

PRESIDENT WILSON WINDS UP HIS FINAL TOUR; HUGHES RESTS AFTER ADDRESS IN NEW YORK FRIDAY NIGHT; T. R. IS ACTIVE

New Yorkers to the Number of 75,000 Fought to See Executive in Cooper Union and Madison Square Garden Thursday Night—G. O. P. Man Has Traveled 30,000 Miles and Third of Nation's Voters Have Had Squint at Him—"Why Don't He Name Me?" Screams Roosevelt in Denunciation of Wilson—Rakes Bryan and Baker Over Coals—President on Mayflower En Route to Summer White House

(By ROBERT J. BENDER)

New York, Nov. 3.—Thrilled and inspired by New York's wild welcome, President Wilson sailed from here today on the presidential yacht Mayflower en route to Shadow Lawn.

The city fought, screamed, bellowed, elbowed, roared, jammed and hip-hip-hoorayed its greeting. Last night two of the most enormous crowds that ever fought and cursed a way into Madison Square Garden and Cooper Union were on hand to hear the President on his first campaign visit here. The roar and buzz in the massive garden drowned out the President's words, while a blatant band outside added to the din. Fourteen or fifteen thousand persons packed the building. Twenty-three thousand Tammanyites paraded on Fifth avenue. The police estimate that there were 75,000 welcomers. Hughes Has Campaigned In Style.

Hudson, N. Y., Nov. 3.—When Charles E. Hughes reaches New York tonight his tour for votes will be completed and he will have traveled 30,000 miles. It is estimated that he has been seen by a third of the voters in the United States in the most comprehensive, nerve-racking oral marathon for votes any presidential candidate has ever undergone. With the exception of five days, the nominee has been continuously stumping since August 5. He has spoken in 32 States from as far north as Bangor, Maine, to as far south as Nashville, Tenn., and in the West to the Pacific slope. He has traveled in the first campaign special de luxe ever introduced in American politics. He completes the tour in perfect physical condition.

Terrible Teddy In Eruption

(By J. P. YODER)

On board the Roosevelt Train, Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Colonel Roosevelt promises an "entirely new speech with a kick in it" when he appears in Cooper Union, New York tonight. He will approach Americanism from a new angle. Roosevelt was particularly denunciatory in his criticism of President Wilson, Bryan and Secretary of War Baker last night in Cleveland. He assailed the President "for speaking of me always in the evasive third person. Why doesn't he name me? Is he too timid?" he demanded in his falsetto.

Active Day in New York Thursday

New York, Nov. 2.—With two great rallies here tonight President Wilson closed his campaign for reelection except for a speech he will deliver to New Jersey friends and neighbors at Shadow Lawn Saturday afternoon. From the time he arrived in this city this morning he was greeted by cheering crowds whenever he appeared. President Wilson, addressing a gathering of business men from all parts of the country at a luncheon, declared that "the men who constitute what we have agreed to call 'Wall Street' have a subtle genius for promising seemingly immaterial changes" when called into consultation concerning the affairs of the country "which would eventually lead to the defeat of the main objects of the legislation proposed."

"Do you wonder," said the President, "that I do not call them into consultation and yet I tell you again that they will be welcome the moment they come to co-operate, and they will not be welcome until then." In another of the four addresses he made, the President said: "We are living in a very serious period of the world's history and therefore it seems to me especially incumbent upon us that we should so far as possible, search every question to the heart. And when I think of searching the business question to the heart, it seems to me that there are some very large reckonings which have too often been left out of the account. When you think of the ultimate foundations of business you must know that you find them in the conditions of the national life, and that the particular conditions upon which successful vital business depends are the conditions which touch the daily life of the common mass of people of the country."

RIVAL CAMPAIGNERS GREECE LIKELY TO HOLD SPEAKINGS IN BE SCENE OF CIVIL WAR AT ANY MOMENT EASTERN PART CITY

Maxwell Attraction Featured by Republicans—Democrats Had Band—Good Talent Predominated With Democrats

Democratic and Republican, campaign speakers held forth a short distance apart in East Kinston Thursday night. Both parties drew fair crowds, but the Republicans admittedly had the largest. Bob Maxwell, the Duplin county orator, was a draw card for the G. O. P. men. He drew a crowd on any occasion, and Maxwell, according to Democrats, more than the event, attracted the audience Thursday night.

Hon. N. J. Rouse, Col. Henry Shaw, Frank Liles and others spoke for the Democrats. They went into National, State and county issues and made the usual appeals for four years more of Wilson and prosperity.

Maxwell occupied nearly the whole time of the Republican bill. He urged his G. O. P. hearers to stand fast and let no man persuade them away from the Republican faith. Not all of his auditors were Republicans; of course, a Democratic brass band failed to offset the Duplin man as a feature.

