WANTS CONGRESS TO HAVE THE POWER TO REGULATE INSURANCE

Proposal for Constitutional Amendment Made By Senator Sherman at San Francisco—The Regulations Ought to Be National and Not Local, Says Statesman

(By the United Press)

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—A proposal for a constitutional amendment to give Congress power to provide uniform regulation of insurance companies in order that the burden on the companies may be lightened, was made recently by Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, addressing the World's Insurance Congress.

Senator Sherman, it is understood, will be in the race for the Republican nomination for president at the coming convention, and will probably be backed by the entire Illinois delegation.

"The regulations under which life insurance business is done ought to be national and not local," he said. "It has risen to the dignity, importance and power of a national undertaking. It totals, measured by money alone, more than the transportation lines of the United States. No single line of human effort reaches so generally every walk and condition of life. The hundreds of millions of investments that safeguard life insurance contracts, the many hundreds of millions of policies carried, the vast responsibilities entailed are without a single regulation of government of the United States. It is proper now to institute a movement so as to amend the Federal constitution to give Congress such power. Let it be done intelligently and in the name of justice. A united effort will succeed. Temporary defeat must not discourage, but serve as the motive for future increased effort.

"We meet under conditions that have changed the world. Even neutral nations no longer feel secure. No treaty seems sacred. Barbaric force is still the substitute for justice in half the world. The destruction of life and material resources is unparalleled. The war debt will exceed the limits of imagination. The taxable wealth and productive energy of the future are pawned to the present and dedicated to sacking cities and indiscriminate butchery. Who remains to define modern civilization after a year of modern war! All human affairs end. The benediction of peace will sometime hallow the battlefields of Europe. The era of builder will then dawn, but on him will be the unceasing toll of the tax-gatherer. As the war has changed the world, so has it changed economic conditions and old methods of living. The extravagance and prodigality of the past are drawing to a close. The spendthrift and the heedless, the idler and the incompetent will have less chance than before. The world will be forced to a higher measure of economy and productivity.

"In the reconstruction of the economic and the social justice fabric following the world-wide change in conditions, life insurance is destined to assume an increased and powerful influence.

"It is one of the greatest instruments to promote self-support and protect the family known to civilized society. The legislator who sees in it only an enterprise to be burdened whenever taxes are to be paid has not analyzed well the relation between national strength and private individual support, the solvency of the family or its responsible head."

SOX RAN SELVES TO DEATH A LA COLLINS.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Postmortemers of the 1915 season have a new one. They say Eddie Collins cost the White Sox the pennant. Before Eddie came, the White Sox knew they couldn't steal bases, go from first to third on an infield hit, or pull any of the Cobb stuff.

They they saw Collins do it. Fine! The others tried. It was like a cart-horse high-stepping on the tank. They simply ran themselves to death, forgetting that brains as well as speed are needed on the paths. Many an expert will tell you that the White Sox of 1915 died on the base lines.

COUNCIL ACCEPTS DURHAM BANK'S TENDER OF LOAN

One Hundred Thousand Dollars at 4 Per Cent. to Be Let to City to Make Possible Carrying Out of Paving Plans

City Council Saturday night accepted a proposition from the First National Bank of Durham to lend the municipality a hundred thousand dollars at 4 per cent. interest. The loan is for six months, or until the bonds for $160,000 for the additional street paving work can be prepared.

The $100,000 from the Durham bank coupled with $60,000 already borrowed from Sidney Spitzer & Co., of Toledo, who are to buy the street bonds at par and accrued interest, gives the city the money for the entire work to pay as the paving progresses, the notes to be taken up when the bonds are completed and turned over to Spitzer & Co.

The offer of the Durham bank was an advantageous one for the city. It carries four per cent. interest on the daily balance so long as the money is kept there.
