

GERMAN CHANCELLOR HOLDS FATH'RLAND UP AS WOULD-BE PRESERVER OF WORLD FROM DOMINATION BY THE HATED BRITISH

"Wish to Crush Out Our Existence as a Nation," Tells Reichstag—That Accomplished, Dream of World Supremacy of England Will Become Reality, Declares—Address Lacking Hopeful Tone—Allies Responsible for Piling Up of Mountains of Dead, Says—America Knows Enough to Keep Out of Mess, Says State Department Officials — Afraid-We-Will-Start-Something Warning of Lloyd-George Engenders Don't-You-Worry Spirit at Washington

(By the United Press)

Washington, Sept. 29.—Any purpose that any neutral may have of offering mediation for the European belligerents was removed by a "hands off" statement of Lloyd-George, made yesterday, in the opinion of State Department officials. "A hint to the wise is sufficient," one said. Britain would dominate world, says Germ'n Chancellor.

Berlin, Sept. 29.—Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's Reichstag address, placing the blame for the continuation of the European slaughter at the door of Germany's enemies, won enthusiastic approval from a majority of the members. The chancellor made no offer of peace, but indicated that in view of the utterances of Allied statesmen, it would be folly to expect an early ending of the war. The speech lacked the hopeful tone of former addresses. The "desired territorial conquest of our enemies is responsible for the daily piling up of our mountains of corpses. The British wish to crush out our existence as a nation. A Germany crushed economically is defenseless from a military standpoint, boycotted by the world, and condemned to eternal feebleness—that is the German England wishes to see at her feet. When England no longer fears German competition, France will be bled to death. All the other Allies will become slaves to England, and the dream of British world supremacy is to become a reality.

English Press Lauds Lloyd-George.

London, Sept. 29.—Lloyd-George's declaration that the war must continue to a knockout and warning to neutrals to keep "hands off," contained in an interview with the United Press yesterday, won the unanimous support of the English press today. It was printed in every newspaper in Great Britain and telegraphed by all news agencies throughout Europe.

The papers comment editorially at length. "The statement utters the immutable will and purpose of the entire British Empire. It is a forcible answer to peace talk," said the London Times. "Interviewing is an American institution which the old world has borrowed. It is only appropriate that in choosing this method of expressing his views the secretary for war should favor with his confidence one of the great American news organizations."

Said the London Express: "To all would-be peacemakers, whether America, Rome or Spain, or another neutral, the war secretary bluntly said, 'Keep out of the ring.'"

FEUD BREAKS OUT IN COLORED POPULATION

Many Shots Fired and One Leg Injured—Tale of "Two Lovers"—Partners in Romantic Business Stir Up Trouble—Bill Isler Over-Zealous

Sheriff Taylor returned Thursday night from the Lenoir-Jones county line, where he had been to investigate a shooting affair. A number of negroes were summoned here for trial on Friday.

According to one account Will Gooding, "about 16 or 17 years of age," and Bill Isler were colored partners in love matters. Isler and Gooding were compelled to resort to Gretna Green tactics, which were successful in the case of Isler. Gooding, desperately in that state which knows no reason, couldn't get his girl, however. Isler set about helping him. There never was a stauncher partner than Bill.

Dave Gooding, father of Will, was worried. He didn't want the boy to marry; frankly, the fiancée wasn't good enough for his son, he thought. Will Gooding left home and went scouting over the countryside after nightfall trying to get one sweet squint at his Juliet. Old Dave got wise. Automobiles sped over the road past his place nightly. Dave fixed a gate so that he could hold up one machine in which he suspected his boy was a passenger. He leaped upon the car and had a gun shoved in his face, the account says. Albert Patterson is alleged to have been the driver. Joe Coleman and Bill Isler are alleged to have been with him.

Dave Gooding yelled for his son, Floyd Gooding, and Clyde Dunn, another negro boy, to bring him a gun. The gun wasn't fetched, the story has it. Anyway, the machine was put into motion and headed down the road. From it, it is alleged, there came a fusillade of shots. A moment afterward from behind a nearby tobacco barn there came a hyphenated streak of fire. That, according to Clyde Dunn, was Isler in action. One of Bill's bullets bored through Floyd Gooding's leg—his right leg or his left leg, one or the other.

Clyde Dunn says: "Floyd, he says, 'I've shot.' I says, 'O, my goodness, Floyd, you isn't shot, air you?' An' he says, 'Yes, I is, Clyde.' An' I says to Uncle Dave, 'Uncle Dave, Floyd's shot,' etc., etc. 'An' I sees Bill Isler ahind that air barn wid a great big gun jest a-gitterin'."

