The News and Observer is urging the young men to become Democrats, saying among other things that Democracy is good for young men. Happily the great majority of the young men of the South are born Democrats. Yes, Democracy is good for young men. It's good for old men. In fact, it's good from the cradle to the grave.

Old Sol was indeed a pleasant caller Thursday afternoon when he put in his appearance after having given way to a touch of the tropical storm in the forenoon. It is our wish that he will not be so condescending as to make place for any more bad weather until after the four big days of the second annual exhibit of the Kinston Fair have been concluded.

If you haven't purchased a season ticket for the Lyceum course, and are not inclined to do so at the present time, your presence on a single admission ticket at the First Baptist church tonight to hear the initial program in the series of five entertainments, will give you an opportunity for an evening of uplifting and wholesome amusement and enable you to participate in a worthy cause, the enlargement of the fund for a public playground for Kinston.

The tobacco market and the banks in Kinston have already announced their intention to observe a holiday on next Tuesday, the opening day of the second annual Kinston Fair. What about the business houses? The day ought to be made a general half holiday at least. Every store in Kinston might close at one o'clock and give their clerks and proprietors, as well, an opportunity to help the management give the 1916 fair a great send-off. What say the merchants?

Mr. Kitchin remarked in his address Tuesday that he would like to convert the Republicans in his audience although he did not expect them to make any confession. If the State Democratic Committee continues to send their "big guns" to Lenoir to tell of the great record of Democracy, and the Republican friends continue to find seats in the audience, we don't see how they are going to keep from becoming converted, for the truth is bound to prevail sooner or later.

The announcement of Democratic Chairman Cowper that Senator Simmons is scheduled for an address before the voters in Lenoir county about November 1st, at which time a great county rally is planned to be held at LaGrange, is of particular interest. It is not usual that a district which is not considered in the doubtful column has the privilege of hearing in the same campaign the leaders of both branches of the National Congress, and Lenoir is indeed fortunate in having heard House Leader Kitchin and in the promise of Senator Simmons' engagement.

THE HUGHES CAMPAIGN WATER-LOGGED.

There is every evidence that the Hughes campaign has become water-logged. At least, the weather vanes of the political atmosphere see nothing but a falling off day by day of the followers of the ex-just.

There is nothing mysterious or puzzling about the situation. Mr. Hughes' campaign has not had since its inception a single sound prop. It has been an aimless, reckless groping in the dark for an issue without success. The New York World sizes the situation up when it attributes the decline and prospective fall of the Hughes candidacy to its lack of the "one element without which no candidacy has a right to succeed—the element of god faith." Mr. Hughes has not toted fair with the American people. At the time when he was held in high esteem by all the people as a member of the United States Supreme Court, and when to all outward appearances he was giving his undivided attention to the important matters coming before that great tribunal, he was "gumshoeing" a campaign for the Republican presidential nomination. Being successful in that effort and becoming the standard bearer of the Republican party he has failed still to come out in the open and let the people, whose support he is asking, know where he stands. Instead of devising and presenting for the endorsement of the American people a constructive program in keeping with the times, his attention has been given entirely to tearing-down tactics. One by one he has tackled the great pieces of constructive legislation enacted by the Democratic Congress under the leadership of President Wilson and in every case he has discovered that the dirt under his feet was loose. Not content with the tactics of invective and vilification, Mr. Hughes' party is stooping to circulate charges and rumors which have no foundation, but by which it is hoped to disparage the Wilson administration in the minds of the people.

Surely, it begins to look like the Hughesites are falling back on the last resorts to stem the receding tide.

The difference between the violation of Belgium's neutrality and Greece's neutrality is largely a matter of "whose ox is gored." In the former instance, Belgium resented the violation of its rights by the Germans and as a consequence was run rough-shod over; but not until it had made a stand sufficiently lengthy to enable the Allies to so prepare as to prevent a speedy culmination of the conflict by the over-running of France as well. In the latter case the Allies have calmly taken possession without any regard, seemingly whatsoever, for the neutrality of Greece, and because of a division of sentiment among the people of Greece there has been no armed resistance to the encroachment of the Allies' forces. Can vintency, thou art a jewel. The pro-Ally adherents can't with any degree of sincerity longer criticize the German action in the case of Belgium.

CONVINCING STATISTICS.

Charity and Children: "Eighty-five per cent. of boys in our Reform school at Concord 'make good,' which vindicates the wisdom of the establishment of this great institution."

GETTING A FAIR CHANCE IN LIFE.

