War Has Brought Mighty Changes and People Groping in Half-Light of New Freedom Seek Truth as Never Before.

(Special to The Free Press) Greenshoro, Oct. 28 .- In an address to the Western North Carolina Methodist Conference here yesterday, Navy Secretary Daniels said: "There never was a time when Wesley's shibboleth of world iduty was more compelling than today. The world war has wrought mighty changes. Peoples suddenly freed from tyrannical direction are moving or groping into the light of selfgovernment. It is a dim light but it is the only luminary that leads to just government. The brave youth of America played a large part in removing the shackles that fettered them. Can we-dare we in conscience-refuse to lead and help in world readjustment?

"The hour has struck. For the first time in nineteen hundred years the nations of the earth, inspired by American example, have united to fulfill the mission for which Christ came upon earth-that peace should mile upon every portion of it. NELSON WARMS THEM UP EFFORT

And Old-Fashioned Religion Gets in Full Swing-Tom-Foolery in Name of Religion Lambasted by Roaring Mack

(By D. T. EDWARDS)

Thousands of colored people went the tent last night to tell Mack goodbye. They began to come early and kept on coming until they had time and constitutional prohibition, taken every seat that had been reserved for them-and then some; the Senate by a vote of 65 to 20 ovwhile the white people crowded the "peanut gallery" and the "bleach-

No colored service is quite comolete without Nelson, and Nelson was an hand, in the heighth of his glory. While Nelson, as "God's Messenger Boy," is a preacher his specialty i he song service; and it doesn't take im long to get things to going after; he takes the stand. And when he begins his tuneful poetic narrative of "The Liar" his audience gets into full swing and the old tent itself reems to sit up and take notice.

Begins With estinmony Meeting.

Nelson's job is to get things warm d up for Mack. So after part of the ong service had been completed he alled a testimony meeting-with the warning that he didn't want any cambling about, wanted them to stick to the subject and make it hort. This they did and sometimes alf a dozen at once would be telling

Then some dozen or more colored pastors spoke, testified to the helpfulness of the McLendon campaign and of their admiration for Macl and the work he is doing for their eople.

The quartette-which is a corker sang some selections and Mack ook hold of the meeting.

Where Art Thou?" Through Mack as an instrument Jod propounded his age-long question o the big audience last night: "Where Art Thou?" This was the first question that God ever asked man. He made the nquiry of Adam after the sin in the garden. Adam tried to hide his sin; nd so all of his descendants have done. When sin enters our lives and earts we always try to hide from God. That accounts for so much tom-foolery that people have set up n the name of religion and which hey are asking others to gulp down. They want to hide their sin elves a "royal road" of self-indulgnce to salvation. This Mack said, not only accounts or the "isms," but for the neglect rom God and provide for them-of the Bible, for neglect of church worship and neglect of the prayer

But the question eternally rings out, Mack said, and demands an honest answer-one that attempts to fool neither self nor God. It should be considered thoroughly and not superficially. The question must be studied prayerfully and in the full light of scriptural truth.

This age-long question is of too much moment to be treated otherwise. And so long as we are in the devil's territory the searching must be a continual one.

Settles All Problems. Mack told his hearers Monday night that the true test of God-given religion was that we "love the brethren," Love, he said, is the taliamanic touch that will solve all problems, the race problem, the industrial problem, the social problem and all the rest of them.

SAYS PRESIDENT WELL ON WAY TO RECOVERY

Lisha Lewis, Back From Washington, Believes There'll Be No More Big Strikes and That Prohibition Will Stay Put.

"The truth of the matter is that he President is recovering. He has been a mighty sick man, and the wonder is that he wasn't sicker." Elisha B. Lewis, private secretary to Congressman Claude Kitchin, is back from Washington with a firm convicfternoon of the 5th will be given tion that Mr. Wilson will be a well man shortly. "The industrial war won't come," according to Mr. Lewis. The prevailing opinion is that the labor disputes will be straightened out." He described a scene in the Senate restaurant Monday following he vote on the Johnson amendment. "The air sizzled. After all hands had gotten the impression a vote would not be taken for several days Lodge suddenly started something. That was responsible for the reduced .74 majority. I was talking with Senitor Morris Sheppard of Texas in the lobby when the bell rang. He ran anck to discover that the vote had een called for. Later we took luncheon in the basement. The conversation all around us was somehing fierce. Everybody seemed to e mad with somebody else or somehing." Katchin, according to Mr. Tonight Mack will tell the folks Lewis, smiles at the "achievements" of the majority party in Congress. The House, the representative told him, has been ready to quit for weeks. The Republicans of the eranch are "trying to do some campaign work without knowing how." It is the opinion of most of the peoele at Washington that wartime prohibition will not be lifted, Lewis statd. "Congress stands ready to pass the enforcement bill over the President. Dry members argue that it is of no use to permit the sale of liquor for two and a half months and have the country go dry all over again."