One other person claimed to have been shot with a shotgun. That person, according to Clyde Dunn, ran against a "barb-wire" fence and got the "shot" wounds. A dozen shots, more or less, were fired in the melee with only the one casualty.

Some nights ago a car driven by a person named Pink Irving or something similar, said to be white, was fired at by Joe Powers, reputed dissatisfied father-in-law of Bill Isler, it is reported.

The complicated case is being tried by Magistrate H. C. V. Peebles at the courthouse Friday afternoon.

GRAVE QUESTION PUT TO NATION'S PEOPLE

Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 28.—In a message opening his campaign of letter writing, President Wilson declared tonight that "the question is about to be determined whether we shall keep the nation upon its present terms of peace and good will with the world or turn to radical changes of policy which may alter the whole aspect of the nation's life."

HOW TO USE CRUDE OIL IN THE CARE OF SWINE; CHEAP

O. F. McCrary
(County Demonstration Agent)

Crude oil can be applied with a spray pump, or a sprinkling pot, such as is used in sprinkling flowers, or a cloth brush or broom may be used. It is also used in dipping vats and hog wallows and the oil does its work, evervtime the hog goes through the vat or wallow. Probably the most effective way to apply it is by means of a brush or broom—having the oil in a bucket. By means of the brush, the oil may be worked into the skin and hair, especially behind the ears, in the armpits, on the inside of the legs, and in the folds of the skin. In case the hogs are not accustomed to being handled or are wild it is best to confine them to very narrow and limited quarters so that the attendant can stand on the outside and spray or sprinkle them, provided of course that a wallow or dipping vat is not available. In any case the treatment should be repeated in ten days in order to destroy the newly hatched lice and mites. No lice remedy will be effective unless the beds, or houses are cleaned and disinfected at the same time the hogs are treated.

Why use crude oil in swine work? Because it is cheaper—12 to 15 gallons is sufficient for use in a dipping vat. A gallon applied with a broom or sprinkling pot will go over 20 to 30 head of average sized hogs closely confined at time of treatment. Because it is more lasting in its effects. At the same time, it is as

VILLA ADMINISTERS A SMASHING DEFEAT UPON GOV'T TROOPS

Holds Town; Led Attack in Person, Says Report to El Paso

CARRANZISTAS IN U. S.

Platoon Secreted Near Texas as Town Routed by Cavalry Patrol—Had Rifle Taken at Carrizal—Motive a Mystery

(By the United Press)

El Paso, Sept. 29. Pancho Villa has administered a severe defeat on Mexican de facto troops and was still in possession of the town of Cuahuachic last night, said a report received by U. S. officials here.

It is reported Villa led the attack in person.

Carranzistas Cross Border.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Thirty armed Carranzistas were found crossing in an arch two miles west of Yalata, Texas, by a patrol of the Eighth cavalry yesterday, according to a report by Finston to the War Department. They fled across the Rio Grande when discovered. One left behind a rifle belonging to the rebel troops engaged at Carrizal. No reason was found for the visit.

HIGHER PRICES ON LEAF MARKET, LOOK FOR MORE TOBACCO

Two hundred thousand pounds or more of tobacco was sold here Friday. Prices were excellent. Warehousemen expected a notable increase over Thursday's, which were remarkable to be considerably improved over recent averages. One warehouseman Friday claimed an average of between 21 and 22 cents.

Planters are beginning to be discouraged, and well-informed tobacco men expect a return to big sales in the weeks

ALL OF WHICH WOULD NOT MATTER TO A COPISE.

The new automobile, a copy of the Wood undertaker establishment was driven over the city Thursday morning to exhibit its prospective uses. The car "functional one" is the name for such a thing. It is a car, as horses go. It is black, of course, in general shape it resembles an automobile. There is a lot of the car, consisting of the sides and back, and the occupant can see a thing out of the sides. There is little or no glass about it. The car is literally a portable automobile. The engine is on the front and is a small one. It is said that it is a very good one.

Because it does not deteriorate. Dilution with water does it effect it when it is a vat or wallow, as its float is the water.

Because it is more effective for lice than any other remedy.

Because it is used for its good effects on the hair and skin.

Crude oil to which 4 or 5 ounces of sulphur has been added, (per gallon of oil) has many cases cured mange attacks that had resisted the attacks of other standard mange remedies.

Some breeders feed it in the food of hogs to get rid of worms.

