. Every lady interested in child welfare in home, church or Sunday school will be cordially welcomed into this association.
Attention was called to the article on "Mother Craft in England," which appeared in the March number of Pictorial Review.

House will have 231 Democrats, 194 Republicans, 7 Progressives, one Socialist and one Independent.
Some notables who have "come back" and will be in the next House include "Uncle Joe" Cannon, William B. McKinley of Illinois, Ebenezer Hill of Connecticut, Nicholas Longworth of Ohio and "Cy" Sulloway of New Hampshire.
In addition to the "big" legislation enacted by the Congress adjourning sine die today were many important legislative features. Woman suffrage and national prohibition amendments were defeated in the House. The immigration bill, passed by both houses, was vetoed and killed by President Wilson. "Lobby" investigations by both the Senate and House were instituted. Cotton futures and cotton warehouses bills became law, but cotton currency legislation was defeated. The agricultural extension bill was passed. A bill to properly regulate insurance of railway securities, by the House, but pigeonholed in the Senate. Rivers and harbors appropriation bills were pruned by means of a filibuster. Radium, water power, the Alaska coal, and mineral oil were conservation measures passed by the House. The Philippine independence bill and La Follette's seaman's labor and sea safety measures were also before Congress. Consideration of this government's martial preparedness for war was also a big issue during the closing session of the dying Congress.

CLASMEN MARK THREE CHINESE FOR DEATH. Police Wait In Dread For Time When Vengeance Will Be Taken—The Story of Lee Dock and Eng Hing. Murderers.
By Carlton Ten Eyck. (Written for the United Press.)
New York, March 1.—These are two men in New York's Chinatown who are named for death. Who they are is not known. Who their murderers will be is not known. When they will be killed is not known. But they are marked for death just as surely as the sun will rise tomorrow. It may come tomorrow; it may come next week, or it may come next summer—no one knows. Inspector Wakefield of the Police Department wishes he did. But he can only wait. Ever since the electrocution of Eng Hing and Lee Dock, two Hip Sing hatchet men, at Sing Sing several weeks ago, another tong war has been smoldering in Chinatown. And it will continue to smolder until it breaks forth in the flame that will mean death to two members of the On Leongs. It is the law of Chinatown, and as irrevocable as the law of nature. Eng Hing and Lee Dock had evened up the score between the Hip Sings and the On Leongs. They killed Leo Kay, and On Leong, almost two years ago. They had been in prison ever since. While they lived the score was evened. When they died it became uneven again. It must be balanced. The smoldering almost broke out at the funeral of the two men. It was one of the most gorgeous Chinatown has ever seen. They were heroes in the eyes of their brethren, martyrs—not murderers—they stood in the eyes of white men. Inspector Wakefield knows Chinatown of old. He was personally in charge of the funeral and a hundred of his men were scattered throughout the narrow streets. He was taking no chances. Lee Kung, the venerable priest of the Chinese Temple, had on his most gorgeous robes. They glittered with bright silken threads and the great gold dragons. He was going to send two of Chinatown's heroes to their God in state. The aged priest stood between the two dead men in the dim flickering light of the chapel. In the mouth of each was a coin which was to pay the Grizzled Boatkeeper for their passage over the River of Death. On the breast of each was a tightly corked bottle. In each bottle was a slip of paper on which was written the man's name. If the boatman should become careless on the journey and allow his passengers to slip overboard, then the bottles would wash ashore and their friends would know. Lee Kung began to address the two men who were going on the long journey. He told them of the mysteries of the life that was to be theirs. Around him huddled the comrades of the men. "Lee Dock and Eng Hing died by the law of the white men for doing their duty as Chinamen as they saw it," he said. "They avenged their dead brothers." There was an ominous muttering from the blue-bloused gathering. From the back of the dim little room women began to moan. Then the priest stopped. Inspector Wakefield stood in the doorway. He shook his head at the priest. Lee Kung chose his words carefully after that. At last he finished. Then the gong was beaten, the weird shrieking of the flute sounded and sixteen Hip Sings lifted the coffins on their shoulders and the march to the cemetery began. It did not lead through Chinatown. Inspector Wakefield was taking no chances. Behind the hearse were scattered bits of vari-colored paper. Curiously scrawled sentences were written on them. Thus, if evil spirits were following the dead men to their graves, they would stop to read what was written. 'CUE! 'CUE! BARBECUE! The good old-fashioned kind. The famous "Harvey" Kind. Served free to all who attend the sale of the Thomas Harvey Farm. Friday, March 5th, at 10:30 a. m. $100 Reward, $100 The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh, Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The promptness with which it cures is due to the fact that it is a purely natural remedy. It is not a drug, but a tonic. Address P. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold at all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS THE DIAMOND BRAND. Best for Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Headache, Neuritis, etc. Sold by Druggists Everywhere.

on the bits of paper and forget to follow the hearse. Ahead of the hearse went a carriage which held the feast. Roast pigs, chickens, nuts, rice, eggs, cakes, ginger—everything was there that the men might not become hungry on their long journey. Behind the hearse came the floral carriages, and behind them carriages bearing their friends. At the grave Lee Kung bade the men farewell. The women wailed, the flute shrieked and the dirt was thrown on the coffins. Then the feast was laid atop the graves and the cortage wended its way back to Chinatown. There was an undercurrent of activity that night, but the presence of the white guardians forestalled any open outbreak. So Chinatown smolders and the Police Department waits in dread of when the smoldering will break out in the flame that probably will necessitate sending another Hip Sing to the electric chair. There is no better land in Lenoir county than that on the Thomas Harvey Farm. For sale at auction Friday, March 5th, 10:30 a. m., by Burton Bros. Realty Co.