Durham Sun: "The world owes me a living!" How often the maker of that remark is a lazy, good-for-nothing fellow, with an empty head and no conception whatever of the value or joy of good, hard work.

"But don't condemn him yet!
"The world did owe him a proper start. Did he get it?
"Perhaps he did—but more likely he didn't."

"The man who has a proper start—physically, mentally, morally—doesn't often degenerate into the worthless street-corner whiner who declaims, 'The world owes me a living!'"

Every child, boy or girl, rich or poor, black or red or white, is entitled to pure food, clean clothes, fresh air and sound sleep; to instruction that will equip him to collect his living and a little joy besides; and to knowledge of the difference between right and wrong.

"Don't be too hard on the man who believes the world owes him a living. It doesn't, of course—but perhaps it owes him other things."

How to Vote and Who For Democratic County Chairman G. V. Cowper suggests that voters of the party familiarize themselves with the ticket during the days between now and election. Incidentally, every Democrat should see that he is properly registered.

On the National, Congressional and State tickets are one large circle and a square opposite the name of every nominee. A voter wishing to put in a "straight" is directed to make an "X" in the circle. If the straight ticket is not voted he is instructed to make an "X" in the square opposite the name of each of the candidates for whom he votes. The tickets, four in number, total nearly 30 inches in length.

Following are the principal candidates:

National: Electors-at-Large, Cameron Morrison, N. A. Sinclair; district, G. V. Cowper.

Congressional, Claude Kitchin.

State: Governor, Thomas Walter Bickett; Lieut.-Governor, O. Max Gardner; Secretary of State, J. Bryn Grimes; Auditor, W. P. Wood; Treasurer, B. R. Lacy; Supt. of Public Instruction, J. Y. Joyner; Attorney-General, James S. Manning; Commissioner of Labor and Printing, Mitchell Lee Shipman; Commissioner of Agriculture, W. A. Graham; Member of Corporation Commission, William T. Lee; Insurance Commissioner, James R. Young.

State Senatorial and County Senatorial, William D. Pollock of Lenoir county, Furney Brock of Jones county; Representative, Henry W. Brothers; Treasurer, John H. Dawson; Register of Deeds, Carl W. Pridgen; Surveyor, G. Felix Loftin; Coroner, J. E. Wood; Sheriff, Arden W. Taylor; Commissioners, R. F. Church, J. D. W. Wood, DeLeon A. Whitfield; A. T. Dawson, T. G. Sutton.

Vox Populi

SUGGESTS FERRY SERVICE.

Mr. Editor:
"The City of Kinston has expended several hundred thousand dollars, in street paving and sidewalk building during the last eighteen months. It seems like it should have been a finished job. As I write, the water for lack of sewerage connection, stands two feet or more deep at the intersection of Grainger Avenue and McLewean streets. At least three blocks of paving are under water, which reaches nearly to the doorstep of many of the houses. The refuse of the street from several blocks comes in from different directions, and when the water seeps away, it is left to dry upon the street, and send up its deadly fumes, and yet we talk about sanitation. This condition has existed the whole summer. First, we waded in mud. Now, if we want to cross the street we wade in water. We are entitled to go across dry, and if the Board of Aldermen intend allowing this condition to exist, they ought to furnish us a ferry."

PRINCE SAYS HE'S HUNGRY FOR FIRST TIME IN 10 YEARS

72-Year-Old Farmer Gained 5 Pounds On Tanlac and Is Free From Ills
"Before the first bottle was finished I was up and around and hungry for the first time in ten years," said James R. Prince, well known farmer of Route 2, Cary, near Raleigh, to the Tanlac Man. "I have taken four bottles of Tanlac so far and feel like a young man again, even though I am 72 years old. I can eat anything I want and don't suffer. My nerves are steady and I am able to work alright now. I have gained five pounds and am glad to tell others what Tanlac has done for me."
"Since ten years ago I grew worse and worse from indigestion, stomach troubles and rheumatism. It was for me to live the best I could on milk and eggs and even these caused gas to form in my stomach. Neighbors told me about Tanlac after doctors failed to help me, and I tried it. I'm thankful to say."

Tanlac is sold in Kinston by J. E. Hood & Co.; New Bern, Bradham Drug Co.; Weldon, W. M. Cohen; Warsaw, Brown Drug Co.; Trenton, Cranton Drug Co.; Edenton, Mitchell's Pharmacy; Ayden, J. R. Smith & Bro.; Hookerton, W. F. Taylor; Pikesville, Hossa Drug Co. adv.