BUSINESS GOOD IN ALL FED. RESERVE DISTRICTS

Washington, Nov. 2.—The Federal Reserve board's monthly business summary announced today that general conditions in all the twelve Federal Reserve districts of the country were satisfactory, with extraordinary activity in nearly all lines. Labor shortage was reported by nearly all the district agents, and most of them referred to the increasing cost of living.

VERDICT FOR FREEMAN IN NOTED TIMBER CASE

A jury in Federal Court at New York on Thursday rendered a verdict of $500 for Freeman in the noted case of H. B. Freeman vs. Kinston Manufacturing Company and others. The verdict was spent in deliberation, and when the jury first took the case the members were evenly split on a motion giving the plaintiff judgment.

The case claimed $40,000 for a contract for a $307,000 timber deal which had been instrumental in obtaining about.

Royalists and Revolutionists Expected to Fight Big Battle

INTERVENTION POSSIBLE

Only Allied Forces Can Prevent Clash That Would Precipitate Struggle Between Venizelos and the Government

(By the United Press)

London, Nov. 3.—A pitched battle between Greek Royalists and Revolutionists is imminent unless the Allied troops intervene immediately. Four thousand Royalists were within 20 miles of Katerine when Venizelos' officers drove out the Royalist garrison from the town.

Albion dispatches report that King Constantine has ordered these soldiers to attack immediately. Venizelos' force that took Katerine is being reinforced by Salmakia, and is well supplied with artillery. It is believed that should a battle be fought at Katerine it would result in a general engagement and plunge Greece into civil war.

THREE THOUSAND IS BET BY LOCAL MEN ON WILSON, REPR'T'D

Around $3,000 is reported to have been pooled here Friday to be placed on Wilson in election betting in New York or another large Northern center. Odds of 5 to 3 on Hughes were taken by the local men, it is understood. One man is said to have put up $200 while the remainder was in sums ranging downward to $5.

BUSH DOCTOR TO ILL WIRELESS OPERATOR

Washington, Nov. 2.—Sudden illness today of R. R. Buck, navy wireless operator at Diamond Shoals lighthouse, caused the busy dispatch of the messenger D. King from the light house and tonight with a physician and a wireless operator.

CAN'T VOTE G. O. P. TICKET NOW AND GO TO POLLS IN SPRING

Democratic Leaders Think They've Unearthed Hornet's Nest in Third Ward. Fair Warning to "the Boys" Issued

If anybody in Kinston wants to change political horses in the middle of the creek, that's his business. It was openly stated at the Courthouse Friday that Republicans were thicker than fleas in one section of the Third ward. The statement was unofficially made, though, that should any Democrat swap nags now for a spite reason he will be made to remember it next spring.

East Kinston's political pie is the biennial municipal election. The next one comes off next spring. According to one local Democratic leader, it's going to be a warm one. There are likely to be three, four or five majorly candidates out and nearly as many for the Recordership, from whom the voters will elect. There will, of course, be no Republican ticket. Those fellows in one corner of the East Kinston mill section who are said to be seething because of the Child Labor Law's passage or some other trifling thing will want to get in on the act in 1917, but they won't. You bet they will be spotted in the polling next Tuesday.

CARTERET RADICALS STICKERS BUT CAN'T CARRY THEIR COUNTY

Carteret county Republicans are the most persistent and enterprising of Col. W. D. Pollock, one of the State Senatorial nominees in this county, knows of. The Colonel, just back from a visit to the county, believes the Democrats will pull a majority of around 300 in the county. However, Carteret sometimes is a hotbed. The G. O. P. there has led in a record-breaking campaign and worked harder than ever in the county history, but was lame to start with from creditable Democratic consideration, and now is entirely broken as the result of the strenuous combat it has been forced to go through during the past two months. Colonel Pollock says. The final Senatorial nominee is putting in a lot of good efforts for the Democratic cause. Thursday night he spoke at Westbrook's school in Jones county, and Friday went to Bullhead, a Greece, for a big rally.

Henderson of Knoxville, Tenn. presiding, a well attended meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Baptist Assembly was held at Ridgcrest, prospects for the coming season discussed. Dr. B. W. Spilman, elected educational secretary and Dr. Calvin R. Waller, tendered the post of general secretary of the assembly. Plans were made for the greatest season in the history of Ridgcrest for the coming summer.

CLAIMS HE LOST FAT ROLL IN AUTOMOBILE

A man giving his name as Garland stated Friday morning that he had lost about $50 while riding in an automobile transfer. He was inclined to accuse the white chauffeur, who was known to the police and by them believed innocent. The stranger finally admitted that he did not know by what means he lost the money, but as evidently convinced that he lost it in the car. The police state that Garland was here, under the name of Croom, several weeks ago.

