Twenty Thousand Men More Than Needed in March Toward American Troops—Does Mexican Government Intend to Attempt Force Withdrawal of Expedition, and Did Obregon Play United States False?—Conditions in Southern Republic Far Worse Than Ever Before—Starvation Faces People—De Facto Government's Money No Good—Railroad Strike Serious Handicap—Consuls Pen Picture in Plain Lines for State Department

(By the United Press)

Washington, May 23.—Thirty thousand Carranzistas, twenty thousand more than Obregon promised to distribute, are moving northward from Saltillo, Durango and elsewhere, according to State Department messages.

Ostensibly they will assist the Americans in patrolling the Big Bend and Parrall districts. Officials strongly intimated today that the number was far more than was necessary for the task. Another disquieting feature was the presence of considerable artillery in General Trevino's command.

Awful Conditions in Mexico.

(By Carl Groat, U. P. Correspondent)

Washington, May 23.—The great underlying elements of the Nation's life, money, industry and food, are in such deplorable conditions in Mexico that the Administration faces the gravest problem since the American soldiers entered.

Reports from the most level-headed of the consular staff today gave the Administration a distinct shock. They pictured starvation, shaky Carranza fiat money and a railroad strike, affecting a large portion of the railways. The cabinet considered the reports today.

PRESSURE ON CHIEF EXECUTIVE TO MAKE A MOVE FOR PEACE

President Preparing Risky Speech to Be Made in New York Saturday

FACES DIFFICULT TASK

Might Have Talked Very Freely Had Not Briand Made His Discouraging Statement Monday, Say Wilson's Intimates

By CARL W. ACKERMAN, (United Press Staff Correspondent)
Berlin, May 23.—Either Wilson or Taft would be acceptable to German socialists as a peace-maker. Phillip Schiedemann, the German Socialist leader, today told the United Press. He said the appointment of a new "food dictator" destroys the Allied hope of victory through a blockade, and will make England sue for peace.

By R. J. BENDER, (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 23.—The President is at work on the speech he will deliver Saturday before the League to Enforce Peace in New York. He is facing a most difficult task, according to those in touch with him for the last two weeks.

Many appeals have been made to him to make an offer of mediation. Even some men high in the President's circle believe the time is ripe for him to openly voice the belief he apparently feels, namely, that none of the belligerents can hope to crush the others and that for humanity's sake peace should be declared.

If it had not been for French Premier Briand's declaration yesterday that peace only can come with a decisive allied victory, it is believed the President would have talked very freely Saturday.

There are now so many bridges like Brooklyn Bridge that it has to be singled out for the curious stranger in New York.

EPISCOPAL COUNCIL VOTES DOWN REPORT ON NEGRO BISHOPS

Colored Clergymen Protest Against Separation of Races in Debate

THE TIME NOT YET RIPE

But Church Should Keep Divorcement in Mind, Says Substitute Resolution Adopted—Sharp Tilt Likely Today

Divorcement of the races in the Episcopal Church was a leading topic before the East Carolina Diocesan Council in St. Mary's church this morning. At the instance—it is said—of the General Convention, desiring to learn the sentiment of the local diocese in the matter, a committee was appointed and today a favorable report was made by the committee. Colored clergymen participated in the debate that followed. They unanimously opposed the move. They could see no benefit to accrue, they protested; certainly none to their race. The report was voted down.

It was proposed to establish separate missionary districts for the negroes, each with its colored bishop. A substitute resolution introduced by Mr. G. V. Cowper of Kinston, stating that it should be the future policy of the church to favor separation of the races, but that the time was not ripe, was adopted.

Abolition of the office of archdeacon was proposed by Rev. Mr. Ashby of Elizabeth City. A committee was appointed, and a report is expected this afternoon. A lively tilt is predicted.

The Council of the Episcopal Diocese of East Carolina, in annual convention in St. Mary's church here, Monday afternoon heard an address by Prof. Chas. H. Herty of the University of North Carolina on the subject of the church pension fund. The movement for the fund has been very successfully conducted so far, with the prospect of increasing it largely in future.

