Perhaps the anti-Bolshevik forces which are said to have captured Petrograd will abandon the site.

The boll weevil has at last reached North Carolina and therein lies another reason for greater diversification of crops.

"Boy wanted to be useful in printing office," reads a want ad in an exchange—Does our printer friend think the millennium is at hand?

"Department of Justice going after profiteers," says a headline in an exchange—Seems to us that we have seen that same thing somewhere else in days gone by.

Coffee tapers who are suffering from the scarcity of sugar will either have to learn to take it straight or do like they do down in Louisiana, fall back on the long sweetening.

When Maynard visits his old home county of Sampson it'll not be a case of "Prophet without honor in his own country." But then he had to seek other fields before the honor came to him.

William Waldorf Astor, who sold his birthright for an English title has answered the last summons. But there will not be as much eulogy on this side of the ocean as there would have been had the man of means devoted his time and talents to the upbuilding of his own native land.

President Lewis of the United Mine Workers declares that all demands of the miners must be granted if the strike is to be averted. Very naturally the miners would like if they got all they wanted. But even then another set of demands could be looked for within six months.

FRUITS COUNT.

Evangelist Baxter McLendon, who has been conducting a union revival campaign in Kinston for the past four weeks, says that this is the toughest nut that he has tried to crack in his evangelistic career.

That is an indictment that brings no credit to Kinston or to its people. It is a challenge that should arouse the "fighting" spirit of every decent man and woman in the community.

Mack says that Kinston's standard is a low one or else the conditions of vice and sin which abound here would not be tolerated. No issue can be taken with him on that charge either. While The Free Press believes that there are no good people in Kinston as live upon the top side of the earth it is cognizant of the fact that the high thinkers are either in the minority or they are peculiarly inactive.

"By their fruits ye shall know them!" It is time for the good people hereabouts to be up and doing.

NO DISRESPECT INTENDED.

The fact that the Senate has failed to pass a resolution of sympathy and well wishes for President Wilson in his illness has caused some paragraphers to criticize Senate leaders.

Last week when Vice-President Marshall was the guest of Kinston, he was asked by the editor of The Free Press why the Senate had not taken some official notice of the President's condition. His reply was that there had been some talk of a resolution of sympathy but that it was deemed unwise to introduce it because it was felt that such action on the part of the Senate would give undue alarm to the people of the country and provoke an uneasiness that was not justified by the President's actual condition.

The Free Press had been inclined to take the view that the attitude of the Senate was unbecoming until the Vice-President's suggestion presented a different phase to the matter.

The Flying Parson made a wonderful record in his round trip to the Pacific coast and now no sooner than he is safely landed at his starting point, he begins to talk about making another trip right away.—It wouldn't be amiss for him to bear in mind that the pitcher was broken because it kept on going to the well. He has honor enough to enable him to remain with his wife and little girls for a spell.

This is probably the last week of Cyclone Mack's meeting and it is up to the Christian people of Kinston to redeem themselves for the indifference that a majority of them at least has shown during the weeks that have gone.

SAYS HE'D SUFFERED SINCE HIS BOYHOOD

Declares He Can Hardly Realize How Miserable He Was Before Tanlac Ended His Troubles.

"I feel so fine and well now I can hardly realize how miserable I was before I started taking Tanlac," said J. F. Melcher, of 319 West Ninth Street, Houston, Tex.

"I had a weak stomach ever since I was a child," he continued, "and had to be particular about everything I would eat, for the least little thing would upset me and cause me more or less of suffering. My system seemed to be full of malaria and I would come down with fever every year. I could hardly sleep for nervousness, was constipated and would feel so tired, worn out and drowsy all day long that I wasn't fit for a thing."

"I took plenty of medicine, but it did me no good. Finally I tried a bottle of Tanlac and found I was improving on it. Since taking Tanlac I can do almost anything I want and have no trouble digesting my food, my nerves are steady and I sleep like a log at night. I am stronger and better than I have been in a long time and I never get tired, no matter how hard I work. Tanlac is a great medicine and I can't praise it enough for the good it has done me."