CADORNA BELIEVED ABOUT TO INFLECT A DEATH BLOW UPON AUSTRIAN DEFENSIVE BEFORE TRIESTE, MUCH-BOUGHT SEAPORT

Italians Gaining Considerable Ground In New Offensive. Austrians Dazed by Terrific Bombardment—Rounded Up Without Trouble—Allies Advance a Mile In One Sector Over Typical Mountain Ground—Attacking at a Number of Points—Duino, Probably the Key to Trieste, About to Be Shelled—Another Part of Important Rail Line Is Occupied—Most Powerful Blow of War On the Adriatic

(By JOHN H. HEARLEY)

Rome, Nov. 3.—Consecutive moves by Italian infantry against the Austrian lines south of Goritz in one of the most powerful blows since Italy entered the war, are following up successes southwest of Goritz. The Italians have occupied a second section of the Goritz-Vograk railway in the battling on the heights near Kemprlese. Further south the Italians have advanced a mile east of Coppechiamills. The Austrian defense was pulverized by an intense bombardment. The attacking infantry rounded up numbers of dazed soldiers. The battle is extending southward to the Adriatic, the Italians attacking northwest of Duino, an important railway center considered by some, the key to Trieste. It is believed Cadorna is preparing to strike the death blow.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—Southwest of Pradeal and southeast of the Red Tower Pass, the Teutons have advanced, pursuing the enemy, capturing more than 350 Roumanians, it is said officially. On Archduke Carl's front south of Transylvania, Roumanian attacks have been repulsed with fire and bayonet. No events of importance have transpired in the Balkans.

MONTH AND HALF OUT IN SMALL CAR CAMPING OUT

Grand H. Underhill, a Plainfield, N. J. man, his wife and three little Underhills, out from New York since September 19, are touring this part of the country in a little automobile and camping out at night. They are enjoying the trip immensely. Lashed onto the touring car in suit cases or simply stowed away in the car are their keeping equipment and supplies, etc. They have encountered fine weather the most of the time. Rain, if it comes, drives them to a hotel. The Underhills are pictures of health. The manufacturer of the auto and the Underhills should know that Mr. Underhill has not had a tire all and has not spent a cent for repairs. He is a Jersey planter and salesman and has some mechanical ability, evidently. Automobile parts are frequent necessities of the country case, but not many emergency parties come to this section.

Mr. Underhill and his happy family were here late Thursday. He declares his admiration for the East Carolina county and East shut out of the big complimented Kinston. They all like it. "When these people learn a consensus there will be fine times in this section," he stated. "Why, my dear my dear wife on what these folks waste."

SIMPLE BUSINESS OF GIVING COPS THE JOB

You can't take orders for any commodity on the streets of the city of Kinston, it seems. And if the authorities get next to any violation of the local law to that effect, especially if in their opinion there seems to be a better than usual reason against it, you'll get in bad. That's what the Mayor told two men Friday morning who said they represented an out-of-town publication. One of the men apparently was indignant. The official and his callers discussed the matter to the point that courtesy was overdone and the atmosphere steamed. If he decided to test the law, one of them told Mr. Sutton, he might do so, adding the proviso if he and his companion determined to do business. Whereupon, as the visitors walked out, the Mayor called up the police and told them to get next to the pair.

CITY EXPECTED TO GIVE LIBERALLY TO RELIEF WAR VICTIMS

Kinston will probably raise several hundred dollars Sunday and Monday, local Armenian-Syrian Relief Days proclaimed by the Mayor, when a committee of about a hundred representative citizens canvass the town.

The cause is a worthy one. The city, through failure to receive instructions as to how to proceed, failed to observe the Nationwide days set apart by the President for the honoring of these Asiatic Christians. Election was never left behind on any undertaking, however, and conducting a little campaign on its own account will do the right thing for a Kinston better.

BAD STREAK SEEMS TO RUN IN THIS FAMILY

Ballhway, N. C., Nov. 2.—When Jerry Farlow was sentenced today to ten years in the United States penitentiary at Atlanta, United States Circuit Judge Pritchard told him he should consider himself fortunate. Farlow plead guilty to two counts for entering and robbing the postoffice at Spencer, N. C. A conspiracy charge was not pressed.

Farlow's brother, Luke, has just been sentenced to fifteen months in the Atlanta penitentiary for selling stamps stolen from the Spencer post-office. Another brother, Robert, is under an eight-year sentence at Winston-Salem, for robbing a mercantile establishment.

ACCUSED OF ROBBERY ON SOUTHERN TRAIN

Harris Davis, white and of respectable appearance, claiming to be from Richmond, Va., was arrested here Friday morning as he left a Norfolk Southern train. A trainman stated that Davis was suspected of the theft of about $30 from a passenger on a Southern Railway train beyond Goldsboro. Kinston, the police say, was his destination. The charge lodged against him was vagrancy. He gave bail in the sum of $25.