The Council named the following deputies and alternates to the General Convention, in order: Clergymen: Rev. R. B. Drane of Edenton, Rev. W. H. Milton of Wilmington, Rev. J. H. Griffith of Kinston and Rev. W. E. Cox of Wilmington, deputies, and Rev. C. A. Ashby of Elizabeth City, Rev. B. F. Huske of New Bern, Rev. T. P. Nee of Wilmington and Rev. J. S. Moody of Fayetteville, alternates. Laymen, W. G. Lamb of Williamston, B. R. Huske of Fayetteville, G. C. Royall of Goldsboro and George B. Elliot of Wilmington, deputies, and R. W. Smith of Hertford, E. K. Bishop of New Bern, T. H. Partrick, Jr., of Clinton and R. R. Cotten of Greenville, alternates.

A telegram of greeting and affectionate good wishes was sent the Rev. Nathaniel Harding, the beloved veteran, who is rector of St. Peter's Washington, who was unable because of affliction to attend the Council's meeting here.

Rev. Dr. H. L. Bursleson of New York, editorial secretary of the Church Missions House, addressed the Council on the subject of missions. At night a service was held by Bishop T. C. Darst, who is presiding over the convention, and Rev. C. C. Kelsey of Belhaven, Rev. W. E. Cox of Wilmington, secretary, made the report of the Missionary Executive Committee. He stated that good gains had been made in the diocese, although only one new church—at Nag's Head—had been built.

FEDERATED WOMEN'S CLUBS OPEN GREAT CONVENTION TODAY

California and Ohio Have Candidates for the Presidency

RAREST KIND OF FIGHT

Already Started by Followers of Mrs. Sneath of Tiffin, and Mrs. Cowles of Los Angeles—20,000 In Attendance

(By the United Press.)

New York, May 23.—A pitched battle between the Far West and the Middle West for the presidency of the Federated Women Clubs of America, was under way in the mammoth Seventh Regiment armory here today even before President Mrs. Percy V. Pennypacker of Texas whacked the gavel that brought more or less silence to the ranks of the 20,000 clubwomen gathered from throughout the country for the Federation's biennial national convention.

Even at this early date the contest has simmered down to two candidates who would succeed Mrs. Pennypacker. They are Mrs. Samuel B. Sneath of Tiffin, Ohio, now first vice-president, and Mrs. Joseph Evans Cowles of Los Angeles, Cal.

Both Mrs. Cowles and Mrs. Sneath have mobilized their campaign forces with the schewdness of a Tammany politician; and both the floor and galleries of the convention at its opening hour were the scenes of as frenzied electioneering, jockeying for position, trading between delegations and the like as ever characterized a buzzfest of the Grand Old Party or apostle of the sign of the Donkey.

This election will be one of the most important pieces of business and there is no subject being discussed more earnestly than the relative qualifications of the two women for the position.

Big Armory Turned Over to the Convention.

New York, May 23.—No woman ever was permitted to more than step in, peek around and hurry out of the mammoth Seventh Regiment armory in this city until 20,000 of them from all over the United States trooped gayly in and took possession of it this morning for the biennial national convention of the Federated Women's Clubs of America. And they certainly shooed away that bleak, somber barrenness that pervades bachelor, club and business quarters where women never go.

From today to the second day of June, the armory is given up to the biennial, which means that the colonel's room this morning is in the possession of Mrs. Pennypacker, national president, and that the mess-room is not nearly large enough for the luncheon which will be served at noon every day, but had to have joined with it the band-room and the library.

Paris, May 23.—The French tricolor floated everywhere today, celebrating the most striking French victory since the great Verdun battle began. Already worked into a frenzy of excitement and enthusiasm over the victory on that portion of the front around Fort Douaumont, the second reason for the people's celebration came today when the war office announced that in an all-night battle of great ferocity the French drove the Germans from all but the northeastern corner fort.

The fiercest and bloodiest of hand-to-hand fighting characterized the great French victory.