Few farmers seem to know that crude oil can be bought right in Kinston for a few cents per gallon. I know of some farmers in Lenoir County who have bought it by the barrel, and they like it too. One of the strongest advocates of the hog wallow and crude oil is Dr. C. R. McNairy, of the Caswell Training school.

Why mix lard with oil costing 25c per gallon, when crude oil may be had for ten cents. See your county agent about crude oil.

M. H. C. V. Peebles offered his resignation as secretary and director of the United Charities at a meeting of the Governing Board Thursday night. No action was taken. Another meeting will be held on Friday night.

Capt. M. Vendeville of the Salvation Army, is being considered as a possible successor to Mr. Peebles.

FARM LOAN BOARD IS BACK FROM ITS FIRST TRIP; MANY HEARINGS

Washington, Sept. 29.—The Federal Farm Loan Board returned today from a trip which began August 21, at Augusta, Maine. In all, the Board conducted twenty-seven hearings.

The first hearing was held at the Federal Reserve Bank in New York City. The Board will proceed as rapidly as possible with hearings at the Atlantic coast, Southern and Middle States, of which the Government will be made in the near future. Meanwhile the administrative details of the hearings and the loan board will be carefully attended to. It is reported, however, that the Federal Farm Loan Board will be organized and opened for business in January, 1917.

WOULD HAVE CONGRESS INVESTIGATE CATTLE INDUSTRY IN NATION

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 29.—The first general meeting of the livestock buyers including the producers, packers, marketers, slaughterers, distributors and sale of all cattle was held here today in a resolution presented to the American Bankers' Association by George E. Wells of San Antonio, Texas, was deferred until tomorrow.

"We find the alarming fact that for twenty years the production of cattle has not kept pace with the increase of population, but has decreased in number," the resolution reads.

Despite the present prosperity characterized as the greatest the country has ever known, bankers are making less profit than at any time within the last twenty years. Statements to that effect were made to the convention by Joseph Chapman of Manassas, Va. Minimum rates of interest are being paid, Mr. Chapman declared, although the bankers themselves are being charged the maximum for the money being loaned. A service charge on small depositors' accounts was among the things recommended by him to increase the profit account. Mr. Chapman also recommended consolidation of the office of comptroller of the currency and the Federal Reserve Board.

Wilson's Issues In Western Campaign Soon to Be Undertaken

PRESIDENT IN FINE TRIM

Relieves Average Man Is More Interested in Keeping Country Out of Strife Than Anything Else — Wife Going

(By the United Press)

Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 29.—Four issues of peace, prosperity, business preparedness and the eight-hour law will be enunciated by President Wilson when he goes into the country to wind up his campaign for re-election, it was learned today.

These issues he regards as the ones upon which votes will vindicate or denounce the administration.

The President is feeling fit and appears a trifle heavier. He says he is in fine trim for the coming trips to the West. He is enthusiastic about going, as is Mrs. Wilson, who will accompany him everywhere. It will be her first taste of a real campaign, and she is entering into it with zest. The man on the street, the President believes, is thankful first of all that the country is at peace. For that reason the foremost issue will be an appeal to the voters not inclined to "radical changes of policy which may alter the whole aspect of the nation's life" and "endanger the present peace and good will with the whole world."

AMERICAN NAVY IN GUARD AS TWO BIG CRUISERS ARE MOVED

(By the United Press)
Washington, Sept. 29.—The battleships Minnesota and Vermont are conveying the interned German cruisers from the Norfolk navy yard to the Philadelphia yard to guard against Allied warships hovering by.

HEAVY BUSINESS IN FREIGHT ON LOCAL RAILROADS PRESENT

The Atlantic Coast Line is operating extra freights between Kinston and Greenville, because of the heavy traffic. No regular schedule is observed, but long strings of cars accumulating are hauled away at short intervals.

All lines in the section are doing big business now. Tobacco, cotton, first shipments of holiday goods and other things are helping to swell the volume of freight. Some Kinston dealers already are receiving Christmas merchandise. The city will spend around a hundred thousand dollars to help out Santa Claus and in the ensuing feasting.

BUMPED CAR ACROSS SIDEWALK INTO PARTY

Shifting about the yard in the vicinity of the passenger station Thursday night, a Norfolk Southern freight locomotive "bumped" a train suddenly and almost backed a car into a party of colored persons standing on the sidewalk near the station. One woman had a narrow escape from injury. The cars were shunted only a few feet, but the rear one far enough across the sidewalk to endanger pedestrians in a crowd awaiting a passenger train.
