

KINSTON MINISTERS ASKED TO BRING TO ATTENTION OF CONGREGATIONS NEEDS OF NORTH CAROLINA'S FLOOD SUFFERERS

Governor Craig has returned to his office in Raleigh after being marooned in the flood district for several weeks, and he brings a first-hand account of the terrible conditions that prevail. While expressing appreciation of the splendid response already given to the call for aid, he emphasizes the need for still further assistance, and urges the people of the State to continue to respond to the call. Many thousands of dollars more will be needed before even the first aid can be given.

The contributions through the local committees showed a decided drop today. Only $9.25 has been turned in to the committee since yesterday's report. The local committee has issued a statement expressing appreciation for the money already given, and emphasizing the need for more. The pastors of the various churches are asked to call the attention of the congregations tomorrow to the need and ask that contributions be made.

The statement of Messrs. Rouse and Douglass of the local committee follows:

We desire now to give expression of sincere appreciation for the liberal donations participated in by so many people of the city and community for the relief of those who suffered from the storms that visited Western North Carolina. At the same time we feel under the necessity of emphasizing the fact that the Governor of the State, upon his return to Raleigh, calls attention to the vastness of the storm's destruction and of the necessity of continuing and supplementing the relief already provided. We therefore ask permission through your paper to direct the attention of the public to the call for relief that still continues, and to request that the ministers of the various churches of the city bring to the attention of their respective congregations the conditions prevailing in the western part of the State and that they emphasize the necessity of needing the voice that appeals to the generosity of those who have escaped misfortune. Surrounded by our own good fortune, let us not forget those who are surrounded by adversity.

We also desire gratefully to acknowledge the cordial and valuable aid that the papers of the city have rendered.

STOCKS MATTER HAS BEEN ARRANGED, IS NEWS FROM DUPLIN

Ten Thousand Dollar Bond Was Ordered Forfeited, It Is Reported

SOME MIX-UP, BELIEVED

Alleged Lyncher Had Not Skipped But Left for Kenansville Today—Settlement Made, Reported By a Lawyer

A telegram from Kenansville via another point today stated that the "Stocks matter has been arranged. Court has adjourned." The message came from H. D. Williams, a lawyer, to a Stocks bondman.

An attempt to query Kenansville from here by telegraph this afternoon was not successful. Telephone lines from there to other places are out of commission as the result of a storm.

Stocks, it is learned from a reliable source, left Snow Hill this morning at 2 a. m. He probably has not arrived at Kenansville yet.

Lawyer Williams said he would give details in a letter, which is not expected to reach here before Monday.

Reports received here and at Snow Hill Friday night from Kenansville said Samuel Stocks, the alleged lyncher who was ordered held in $10,000 bail at the conclusion of an investigation into the shooting to death of Joe Black held here several weeks ago, had failed to show up when called for trial in Duplin county superior court and forfeited the heavy bond signed by more than 40 Kinston and Lenoir county men. It was impossible to get into communication with Kenansville, which place has very limited communication facilities. Snow Hill lawyers telephoned here and wanted to know something about the matter, but the only intelligence that had been had here was a telegram, similar to one received in the Greene county seat, saying that when Stocks was called, he was absent and that the bond had been declared forfeited. The telegrams had been despatched from a station some miles from Kenansville; that town has no office.

Lawyers here today thought there must be some mistake, or at least that if Stocks could show any good reason for not being present the bond money would not be confiscated. There have been two stories about the Greene county man being sent home by Solicitor Shaw on Monday; one account said he was told to stay at home "until sent for," another, and perhaps the most reliable, that he had been told to report back on Thursday. It was thought this morning that the man might have started back to Kenansville and been delayed somewhere; means of travel in the section south of here are as uncertain now as the telephone service into Kenansville. In the latter event, legal men think, the state would not be apt to seize the bail. Stocks is the tenant of a reliable Greene county planter, and the latter would make every effort to get him to trial, persons intimate with the matter say; the landlord's actions in the past would indicate that much.

So far as Kinston is concerned, Kenansville might as well be in another country instead of in an adjoining county. Once during the week — on Tuesday — Solicitor Shaw's voice has been heard here from the Kenansville end of a telephone line, as long as from here to the mountains, nearly the connection being built up via Wilmington and other points in the southeast. Not ten words of what the solicitor said could be understood. What was heard was to the effect that no case would be called until after Wednesday in Duplin court.

Washington, July 29.—Convinced that Carranza plans to accept the American suggestion to broaden the Mexican negotiations by a joint commission, so as to get to the bottom of the whole question, the Administration today began the selection of the American member of the commission. Justice Louis Brandeis, it is believed, will be the United States commissioner.

Acceptance Mexican Proposal.

Washington, July 28.—General Carranza was informed tonight in a note handed to his ambassador here that the Washington Government is prepared to submit to a joint international commission the task of seeking a solution of border problems. The proposal of the de facto government for a commission is accepted, however, with the suggestion that the powers of the commissioners be enlarged beyond the limits proposed in the Mexican note of July 12.

ORGANIZED SNEEZERS ARE PREPARING FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION

(By the United Press)

Bethlehem, N. H., July 29.—Nobody nose how many members of the National Hay Fever Association will attend the annual convention up here in the White Mountains August 31. But there are 200,000 sneezers, sneezers and sneezettes enrolled and a good many thousand of them will be here, from all over the country.

According to the report of President John R. Pinover, these sneezing sneezers sneeze some seventy-three sneezes a day, for an average of forty-one sneeze days a year. This gives us 6 billion, 3 million, 200 thousand sneezes to look forward to this year.

"God Save the King." Today he is tramping around Camp Willis to the same air, but the words of the song have a different meaning. Now he is Lieut. Harry E. Smith of Co. J., Second Regiment of Kenton. Tired of the monotony of an annual camping trip and endless practices at his local armory during winter evenings, Smith resigned his commission in his regiment at Kinston on February 29. He wanted action.

He started for it the next morning by leaving for Detroit. From there he proceeded to Toronto, Canada, where he enlisted in the 124th Battalion of the Canadian expeditionary forces. He has been sent back and forth to various Canadian training camps ever since.
