American Indians to Do Their Full Share in Making World Safe.

(By the United Press)

Washington, Mar. 1.—Wearing the uniforms of khaki and blue, many thousands of bronze-faced American Indian fighters will for the first time in the history of the race engage in modern European warfare side by side with their American "pale-faced" neighbors.

Government reports show that a large number of Indians in keeping with their tribal fighting traditions, have enlisted in the American forces since the declaration of war.

Perfect specimens of physical health and trained in the art of modern warfare, the Indian lads, many of whom are descendants of famous chieftains, are the idols of the military camps.

Over 85 per cent. of the Indian soldiers, according to government reports, are volunteers and many of the Indian drafted men have been found to be non-citizens, but have been too proud to claim exemption on this ground.

Up to date American Indians have purchased almost $8,000,000 of the first and second issues of the Liberty Loan bonds.

Officers' commissions have been granted to qualified Indians, while many of their race are engaged in Red Cross work.

THE PORT OF WILMINGTON.

As stated in Thursday's Free Press, Mayor Sutton has officially notified the North Carolina senators that Kinston endorses the plan to enlarge the usefulness of the port of Wilmington. Rightly so. All the State should give endorsement. Wilmington's good fortune, if her natural advantages are recognized, in being developed to an important export center as well as shipbuilding seat, will be but the good fortune of the entire State and section.

Kinston is interested particularly because there is prospect of a direct line of communication with Wilmington. Not only will freight rates be bettered with the opening of the port to more extensive commerce and the establishment of a direct rail line but the development of the territory to the south of Kinston in the rich agricultural counties of Duplin and Pender will mean much for Kinston and Eastern Carolina.

If Miss March will behave herself half as seemly as did February, the fuel problem for most ordinary consumers will be about solved until another fall comes around.—Mighty good time to be laying by for the "rainy day," too.

When the proposed federal law to get rid of the mongrel cars goes into effect, riding through the country will be a tame affair with no fool dogs to try to pick the spokes out of your wheels.

Say fathers, when that small son of yours says "Daddy buy me a war stamp," don't turn a deaf ear but cultivate the seed of thrift by starting the young man in the right direction.

Palace horse cars have been taboed by edict of ye express officials. Thus the horse has been put in the class with the mogul who used to charter a car to avoid the common crowd.

The association of mathematics teachers, which is to assemble in Greenville March 8 and 9, should find little difficulty in solving any problems that may arise.

That Pennsylvania draft board which certified a wooden footed registrant for service evidently had some of the same material in its upper-story.

At any rate Berlin seems to be taking the remarks of the 'Austrian premier, anent President Wilson's war aims' proclamation, a little more seriously.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease. adv.
