SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 11, 1916

All's well that ends well. Hurrah for Wilson and Marshall.

Wanted a job: Address Charles Evans Hughes, New York. Can furnish references.

Here's a hope that such a coalition as will enable the return of Cannonism to the House will not be formed.

Well the agony is over. But follows it was "some" strain while it lasted. We couldn't have "suffered" more mental anguish if we had had some money on the affair.

By way of warning: Let no precocious young trees in these parts get the idea that Spring and the time for the sap to rise has come. Old Jack Frost will swoop down on us the first thing we know and assert his rights.

Here comes Britton before the smoke has cleared or even lifted from the battles of 1916 and makes the unpleasant suggestion that the Colonel will be the G. O. P. standard bearer four years hence. Let's rest awhile.

Looking at the map one sees that Mr. Hughes' sectional ideas were strictly adhered to by the vote given him. He received the electoral vote of no states outside the north-central and eastern states except Oregon, which failed to keep step with her sisters of the West.

Old Jupiter Pluvius "batted in Friday night and broke in on the fun of the "In horn" brigade, which had assembled itself to do honor to the fact that Woodrow Wilson had been re-elected. The fire crackers and other noisy apparatus for making a demonstration were not entirely drowned out though and some fun was had.

BOSTON WOMAN RECOMMENDING IT TO HER FRIENDS

Popular Boston Lady Says Tonaline Has Proven a Godsend to Her

It is always interesting to listen to the statements of our friends, and especially when you know they are sincere and honest in what they say. Added interest is created in a statement coming from one who has spent a lifetime in Boston, where she is well known socially.

Such a person is Annie Stewart, who resides in Boston, and is possessed of the respect and confidence of her associates, and is willing for anyone to call on her to verify the following signed testimonial.

"I have suffered with stomach trouble for the past seven years. It took the form of indigestion and dyspepsia. I had dizzy spells and headaches and after I ate a little food it would ferment and cause gas to form in my stomach. I had pains all over my body, and was chronically constipated. My liver was torpid, and I felt generally miserable. I had doctored and had been in the hospital, but received no permanent relief. I was so nervous and restless that at night I could scarcely sleep. The gas pressing under my heart caused palpitation, and when I arose in the morning I was just as tired as when I retired. About two weeks ago I began to take Tonaline, and I can truthfully state that it has done wonders in my case. I am feeling like a new woman and can eat any kind of food. I sleep the night through and have no more aches or pains; in fact, it has cured me, and I am recommending it to all of my friends, as it has been a Godsend to me."

E. B. Marston Drug Company sell and guarantee Tonaline. There are numerous symptoms of this trouble that Tonaline can relieve. In fact, any of the following may denote affections of the stomach: Indigestion, dyspepsia, belching of wind, bad breath, sick throbbing headache, poor circulation, night sweats, that tired feeling, costiveness, coated tongue or a poor complexion.

Caution:—As Tonaline is recommended as a flesh builder those not wishing to increase their weight 15 pounds or more should not take it continuously.

TITLE NOT CLOUDED.

Chairman Wilcox of the Republican National Committee says, in substance: The American people are entitled to know beyond a question as to their choice. They do not desire to have a man in the White House whose title is in the least clouded.

Mr. Wilcox is right and the returns to date from the forty eight states of the Union indicate that the people have made it clear whom is their choice. Not unquestionably no, the American people do not want a clouded title hanging over their chief executive nor do they want to have any man, who would accept such title, even participating in a campaign as the nominee of any great party.

Mr. Wilson has been chosen to succeed himself at the end of a campaign which has been marked so far as he has been concerned by that dignity and bearing, which should characterize the man, called to so lofty place. His opponent, Mr. Hughes, has on the other hand resorted to mud-slinging, maligning, and the circulation of unfounded rumors and canards. In fact, Mr. Hughes' campaign, from the very issue of his carefully prepared attack on President Wilson in his acceptance of the nomination of his party down to the last speech that he made was conducted on a plane, which would be expected of a waddling, peanut politician, but not from a candidate for high office.

Mr. Hughes' vilification of the President of The United States, although he was his opponent, has been distasteful to every right thinking person and his support has come not because of his unwarranted attacks on the President or because the people, who have voted for him, thought he was right, but for partisan reasons and in spite of the disappointment in their candidate, Mr. Hughes.

SHOULD REQUIRE SEWER CONNECTIONS.

When the people of Kinston voted for a hundred thousand dollar bond issue in the Summer of 1914, it was with the understanding that adequate sewerage would be afforded all parts of the city and that surface closets would be done away with.

If The Free Press is correctly informed the main sewerage lines have been laid but there are still a number of surface closets in the city limits. Just why these places are permitted, The Free Press is not prepared to say. It is known that every health expert advises against surface closets. Much typhoid fever and other intestinal and contagious disease is transmitted through surface closets.

The authorities should see to it that sewer connections are required in every house in the city and that no surface closet is tolerated longer. By all means this matter ought to be attended to before the approach of hot weather again. The people of Kinston should not be subjected to the menace of the surface closet another season.

It begins to look like the Democrats of the House will have to do some trading with the Progressive-Prohibition-Socialist representatives and assign them to desirable committee places in order to line them up for a vote and thus control the balance of power. The returns to date indicate that the Republicans and Democrats have broken even on the count.
