WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 1, 1916

With tobacco selling above the twenty-cent mark and "King" cotton demanding better than eighteen, times are bound to be good. "Peace and Prosperity" prevail.

That "peace and prosperity" abound and are appreciated in this good country can be proven by asking most any business man: "How's business?" His answer will come very quickly: "Fine."

There seems to be a growing tendency for some of the residents of South Kinston, who have more or less police court notoriety, to parade the main thoroughfares of the city in automobiles "for hire." The attention of the police would not be undesirable.

One of the best evidences that Progressive vice-presidential nominee, John M. Parker of Louisiana, has given of his progressivism is his active support of President Wilson and his refusal to follow the lead of Colonel Roosevelt and retrograde to the ranks of the "old liners."

By all means, our little neighbor to the south, Pink Hill, should have express service. And a train leaving here a little later in the afternoon would be of benefit to the people of the section and to the merchants of Kinston as well. It would enable shoppers from Pink Hill and Beulaville to come to town and have longer to do their marketing.

The Olympia, Admiral Dewey's flagship, is again in active service after having lain idle for several years in Charleston harbor. The historic cruiser from whose mast flashed that stirring command, "Steam ahead, Steam ahead," eighteen years ago in Manila Bay, will be flagship for a cruiser squadron in Central American waters. Luck to the old fighter!

Secretary Hugh McRae of the Wilson-Marshall Finance Committee for North Carolina directs attention to the fact that practically every section of the State is represented in the campaign contributions which now aggregate $33,308.25. Thus the ideal of Democracy, to have rank and file of the party support it, and not depend upon huge slush fund contributions, is being realized.

One of the most complete and comprehensive special editions to come to our exchange table in some time is the "Textile Industrial Edition" of the Columbia (S. C.) Record. The edition contains 116 regular size pages, and is enclosed in a handsome book paper cover attractively printed in colors and illustrated. The paper is filled with textile and industrial news and information of its territory. It's one of the most elaborate reviews of the cotton mill industry that any newspaper has undertaken, and does credit to its publishers, its section and the subjects treated. The Record's effort cannot fail to bring to its section much favorable comment and advantageous publicity.

AFFORD BETTER SHOPPING FACILITIES.

An incoming morning train on the Atlantic Coast Line would afford much better shopping facilities for people living along that line and within Kinston's trade territory. At present the first train to arrive over that line is not due in Kinston until a few minutes before three and the returning train departs at 4:10 p. m., thus giving only about an hour and a half intermission. This is entirely too short for any shopping to be done and it is natural to suppose that those people, who are not provided with private conveyances, go elsewhere to do their trading and business, which rightfully belongs to Kinston merchants, is sent to other places.

The Free Press believes that the Chamber of Commerce would do well to have its railroad committee begin negotiations for a morning service over the "Coast Line." It may not be practical to inaugurate service at once, but it is well enough to lay the plans for such service at as early date as is practicable.

The trains that come to Kinston in the forenoon and remain long enough to afford ample shopping time are the ones that are worth while and an incoming morning schedule with a corresponding return in the afternoon, for every line must be encouraged and secured if our trade territory is to be properly cultivated.

Far be it from us to criticize the New Bern cops, alleged to have taken suit cases of liquor consigned to Kinston and Goldsboro from a Norfolk Southern train, for their activities in running down law violators, but from recent reports of the quantities of liquor being received at New Bern from Norfolk supply houses, we would judge that the cops down that way would have all they could attend to, if they rounded up the "stuff" sent direct to New Bern, without having to borrow trouble from Kinston et al.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

OLD VIRGINIA'S GONE DRY.

Norfolk Ledger Dispatch: "Tonight the sale of intoxicating liquors in Virginia will cease, the saloons will close and the bright lights will be dimmed, possibly forever in the Old Dominion. The law becomes effective tomorrow, and we believe that it will be enforced as it should be. It will not be easy for some men to adjust themselves to the new conditions, and it will not be easy for all of those who will be thrown out of work to take up new lines of business, but time will soon restore the equilibrium and apparent hardships assume a better aspect."

"The object of the law is to stop the sale and traffic in liquor, and this will be accomplished for the people of this State are essentially observers of the law, as under prohibition as time goes on there will be less and less of a demand for intoxicants. The law has been drastic, but its enforcement may be firm without being fanatical. It is the ultimate purpose to eliminate the sale of liquor in the State, and this will be accomplished. "In all of the arguments against prohibition there has not been one in favor of over indulgence in strong drink, and for the pitiful wreckage along the path of mankind there is no apology. All of us have known some instance in which the abolition of liquor would have wrought a miracle, and what temptations disappear with tonight none can estimate."

GOOD STATES WITNESS.

Wilmington Dispatch: "Theodore Roosevelt's challenge with such gusto and bombast last week in Chicago is not to go unnoticed. John M. Parker, vice-presidential nominee of the Progressive party, will camp on his trail. He will tell them why his judgment is questionable and just how he is apt to smile upon them and, at the same time, wallop them in the back. Mr. Parker knows. He was close to the Colonel. So close that the Colonel hypnotized him with his show of sincerity, and lured him on to the rocks. The voters must admit that Parker is in a position to tell of the betrayal by Roosevelt, if only as a state's witness."

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 200 per cent in Ten Days

In many instances—Persons have suffered untold agony for years doctoring for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood—How to tell.

New York, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, a Specialist who has studied widely both in this country and Europe said: If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceeding large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin, another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night, others are sleepy and tired all day; some fussy and irritable; some skinny and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases, it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your flagging vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again. I have seen dozens of nervous run-down people who were ailing all the time double, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk all you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron sulfate, etc., often ruined people's stomachs, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of inorganic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron, for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

Note—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any Charitable Institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent, or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by J. E. Hood & Co. and all other druggists.
